WHEREAS by the thirtieth section of "The Passengers Act, 1855," it is enacted for the purposes of the Act, the length of voyage for a passenger ship proceeding from the United Kingdom to the several places therein mentioned shall be determined by a scale therein set forth, and that for the like purposes the Emigration Commissioners, acting by and under the authority of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, by notice in writing issued under the hands of any two of such Commissioners, and published in the London Gazette, may, nevertheless, declare what shall be deemed to be the length of voyage from the United Kingdom to any of such places, or to any other port or place whatsoever, and may fix such different length of voyage as they may think reasonable for different descriptions of vessels.

And whereas it was deemed expedient to vary the said scale, and to reduce the length of voyage from the United Kingdom to North America in the said scale set forth, as regards passenger ships propelled by steam engines, at a rate of not less than ten statute miles an hour, and Her Majesty's Emigration Commissioners, having obtained the necessary authority in that behalf of Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Colonies, did by notice, dated the fourth June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, and published in the London Gazette of the seventh June, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, declare that the length of voyage from the United Kingdom to North America (except the West Coast thereof) shall be reckoned as he said Passengers Act, 1847, shall be reckoned as he said:—For pass

And whereas it is expedient further to vary the said scale, and to declare what shall be the length of voyage for steamships in the North Atlantic trade having double screws and steaming after the rate of fourteen statute miles per hour.

Now, therefore, the Board of Trade, in exercise of the powers vested in them by the said recited Act, do by this notice declare that from and after the date hereof, the length of the voyage for a passenger ship proceeding from the United Kingdom to the undermentioned places respectively shall, for the purposes of "The Passengers Act, 1855," and "The Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863" be determined by, and the same shall be deemed to be, the length of voyage set out in the "Scale for Computation of Voyages," contained in the schedule hereto.

And the Board of Trade do hereby declare that, from and after the date hereof, the said "Scale for Computation of Voyages" shall be substituted for the scale set forth in Section 30 of the said first-recited Act, and amended by notices dated the 4th June, 1864, the 9th day of June, 1882, and the 27th day of July, 1889, respectively.

- (7.) A Parcel shall not be given up or returned by post to the sender except upon payment by him of any charge for re-direction or other charge to which the Parcel has become liable under the provisions of this Warrant, or of any such Regulations as are referred to in section 14 of "The Post Office (Parcels) Act, 1882."
- (8.) Where the sender requests a Parcel to be returned to him by post, such Parcel shall not be returned to the sender except upon payment by him of a new and distinct rate of postage, according to the rates fixed by this Warrant, and in such case the said rate of postage and all other charges to which the Parcel has become liable, if not prepaid by the sender, shall be collected on the delivery of the Parcel to him.
- (9.) The Postmaster-General may require proof to his satisfaction that an applicant for a Parcel is entitled to receive the same.
- (10.) Where no application is made for a Parcel within the period specified in any such notice as aforesaid, or an applicant fails to prove to the satisfaction of the Postmaster-General that he is entitled to receive the Parcel, or refuses or fails to pay the charges to which the Parcel has become liable under this Warrant, the Parcel may be dealt with or disposed of in such manner as the Postmaster-General may in his discretion direct or authorize.

The proposed lease contains covenants by the Company to pay the rents reserved and all taxes, to observe the obligations of the said Tramways Act, 1870, and any Acts of Parliament, indentures, or agreements affecting the tramways or any part of the same, to indemnify the Corporation against any breach thereof, to deliver up the premises at the end or sooner determination of the term, to deliver an annual balance sheet to the Corporation, and to produce books and accounts. That the Company will not use power other than animal power on the tramways without the previous consent of the Corporation, and will only run such carriages as shall be approved by the Corporation, and will maintain their carriages in good condition; that the Company will not charge

The proposed lease contains covenants by the Corporation to repair and renew the tramways, and for quiet enjoyment of the liberties and premises by the Company, and a proviso for distress and re-entry by the Corporation in case of default by the Company, with power to enter the property of the Company, and receive and take the tolls during the continuance of such possession, and in case of bankruptcy or insolvency of the Company power to the Corporation to enter into possession of the premises, and terminate the lease; and the said intended lease contains provisions authorizing the Corporation to execute repairs and works on the streets or tramways without incurring a liability to compensate the Company, to regulate street traffic, to construct temporary tramways during repairs, and reserving the rights of the Corporation generally, and providing that the proposed lease shall be deemed to be a lease under the 19th section of the Tramways Acts, 1870.

The first schedule to the proposed lease contains a description of the several lines of tramways to be leased.
