- (1.) If the purchaser is a Depositor in the Post Office Savings Bank, and there is standing to his credit in the said bank a sum equal to or greater than the sum payable under the contract, the last-mentioned sum shall be transferred to the account in the books of the Post Office Savings Bank of sums received in respect of annuities and insurances, and shall be entered in the account of the purchaser as a sum withdrawn from his account, and the contract shall thereupon be sent to the purchaser with notice of the said withdrawal.

- (2.) If the purchaser is not a Depositor in the Post Office Savings Bank, or if the sum standing to his credit in such bank is less than the sum payable under the contract:—

(A.) Notice shall be sent to the purchaser requiring him to deposit in the Post Office Savings Bank a sum equal to the sum payable under the contract, or (as the case may be) to the difference between such last-mentioned sum, and the amount standing to his credit in the Post Office Savings Bank.

(B.) The purchaser shall deposit the sum payable under the contract in the Post Office Savings Bank, in manner provided with reference to deposits in such bank, and all such entries shall be made and receipts given, as in the case of other deposits, and the sum so deposited as aforesaid shall be treated in every respect as any other deposit in such bank.

(C.) If the purchaser has not at the time of making such payment any deposits in the Post Office Savings Bank, the sum paid under the contract shall be deemed a first deposit, and such declaration shall be made, and such other conditions observed, as are prescribed by law with reference to a first deposit in the Post Office Savings Bank.

(D.) Upon such deposit as aforesaid being made by the purchaser, the contract shall be sent to him.

- (E.) So soon as the amount standing to the credit of the purchaser in the Post Office Savings Bank is equal to the sum payable under the contract, such last-mentioned sum shall be transferred to the account in the books of the Post Office Savings Bank of sums received in respect of annuities and insurances, and shall be entered in the account of the purchaser as a sum withdrawn from his account, and notice of the said withdrawal shall be sent to the purchaser.

- (3.) Every notice of withdrawal under the provisions of this rule shall be deemed conclusive evidence of the payment by the purchaser of the sum so withdrawn.

- (3.) If ten days before any instalment becomes payable the balance standing to the credit of the purchaser in the Post Office Savings Bank is less than the amount of such instalment, notice of such deficiency shall be sent to the depositor, and he shall be requested to make on or before the day when the said instalment becomes due, a deposit in the said bank of not less than the difference between the amount of the said instalment and the sum standing to his credit in the said bank.
- (4.) If the balance standing to the credit of the purchaser in the Post Office Savings Bank is on the day when any instalment of purchase-money is due, and during the space of four weeks thereafter less than the amount of such instalment, the purchaser shall be deemed to have made default in payment.
- (5.) Every notice of withdrawal given under this Regulation shall be deemed conclusive evidence of the payment by the purchaser of the sum so withdrawn.

Payments may be made through Account of Third Party.

29. Notwithstanding anything in these Regulations contained any sum payable for the purchase of a Savings Bank Annuity or Savings Bank Insurance may be transferred to the account of sums received in respect of annuities and insurances from the account of any Depositor who may state in writing to the Postmaster-General his consent to such transfer, although such Depositor may not be the purchaser of such annuity or insurance, and the provisions of these Regulations, with respect to such transfer, shall apply to such Depositor so far as the same are applicable; but such transfer shall not give the Depositor any right or title to receive any sum payable by the Postmaster-General in respect of such annuity or insurance.

Provision as to Payment in excess of authorized Bank limits.

30. Except within ten days before the date on which any instalment or purchase-money payable under a contract for the purchase of a Savings Bank Annuity or a Savings Bank Insurance becomes payable, no sum which causes the aggregate sum standing to the credit of a purchaser to exceed the maximum amount which may by law be deposited in the Post Office Savings Bank, or causes the aggregate sum deposited by the purchaser in the current Savings Bank year to exceed the maximum amount which may by law be deposited in such year, shall be received at any Savings Bank Office, or otherwise by the Postmaster-General, and under no circumstances shall any such excess as aforesaid bear interest.

Receipt of Annuities.

31. Subject to the provisions of these Regulations the following rules shall apply with regard to all sums payable to a purchaser of a Savings Bank Annuity under the contract relating to such annuity, that is to say:—

- (1.) Every sum so payable shall upon production of such evidence of the life and identity of any person during whose life the annuity is payable, as the Postmaster-General may from time to time require, be transferred in the books of the Savings Bank from the account of moneys received and paid in respect of annuities and insurances to the account of the purchaser, and shall be treated in every respect as money deposited in the Post Office Savings Bank by such purchaser.
- (2.) Unless the purchaser shall have notified his desire at once to receive such sum in cash, he shall furnish such evidence as aforesaid to the Controller of the Post Office Savings Bank, or such other officer as the Postmaster-General may from time to time appoint, and thereupon the sum payable shall be transferred as aforesaid.
- (3.) If the purchaser shall have notified his desire at once to receive such sum in cash, a Warrant for the sum payable shall be sent to him, and such sum shall upon production at any Savings Bank Office which he may have specified of such evidence as aforesaid, be paid to him at such Office in the manner in which a sum withdrawn by a depositor is payable.
- (4.) The entry as a deposit in the account of a purchaser of any sum payable under a contract shall, as regards such contract, be deemed conclusive evidence of the payment to the purchaser of the sum so entered.

