1. Two balls vertical at the north yard arm indicate to steam vessels:—Take the Main channel.

2. Two balls vertical, lowered half way from the north yard arm, indicate to sailing vessels:—Take the Main channel.

NOTE.—As the signal station is a considerable distance from the entrance to the Main channel, the signals, except in unusually clear weather, cannot be made out without the aid of glasses.

Also, the following information, dated June, 1890, relating to Manukau Harbour Main Channel, the result of a sketch survey by the Harbour Master, has been received from the New Zealand Government:—

The Main channel, northward of Middle Bank, is much wider and deeper than the South channel; but owing to the bar, on which the depth is  $3\frac{1}{2}$  fathoms at low water, being exposed to the prevailing westerly winds, the Main channel cannot be used except in the finest weather.

Vessels signalled to take Main channel are navigated in and out from the signal station on South Head by the semaphore arm; therefore a careful look-out should be kept, and prompt attention given to the signals.

CAUTION.—The approaches to the Manukau are constantly changing, and no one, unless thoroughly acquainted with the local signals, should attempt to enter Manukau Harbour without a pilot.
