"We therefore humbly pray that Your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into Your Royal consideration and to make such Order in respect thereto as to Your Majesty in Your Royal wisdom shall seem meet.

"The SCHEDULE to which the foregoing Representation has reference.

Privy Council Office, February 6, 1886.

THE following Statute, passed on the 12th day of January, 1886, by the Governing Body of Oriel College, Oxford, and sealed on the 18th day of January, 1886, has been submitted for the approval of Her Majesty in Council, and notice of its having been so submitted is published in accordance with the provisions contained in the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1877:—

A Statute to amend a Statute, made by the University of Oxford Commissioners under the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1877 (40 and 41 Vict., c. 48), and approved by the Queen in Council on the 3rd day of May, 1882, in relation to Oriel College, in the University of Oxford, duly made at a General Meeting of the Provost and Fellows of the said College, specially summoned for this purpose, held on the 12th day of January, 1886, and passed at such meeting by the votes of two-thirds of the number of persons present and voting, and submitted to Her Majesty the Queen in Council.

Whereas by Statute IV, 7, made by the University of Oxford Commissioners under the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1877, and approved by the Queen in Council on the 3rd day of May, 1882, in relation to Oriel College, in the University of Oxford, it was enacted as follows:—

"7. Four exhibitions shall always be maintained within the College, to be called the exhibitions of Adam de Brome, and to be filled up by the election of deserving persons whom the Provost and Fellows shall have ascertained to be in need of support at the University. Each Exhibitioner shall receive such sum, not exceeding £80 per annum, from the Exhibition Fund, as the Provost and Fellows shall from time to time determine."

"The Exhibitors shall be elected by the Provost and Fellows, with or without examination, and with or without public notice, as the electors shall think fit."

"The conditions of tenure of these Exhibitions shall be the same in all respects as those of Scholarships, save that in the event of any one of the Exhibitors being elected to a Scholarship within the College, or ceasing, in the judgment of the Provost and Fellows, to be in need of support at the University, he shall thereupon vacate his Exhibition."

And whereas under the said Statutes the emoluments of Adam de Brome Exhibitors are the same as those of Scholars of the College, and the conditions of tenure, other than that of the Exhibitors being in need of support at the University, of Adam de Brome Exhibitions are the same in all respects as those of Scholarships within the College.

And whereas it appears to us the Provost and Fellows of the said College, that the abilities and attainments of the persons qualified for election to Exhibitions of Adam de Brome, and offering themselves as candidates for such Exhibitions at elections held with examination and with public notice, are in many cases equal or not inferior to those of candidates for Scholarships within the College, and that it is desirable that such persons, if elected to such Exhibitions, should not be placed in respect of rank or title in a position inferior to that which they would hold if elected to Scholarships within the College.

We, the said Provost and Fellows of the said College, being the governing body thereof, do hereby in exercise of the power given to us by the 54th section of the said Act, alter Statute IV, 7, as hereinbefore set out, by adding thereto the following words:—

"It shall be lawful for the Provost and Fellows, at or upon the election after examination, and with public notice of any such Exhibitioner, or under and in pursuance of regulations made by them from time to time respecting the election after examination and with public notice of such Exhibitors to assign to any Exhibitioner or Exhibitors so elected the title of Scholar, and to the Exhibition or Exhibitions so filled up, the name of Scholarship, provided that no exercise by the Provost and Fellows of the power hereby given shall affect the conditions of tenure hereinbefore expressed with respect to such Exhibitions."

Given under our Common Seal this eighteenth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

Privy Council Office, February 6, 1886.

THE following Statute, passed on the 22nd day of January, 1886, by the Governing Body of Merton College, Oxford, to be substituted for Statute IV, 6 (a), of the existing Statute of the College, has been submitted for the approval of Her Majesty in Council, and notice of its having been so submitted is published in accordance with the provisions contained in the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1877:—

PROPOSED NEW STATUTE.

A Postmastership shall be tenable for two years from the commencement of the Michaelmas Term next following the day of election, and shall then determine, unless the Warden and Fellows have at the last preceding stated meeting declared themselves satisfied with the industry and good conduct of the Postmaster, in which case the Postmaster's tenure shall be renewed for a further period of two years. At the end of the latter period the Warden and Fellows may extend any Postmastership for one year longer, if for special reasons they deem it advisable, but not so as to interfere with the regular recurrence of vacancies.

