

entirely in the parish church of Saint Margaret, Lowestoft, in the county of Suffolk; and, with the exception of that part of the churchyard which was added in one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight and was approved by the Secretary of State under the Burial Acts, in the churchyard, except as follows:—

(a.) In such vaults and wholly walled graves as are now existing in the churchyard burials may be allowed on condition that every coffin buried therein be separately enclosed by stonework or brickwork properly cemented.

(b.) In such partly walled graves as are now existing in the churchyard, provided that the earth above them can be opened to the depth of five feet without exposing coffins or disturbing human remains, burials may be allowed of so many of the relations of those interred therein at the date of this Order as can be buried at or below that depth.

(c.) In such earthen graves now existing in the churchyard as can be opened to the depth of five feet without exposing coffins or disturbing human remains burials may be allowed of so many of the relations of those interred therein at the date of this Order as can be buried at or below that depth.

(d.) In such reserved grave spaces in the churchyard (as have never before been buried in, and which, when opened, are free from water) burials may be allowed of so many members of the families to whom they may be allotted as can be buried at or below the depth of five feet. C. L. Peel.

Privy Council Office, February 21, 1888.

THE following Statute made by the Governing Body of Saint John Baptist's College, Oxford sealed on the twelfth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, and consented to by the University of Oxford on the fourteenth of February, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, has been submitted for the approval of Her Majesty in Council, and notice of its having been so submitted is published in accordance with the provisions contained in the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1877:—

A STATUTE made by Saint John Baptist's College Oxford under the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1877, section 54, the same being passed at a General Meeting of the Governing Body of the College specially summoned for this purpose by the votes of not less than two-thirds of the number of persons present and voting.

THE first Section of Statute XVI of the Statutes of Saint John's College made by the University of Oxford Commissioners under the Universities of Oxford and Cambridge Act, 1877, and dated the sixteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one is hereby repealed and the following section shall take its place:—

“On the first avoidance of any Fellowship other than an Official Fellowship after January first one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight the sum of £225 shall become payable annually to the Laudian Professor of Arabic within the University and an additional sum of £225 shall become payable annually on the avoidance of the third such Fellowship after the same date. In order to provide for these payments the President and Fellows may suspend the election to one or both of the aforesaid Fellowships for as long a time as in their judgment the state of the revenues of the College may require and this suspension may be renewed from time to time.

“These payments to the Laudian Professor of Arabic shall be liable to rateable diminution in common with the other charges upon the revenues of the College as provided in Statute XVIII. 7.

“The President and Fellows may at their discretion elect the Laudian Professor of Arabic to a Fellowship without emolument and he shall in that case hold the Fellowship so long as he continues Professor and no longer. The clauses of Statute III. which relate to Ordinary Fellowships and to Official Fellowships respectively shall not apply to this Fellowship.”

In witness whereof the Corporate Seal of the President and Scholars of Saint John Baptist College in the University of Oxford is hereunto affixed the twelfth day of January one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight.
