

Low Level-road, from Gaisby-lane aforesaid to Valley-road, in the said township of Heaton.

- XI. To acquire and appropriate for public purposes the disused burial-ground situate at James-street, in the said township and parish of Bradford, with power to the trustees of the Kirkgate Wesleyan Chapel, or other persons entitled thereto, to sell or lease the same on such terms as they may deem proper.
- XII. To enable the Corporation, as and being owners of surplus lands at Bradford Moor, in the said township of Bradford, to make and carry into effect all such arrangements as may be necessary with adjoining land-owners for mutual exchanges and for effecting any other arrangements for more effectually developing such surplus lands.
- XIII. To authorise and empower the Corporation to erect and maintain electric lines and works, and to supply electricity within the said borough; to levy dues, rents, and charges for the same; and at all times hereafter to exercise all or any of the powers conferred on the Corporation by "The Bradford Electric Lighting Order, 1883," as confirmed by the Act of the 46 and 47 Victoria, chapter 220.
- XIV. To authorise and empower the Corporation to make and carry into effect arrangements with the owners of gas undertakings, from which gas is supplied within the said borough, for the purchase thereof; and in particular with the trustees of the late Sir Henry Wm. Ripley, Bart., in respect of their gas undertaking in the said borough; and for any other purposes connected with the supply of gas; as also to enable the Corporation to manufacture and store residual products on any lands so to be acquired.
- XV. To exclude the hamlet or district of Tyersal, in the township of Pudsey and parish of Calverley, or so much thereof as lies within the borough of Bradford, from the area and jurisdiction of the Pudsey Burial Board, and to define the limits of the area and jurisdiction of the said Board, and to make all necessary enactments and carry into effect all necessary arrangements between the Corporation and the said Board for effectuating such object, and for extinguishing all rights of the said Board in and over the said hamlet or district of Tyersal, or so much thereof as lies within the said borough, with power to the Local Government Board to settle any pecuniary differences between the Corporation and the said Burial Board.
- XVI. To make better provision for the protection of the public health of the said borough and the prevention of nuisances therein, and to amend the building regulations in force in the said borough, and to make regulations in respect of the following matters or some of them, that is to say:—The better prevention of the disease known as woolsorter's disease; prohibiting the exhibition or publishing on any premises or in any street of bills, pictures, or inscriptions of an obscene or indecent nature, or referring to diseases of a loathsome or secret kind, and also of advertisements on the footpaths; the better regulation of children under thirteen years of age engaged in casual employment for gain in vending or exposing for sale any article in any street; prohibiting the employment of children for such purpose until they have obtained a proper certificate of elementary education; power to the Bradford School Board to enforce such provisions respecting children; prohibition of misuse of sewers by impeding the flow of sewage or causing destruction of works, or generating noxious gases; provision for insuring means of ingress or egress in public buildings, and securing the efficient ventilation of such buildings; provisions for more effectually dealing with disorderly houses; extension of the provisions of Sections 35 to 38 of "The Public Health Act, 1875," to business premises in which five or more persons are employed; extension of provisions of the last-named Act as to unsound meat to all articles intended for human food, and to the inspection and examination of food contained in any box, tin, or other receptacle; extension of the provisions of the last-named Act respecting common lodging-houses to tenements or parts thereof let in separate apartments for the week or other short period; extension of Sub-section 3 of Section 86 of such last-named Act so as to include any person suffering from fever or other infectious disease, whether confined to bed or otherwise; extension of the provisions of the last-named Act respecting infectious diseases and hospitals, so as to authorise the detention in hospital of any person in the borough infected with dangerous infectious disorder, and not being provided with proper lodging or accommodation; prohibition of removal of bodies of persons dying in hospital of infectious disease to any private house, except on certificate of some duly qualified medical practitioner; extension of powers in "The Bradford Water and Improvement Act, 1881," for closing public and private schools threatened with or affected by infectious disease, to places in the said borough used by workpeople, wherein any person or article is infected with dangerous infectious disorder; power to the Corporation to compel cow-keepers and milk-dealers to furnish list of names and addresses of all customers within the borough; power to the Corporation and Justices of the Peace of the said borough to enforce the observance of regulations for the government of dairies, cow-sheds, and milk-shops and persons keeping the same, made under any Order of Her Majesty in Council, pursuant to "The Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, 1878," by persons supplying milk for consumption in the borough, although such places be outside the borough boundary; power to regulate the construction of telegraph and telephone wires above or under streets in the borough; amendment of building regulations in force in the said borough by extending the proviso in the regulation numbered 6 in the fourth schedule to "The Bradford Corporation Gas and Improvement Act, 1871," authorising the erection of certain premises as dwelling-houses within a quarter of a mile of the Exchange, to half-a-mile from the Exchange; and by extending the regulation numbered 8 in the second schedule to "The Bradford Water and Improvement Act, 1878," directing that all approved plans for new streets shall cease