Given under our Common Seal this twenty-sixth day of January, A.D. one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

(SWINE-FEVER.)

At the Council Chamber, Whitehall, the 8th day of February, 1886.

By Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

THE Lords and others of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, by virtue and in exercise of the powers in them vested under The Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, 1878, and of every other power enabling them in this behalf, do order and it is hereby ordered, as follows:

THE CONTAGIOUS DISEASES
(ANIMALS) ACT, 1878.

THE Privy Council, under and in pursuance of The Temporary Swine-Fever Districts Order of February, 1886, have granted the following Licence:

For holding a Market for the sale of Store Swine at—

Agricultural Department, Privy Council Office,
8th February, 1886.

War Office, February 8, 1886.

THE Secretary of State for War has received the following Despatch from Lieutenant-General Sir Frederick Stephenson, K.C.B., commanding Her Majesty's Forces in Egypt, relative to the recent operations on the Upper Nile and near Suakin:—

From the General Officer Commanding in Egypt to the Secretary of State for War.

SIR, Abri, January 2, 1886.

REFERRING to my telegram of the 30th ultimo, announcing the result of the operations against the enemy at Giniss on that date, I have now the honour to forward a detailed account of the action.

On the 29th December, the concentration of the Frontier Field Force being complete, the following dispositions were made, and orders issued.

The whole force to bivouac on a spot about 700 yards north of Kosheh Fort, the 1st Brigade and Cavalry in advance, the 2nd Brigade with screw battery in rear.

Troops to park blankets and greatcoats at bivouac in early morning.

Infantry to carry 80 rounds of ammunition—20 rounds per man in reserve to be carried on camels.

Men to breakfast at four A.M. One quart of water per man to be carried by transport in rear, on camels. One day's rations ready to be placed on camels, and moved off when sent for.

All reserve ammunition to be placed in Kosheh Fort.

The 1st Infantry Brigade, with Egyptian Battery and Camel Corps attached, to move off at five A.M.

The cavalry to follow upon Absarat road, keeping main body in touch with 1st Infantry Brigade.

The English Camel Corps to be in support of cavalry, and keep touch with 2nd Brigade.

The Bearer Company to move in rear of 2nd Brigade.

The Field Hospital to be erected on river bank near Kosheh Fort, and a small guard detailed in charge.

The Officer Commanding H.M.S. "Lotus" to get up steam at five A.M., ready to move at daylight.

By 5.15 A.M. the whole force had marched from bivouac.

The Infantry brigades moved off in a south-westerly direction, and seized a high rocky ridge running parallel to and overlooking the village occupied by the enemy, near Kosheh Fort, and also enemy's camp at Giniss, three miles from Kosheh Fort.

The 2nd Brigade arrived before daylight on its ground on crest of ridge about 1,200 yards from and directly opposite the village of Kosheh.

Good position was taken up by guns on crest of hill.

The Yorkshire Regiment was deployed in half-battalions on the right and left of the guns, with the 1st Battalion Egyptian Army in rear.

At 6.10 A.M. Major Whateley's battery commenced shelling the village.

The enemy opened sharp but ill-directed fire on the brigade, which was answered by volleys from the Yorkshire Regiment.

After the village had been shelled for a quarter of an hour, the Cameron Highlanders and the two companies of 9th Battalion, Egyptian Army, advanced along river bank from Khosheh Fort, and rushed the houses in the most gallant manner, bayonetting the dervishes and taking one brass gun, the village being captured by 6.50 A.M.

At the same time the "Lotus," under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel Lloyd, Egyptian Army (Brevet Major, South Yorkshire Regiment), steamed up the river slightly in advance of the Cameron Highlanders and 9th Battalion Egyptian Army, bringing the Gardner gun and rifle fire of the West Kent detachment, under the command of Lieutenant Martyn, Royal West Kent Regiment, to bear on the enemy as the Cameron Highlanders drove them from house to house. The "Lotus" then anchored.

The Gardner gun of the "Lotus" did good service, killing about 60 men.

Meanwhile the 1st Brigade continued to move along the ridges, and when day broke was in it proper position, a mile and a half south-east of the western end of Giniss.

The dervishes, who had been taken completely by surprise, now streamed out of their camp, riflemen lining the crests, pouring in a heavy but ill-directed fire on the 1st Brigade, which lasted for nearly forty minutes.

