THE Minister of the Interior, seeing that cases of cholera continue to occur in certain communes on the Adriatic coast of Italy, decrees:—

ART. 1. The quarantine regulations actually in force in Sicily, Sardinia, and the adjacent Islands for arrivals from the Adriatic, are extended to ships leaving any other parts of the Kingdom for the said destinations, under the rules laid down in Ordinance No. 7 of April 18th last.

ART. 2. Ships on board of which illnesses of the nature of cholera, even when merely suspected, have occurred, will undergo a rigorous quarantine of 21 days at the lazaretto of the Asinara.

ART. 3. The parcels post to Sicily and Sardinia is suspended from this day, excepting for parcels containing disinfectants, medicines, and surgical instruments. The importation into the said islands of rags, unwashed old clothes for sale, and manures, is prohibited from all parts of the kingdom.
