

“form a separate parish or benefice, or that any extra-parochial place may with advantage be annexed to any parish to which it is contiguous, or be constituted a separate parish for ecclesiastical purposes; and the said Archbishop or Bishop shall draw up a scheme in writing (the scheme of such Bishop to be transmitted to the said Archbishop for his consideration) describing the mode in which it appears to him that the alteration may best be effected, and how the changes consequent on such alteration in respect to ecclesiastical jurisdiction, glebe lands, tithes, rent-charges, and other ecclesiastical dues, rates, and payments, and in respect to patronage and rights to pews, may be made with justice to all parties interested; and if the patron or patrons of the benefice or benefices to be affected by such alteration shall consent in writing under his or their hands to such scheme, or to such modification thereof as the said Archbishop may approve, and the said Archbishop shall, on full consideration and enquiry, be satisfied with any such scheme, or modification thereof, and shall certify the same and such consent as aforesaid, by his report to Her Majesty in Council, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty in Council to make an Order for carrying such scheme, or modification thereof, as the case may be, into effect.”

And whereas by another Act of Parliament passed in the second and third years of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled “An Act to make better provision for the assignment of ecclesiastical districts to churches or chapels augmented by the Governors of the Bounty of Queen Anne; and for other purposes,” it is, amongst other things, further enacted, “That when by any Order of Her Majesty in Council, as aforesaid, a separate parish for ecclesiastical purposes is constituted, the same shall, on registration thereof, and with the consent in writing of the incumbent or incumbents of the benefice or benefices to be thereby affected, become a perpetual curacy and benefice, and the minister thereof, duly nominated and licensed thereto, and his successors, shall be a body politic and corporate, with perpetual succession, and may receive and take to himself and his successors all such lands, tenements, tithes, rent-charges, and hereditaments as shall be granted unto him or them, and such perpetual curate shall thenceforth have within the limits of the district parish formed under the Church Building Acts, for the church of such perpetual curacy, sole and exclusive cure of souls, and shall not in anywise be subject to the controul or interference of the incumbent or incumbents of the benefice or benefices to be affected by such Order, if he or they shall have consented to such Order as aforesaid.”

And whereas James Colquhoun, Lord Bishop of Bangor, hath made a representation in writing to the Right Honourable Edward White, Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, as follows:—

To the Most Reverend Edward White, Lord Archbishop of Canterbury.

“I the Right Reverend Father in God James Colquhoun Lord Bishop of Bangor do hereby represent to your Grace that there is in the county of Anglesey and diocese of Bangor the rectory and parish church of Llanbeulan to which belong the townships or chapelries of Llanfaelog Llechylched and Ceirchiog the boundaries whereof respectively are well known and defined.

“That the population of the said parish of Llanbeulan according to the census of one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one was two hundred and twenty-three persons and the population of the said townships or chapelries was, seven hundred and fourteen, five hundred and seventy-six and one hundred and twenty-nine respectively.

“That the said parish church of Llanbeulan affords accommodation for one hundred and forty persons or thereabouts and the respective churches or chapels of the said townships or chapelries of Llanfaelog and Llechylched afford accommodation for two hundred and fifty and two hundred and twenty persons or thereabouts respectively.

“That the annual value of the said rectory of Llanbeulan with the said townships or chapelries after deducting all taxes rates dues and other permanent charges and outgoings is seven hundred and fifty-four pounds eleven shillings the whole of which arises from tithe rent-charge and rent of glebe lands.

“That there is a rectory house of residence situate within the said township or chapelry of Llanfaelog with five acres and twenty-two perches of glebe land in such township or chapelry and nineteen acres three roods and four perches of glebe land in the said parish of Llanbeulan and the parishes of Trewalchmai and Coedana in the said county of Anglesey.

“That the said rectory of Llanbeulan with the said townships or chapelries of Llanfaelog Llechylched and Ceirchiog is in the patronage of the Bishop of Bangor and the Reverend Robert Williams M.A. Clerk in Holy Orders is the present incumbent thereof.

“That the said parish church of Llanbeulan is distant from each of the churches or chapels of the said townships or chapelries of Llanfaelog and Llechylched about three miles.

“That the said townships or chapelries of Llechylched and Ceirchiog appear to have been from time immemorial and are now treated as separate and distinct parishes for all civil purposes and baptisms churchings marriages and burials have been solemnized and performed in the churches or chapels thereof and the burial grounds thereto belonging until the year one thousand eight hundred and forty-two, when such parish churches were pulled down and a new parish church erected in the village of Bryngwran in the said township or chapelry of Llechylched and baptisms churchings marriages and burials have since been and now are solemnized and performed in such new church of Llechylched and the burial ground thereto belonging.

“That it appears to me that the said townships or chapelries of Llechylched and Ceirchiog may under the provisions of the Acts of the first and second years of Her present Majesty chapter one hundred and six and the second and third years of Her said Majesty chapter forty-nine be advantageously separated from the said parish and parish church of Llanbeulan and may together be advantageously constituted a separate parish and benefice for ecclesiastical purposes and a perpetual curacy.

“That if the said townships or chapelries of Llechylched and Ceirchiog be separated from the said parish and parish church of Llanbeulan and together constituted a separate parish and benefice it is proposed to transfer to the said proposed separate parish and benefice the whole of the rectorial tithe rent-charge arising or payable in respect of lands within the said townships or chapelries of Llechylched and Ceirchiog now belonging to the said rectory of Llanbeulan and amounting according to the respective tithe apportionments of the said townships or chapelries each dated the fourth day of May one
