

Now, therefore. Her Majesty is pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the said Order be read and construed as if the words "except for the burial of the Right Honourable Sir John Lambert, his wife and three daughters at their decease in two walled graves to be constructed after the first September, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven," had been inserted after the words "human remains," in that part of the said Order, directing the discontinuance of burials in the Roman Catholic Burial Ground of Saint Osmund, Salisbury.

C. L. Peel.

(PLEURO-PNEUMONIA.)

At the Council Chamber, Whitehall, the 30th day of November, 1887.

By Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

THE Lords and others of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, by virtue and in exercise of the powers in them vested under The Contagious Diseases (Animals) Acts, 1878 to 1886, and of every other power enabling them in this behalf, do order, and it is hereby ordered, as follows:

1. The following Place (namely),—the cowshed situated at South Steads Farm, in the chapelry of Widdrington, in the county of Northumberland, in the occupation of Mr. James Hay, together with all the Farm of South Steads aforesaid and all the farm buildings thereon in the same occupation, and also the field immediately contiguous to the said Farm known as the Big Field in the occupation of Mr. William Potts,—which was declared by Order of Council dated the nineteenth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven, to be a Place infected with pleuro-pneumonia, is hereby declared to be free from pleuro-pneumonia, and that Place shall, as from the commencement of this Order, cease to be a Place infected with pleuro-pneumonia.

2. This Order shall take effect from and immediately after the 1st day of December, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven.
