MADAGASCAR CLAIMS.

NOTICE.

Foreign Office, March 30, 1887.

THE following is a translation of a Note which has been received from the French Minister of Foreign Affairs by Her Majesty's Ambassador at Paris respecting the manner in which persons, having claims for losses sustained by them during the war between France and Madagascar, will be allowed to support them before the Indemnity Commission:—

“M. L'AMBASSADEUR,

“IN your Note of the 1st instant your Excellency was good enough to express a desire for information as to the manner in which British subjects who have suffered losses in Madagascar will be allowed to support their claims before the Commission charged with the distribution of the indemnity.

“I hasten to inform you of the Regulations which the Commission, acting under the authority conferred upon it, has thought fit to draw up for its own guidance in this matter.

“It has decided that persons interested may furnish the Commissioner whose duty it is to report upon their claims with explanations, oral or written, and with such evidence as they may judge proper. The Commission is even prepared to allow them, if a special request to that effect is made, to be heard either in person or by deputy, but only to offer explanations or answer questions. It holds, on the contrary, that no arguments nor pleadings can be allowed before it.”

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

(No. 63 of the year 1887.)

TASMANIA—NORTH-EAST COAST.

Non-Existence of Sunken Rock reported E.N.E. of Eddystone Point.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 140 of 19th June, 1886, on the existence of a sunken rock, reported as lying in the track of shipping, with Eddystone Point bearing W.S.W., distant $2\frac{5}{8}$ miles, on which the British steam-vessel "Waihora" was said to have struck:—

Further information has been received from Commander Hoskyn, H.M.'s. Surveying-vessel "Myrmidon," that during a recent careful re-examination of the locality, the weather being fine and circumstances propitious, no indication of this rock could be detected; the least depth found in and around the locality was 11 fathoms.

Consequent upon the result of this search, and the former partial examination by the "Myrmidon," detailed in the above Notice to Mariners; and taking into consideration information recently obtained by Commander Hoskyn from residents in the neighbourhood of Eddystone Point, it is considered probable that the "Waihora" struck on Norgate Rock. Waihora Rock has therefore been expunged from the Admiralty Charts.