Every sum of money which becomes payable to the purchaser of a Savings Bank Insurance under the contract relating to such Insurance, shall be transferred in the books of the Savings Bank from the account of moneys received and paid in respect of annuities and insurances to the account of the purchaser, and shall be treated in every respect as money deposited in the Post Office Savings Bank by such purchaser.
- (2.) The entry of any such sum as a deposit in the account of a purchaser shall, as regards the contract, be deemed conclusive evidence of the payment to the purchaser of the sum so entered.

Provision as to Receipt in excess of authorized Bank Limits.

33. Whenever the transfer to the account of a purchaser of a Savings Bank Annuity or a Savings Bank Insurance of any sum payable to him under the contract relating to such Annuity or Insurance, causes the aggregate sum standing to the credit of the purchaser to exceed the maximum amount which may by law be deposited in the Post Office Savings Bank, or causes the aggregate sum placed to the credit of the purchaser in the current Savings Bank year, to exceed the maximum amount which may by law be deposited in such year, the excess of the amount standing to the purchaser's credit over and above the maxi-sum amount which may by law be deposited in the Post Office Savings Bank, either in the aggregate or in any one Savings Bank year (as the case may be), shall bear no interest, and a Warrant for the amount of such excess shall be forthwith sent to the purchaser, and such amount shall be paid to him in manner provided for the withdrawal of deposits.

- (3.) In the case of any Savings Bank Annuity or any Savings Bank Insurance, the Postmaster-General may, if he in his discretion think fit, with the approval of the National Debt Commissioners, upon the application of the purchaser renew the Contract upon payment by the defaulting purchaser of any arrears of purchase-money, which shall be due from him, and of such fine (if any) as the Postmaster-General shall think fit, or may, with the approval of the National Debt Commissioners, enter into such new or varied Contract as, having regard to the

Also, that the beacon on Tangalane Point, eastern side of entrance to Kiliman River, which in line with the lighthouse on that point leads over the bar, has been moved to the eastward, and is now situated with the south-western extreme of Tangalane Point bearing about S.S.W. ¼ W., distant 3¼ cables.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

(No. 233 of the year 1888.)

PORTUGAL.—WEST COAST.

Meteorological Signals established at Certain Semaphore Stations.

THE Portuguese Government has given notice, that on 1st August, 1888, the undermentioned Meteorological Signals will be established, and shown to passing vessels requesting the information, at the following Semaphore Stations, viz.:—Nossa Senhora da Luz, River Douro Entrance; Cape Carvoeiro, Peninsula of Peniche; Citavos, westward of Guia Lighthouse, River Tagus Entrance; Cape Espichel; and Sagrês Point, near Cape St. Vincent:—

The information will be relative to the state of the weather in the Bay of Biscay, the Strait of Gibraltar and at Madeira:—

The state of the weather signalled is that prevailing at 7h. a.m.

As regards the Strait of Gibraltar and Madeira, signals made before the hour of noon will relate to the state of the weather at 7h. a.m. on the previous day; after noon, to the weather at 7h. a.m. on the present day.

Similarly as regards the Bay of Biscay, signals made before 2h. p.m., will indicate the weather at 7h. a.m. on the previous day; and after 2h. p.m., the weather at 7h. a.m. on the present day.

On exceptional days, when the meteorological bulletins from France have not been received at the Meteorological Observatory of the Infante D. Luiz until 2h. 40m. p.m., which is frequently the case in bad weather, the information signalled relative to the Bay of Biscay will be that of the day previous; the same may occur with reference to the Strait of Gibraltar and Madeira.

To avoid mistakes, however, the date to which the state of the weather refers will always precede the information signalled.

Each notice will give:—first, the date to which it refers; secondly, the locality to which it has reference; and then, two statements, the first indicating the direction of the wind, and the second its force.

In addition to the above, the notice may also contain other information which the Observatory may consider it expedient to give.

The direction of the wind will be expressed in one or other of the eight principal points, viz.:—N., N.E., E., S.E., &c.; or, when it cannot be well determined, by the word, variable.

The force of the wind will be expressed by the words—calm, weak, moderate, fresh, strong, violent.

The questions put by vessels will always be answered by the last notice from the Observatory, the date of this being given, and the locality to which it refers. These two statements will not be signalled, should it appear that they may be omitted, owing to the terms of the question.

Example:—Question.—What is the weather in Biscay? Reply.—Date—Biscay—N.W.—fresh.

Should vessels request other information, they will be answered by the signal V.K.N.—“I do not know.”

In order to make the subject clearer, the following Meteorological Notice is given relating to the 12th day of a certain month, and to Madeira, with the translation of the notice into the Signals of the International Code.

Example:—Notice. 12—Madeira—N.E.—Moderate. Signal. H.D.R.—B.R.G.M.—C.M.—D.K.G.P.

Note.—The signals will usually be made by flags, of the International Code of Signals; and only by semaphore (distant signals), when colours of flags would not be easily distinguished.

By command of their Lordships,

W. J. L. Wharton, Hydrographer,

Hydrographic Office, Admiralty, London,