The enemy now attempted a charge on the left flank of the infantry line, coming on with great determination, their spearmen engaging the Egyptian Army Camel Corps hand to hand. Here Lieutenant Said Radwan received a sword cut on the hand, but killed his man.

Brigadier-General Butler, however, met them in line formation, and by steady volley firing broke them. They retired sullenly.

By this time the 2nd Brigade, which had been rejoined by the Cameron Highlanders and the 9th Battalion Egyptian Army, was in full sight of the village of Giniss and the camp of the dervishes, and the retreating enemy came under the fire of the screw guns, Gardner Battery, and the Infantry in line.

The 1st Brigade then advanced down the slope of the hill, and occupied at 9.5 A.M. the enemy's camp, which they found deserted, capturing two guns and fourteen standards.

The 2nd Brigade, advancing at the same time, occupied the village of Giniss at 9.20 A.M.

1,800 dollars were found in the village, but no supplies and very little grain.

As some fugitives from Giniss had re-occupied some houses in the village of Kosheh, I sent back a division of the Screw Gun Battery and the half battalion of the 1st Battalion Egyptian Army to retake it.

The dervishes fought with the greatest determination, and were not dislodged for a long time.

In taking these houses a promising Officer, Lieutenant Mohamed Hamdi, 1st Battalion Egyptian Army, and two Egyptian soldiers were killed.

The Cavalry and Mounted Infantry swung round on left of 1st Brigade, and pursued in the direction of Atab, which was held weakly by the rebels, who were eventually dispersed by the Mounted Infantry, under Lieutenant-Colonel Barrow, Scottish Rifles, who drove them off with the bayonet, and by ten A.M. the Dervish Army was a disorganized mass of fugitives, their camp occupied, their treasury, four guns, and 20 standards falling into our hands.

At two P.M. the Brigade and all mounted men, excepting the two Camel Corps, which were attached to the 2nd Brigade, proceeded to Amara; supplies for them being sent forward by nuggars and "Lotus."

The whole of the preliminary arrangements, including the assembly of the troops and collecting of supplies and transport, were conducted by Major-General Grenfell with great promptitude and forethought.

The general plan of the attack on the 30th December was also made by him, and both in this as well as in the previous arrangements, he received most valuable support and advice from Brigadier-General Butler.

The occupation of the position held by our troops was carried out with secrecy and success, the enemy being completely taken by surprise.

The conduct of the troops, both officers and men, was marked by very great steadiness under fire and an eagerness to come into contact with the enemy, and has given me the greatest satisfaction.

The Cameron Highlanders and two companies of Blacks, under the able command of Lieutenant-Colonel Everett, Cameron Highlanders, were conspicuous in these respects; their advance against the enemy was made with much gallantry, and the opportunity was not neglected of retaliating for the annoyance which the incessant fire of the enemy had subjected them to for the previous five weeks.

With the exception of the Cameron Highlanders and the battalion of black troops supporting them, who were obliged to resort now and then to independent firing, the whole of the Infantry fire was by volleys, steadily and accurately delivered.

The formation of the Infantry, after their positions were first occupied, was in line throughout the day.

Major Whateley's screw gun battery was very well handled; it came into action and limbered up, to occupy fresh positions, with great activity, and as promptly as the somewhat cumbersome process of screwing and unscrewing these guns will allow.

Their fire was rapid and very accurate, and officers and men worked with great spirit.

The first brigade, which bore the brunt of the enemy's attack, was most ably handled by Brigadier-General Butler, and the enemy's manoeuvres were met by him with promptness of action and cool judgment, which are conspicuous in this excellent General Officer.

The enemy's actual force of fighting men on both banks I estimated at 6,000, irrespective of a large number of Dongolese and men of less warlike tribes who fled in the early part of the day.

I have great satisfaction in being able to speak in high terms of the good behaviour of the Egyptian troops, not only upon this occasion, but during their occupation of the line of railway.

They have displayed an excellent spirit, steadiness under fire in the open field as well as in the defence of their posts, and have come into personal contact with the dervishes, some of whom they bayoneted.

The good treatment they have received at the hands of their English officers, and the efficiency they have attained under their excellent guidance, coupled with the emulation brought into play by fighting side by side with English soldiers, have mainly produced this satisfactory condition, which holds out good promise for the future.

