Board of Trade (Harbour Department), London, October 5, 1888.

THE Board of Trade have received through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs a copy of a Despatch, dated 30th ultimo, from Her Majesty's Representative at Rome, enclosing the following translation of an Ordinance of Maritime Health :—

1888.—Ordinance of Maritime Health.

THE Minister of Marine decrees that from to-day (September 26th) the treatment of ships entering the ports of the Kingdom with a foul bill of health from yellow fever, is as follows :—

ART. 1. Shall be admitted to free intercourse, vessels recognized after a medical visit as being in good hygienic condition provided that the medical officer on board explicitly declares—

(a.) That there have not been loaded thereon dirty effects for personal or domestic use, or at least that such effects came on board washed and properly disinfected.

(b.) That during the voyage there have been no proved or suspected cases of yellow fever.

ART. 2. Shall be admitted to free intercourse, after a rigorous medical visit and a regular disinfection of dirty effects for personal or domestic use, such ships as do not fulfil the conditions of Article 1 always, be it understood, provided it appears on the declaration of the medical officer on board, or in default of such, of the Captain, that no case of the above-mentioned malady has been detected on the voyage.

ART. 3. Shall be admitted to free intercourse, with the precautions stated in the preceding Article, the vessels provided with a doctor, which,