The liberality of Her Majesty's Government in awarding them a gratuity during the recent campaign, has also produced a very beneficial effect.

The hospital arrangements, both ambulance and field, were made in a most satisfactory manner by Deputy Surgeon-General Lithgow, and carried out by him until the arrival of Surgeon-General O'Neil at Halfa on the 26th December.

The Commissariat and Ordnance Store duties have been ably performed by Lieutenant-Colonel Skinner, Assistant Commissary-General, and Major Wintle, Assistant Commissary-General of Ordnance, respectively, whose energy has kept the force in the field well supplied.

It only remains for me now to mention those officers whose names I consider it my duty to bring to your favourable notice.

The services rendered by Major-General Grenfell, C.B., A.D.C., are the most conspicuous, and the very able manner in which he has conducted the arduous and responsible duties as Commander of the Frontier Field Force since the month of July last are deserving of all praise.

They have entailed much anxiety, and called into play great vigilance, forethought, and intelligence.

The success of the 30th December last is due to him.

He has been very ably and zealously assisted in these duties by Brigadier-General Butler, C.B., A.D.C., whose clear head, cool sound judgment, quick intelligence, and intimate knowledge of his duties thoroughly qualify him for high command.

Colonel Huyshe, C.B., Royal Berkshire Regiment, who commanded the 2nd Brigade, has fully justified my expectations; from his coolness in the field, quickness, and thorough knowledge of his duties I consider he will make an excellent Brigadier.

The Adjutant-General's Department was well represented by Colonel Ardagh, C.B., Royal Engineers, and Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel Murray, Royal Irish Fusiliers. The former rendered valuable assistance throughout the day, and the services of Lieutenant-Colonel Murray, who has been in charge of this department in the Frontier Force until Colonel Ardagh's arrival at Akasheh on the 27th December last, have been conspicuous for unremitting application to duty and an intimate knowledge of its details.

I am anxious to bring under your special notice the very valuable services rendered by Lieutenant-Colonel Colville, C.B., Grenadier Guards, in charge of the Intelligence Department. It is to the untiring zeal he has displayed in collecting information, and the able manner in which he has organized his department, that I am indebted for the valuable guidance I have received in regulating the defence of the frontier.

Lieutenant-Colonel Hebbert, R.A., who commands the Artillery, English and Egyptian, has proved himself an excellent officer in the field, zealous and very competent; and under him Major Wodehouse, R.A., senior officer of Egyptian troops on the field, and in charge of the Camel Battery upon this occasion, displayed, as usual, activity and energy and great efficiency as an Artillery Officer.

Deputy Surgeon-General Lithgow, Medical Staff, made all the preliminary medical arrangements for the assembly of the troops at the front, and for the advance against the enemy, to my entire satisfaction, fully justifying confidence in him as a Principal Medical Officer.

Lieutenant-Colonel Skinner, Assistant Commissary-General, Commissariat and Transport Staff, and Major Wintle, Assistant Commissary-General of Ordnance, Ordnance Store Department, have shown great energy and intelligence in providing the necessary supplies for the troops, and are well qualified to be entrusted with their present responsibilities as heads of their departments in the field.

I should also mention the name of Colonel St. Leger, commanding Cameron Highlanders, who though not actually on the field on the morning of the 30th, had nevertheless for the five preceding weeks held command of the important post of Kosheh during a trying time, and on the morning of the 30th itself assisted the advance of the Cameron Highlanders and detachment Black battalion by a well directed fire from the fort.

As regards my own personal Staff, I venture to bring to your favourable notice Major Gordon Money, Cameron Highlanders, and Lieutenant Romilly, Scots Guards; the former, ever since he has been upon my Staff, has shown great ability, quick intelligence, and close application to his work, and makes an excellent Assistant Military Secretary. The latter has, by his intelligence, professional acquirements, and intimate knowledge of Soudanese warfare (this being his third campaign against the Soudanese), proved himself an excellent Aide-de-Camp.

To both these officers I am indebted for much valuable assistance during the time they have been upon my Staff, and especially since I have taken the field.

The Rev. R. Brindle, Roman Catholic Chaplain, Chaplains' Department, displayed his usual zeal upon this occasion, being present during the action, and welcome to all for his coolness under fire and popularity with all ranks.

I have, &c.,

FREDK. STEPHENSON,

Lieut.-General, Commanding in Egypt.
