The Government of the Dominion of Canada has given further notice, that a new lighthouse has been erected on Cape Gaspé, west shore of Gulf of St. Lawrence, and that on 1st November, 1892, the permanent light would be re-exhibited, and the provisional light discontinued:—

Cape Gaspé Permanent Light is a group flashing white light, showing three flashes, with intervals of fifteen seconds between their points of greatest brilliancy, followed by an interval of thirty seconds, during the greater part of which the light is eclipsed, the total period of the system thus occupying one minute. The light is elevated 355 feet above high water, and should be visible in clear weather 26 miles from all points of approach seaward, except through a small arc in which it is obscured by a chimney on the east-north-east side of the lighthouse.

The illuminating apparatus is catoptric.

The new lighthouse, 46 feet high, is situated on the site of the old one, near the edge of the cliff on the south face of the cape, about 300 yards S. $\frac{1}{2}$ E. from the spot heretofore indicated on Admiralty Plan, No. 1163, and is a wooden lighthouse and dwelling combined, the square tower rising from the middle of the south face of the structure, the walls of which are white, lantern red.

The lighthouse, 40 feet high, has been moved about 13 yards eastward of its previous position on the west extreme of the island, and is now close to the keeper's dwelling.

Approximate position, lat. 45° 43' 15" N., long. 64° 37' 25" W.

A new fog signal station, with fog horn, has been erected on the west extreme of Grindstone Island, on the site previously occupied by the lighthouse. The structure, of wood, is painted white, with brown roof. The horn, about 50 feet above high water, faces south, and during thick or foggy weather, will give single blasts of fifteen seconds duration, with intervals of thirty seconds between the blasts.

The old fog horn and station, about 50 yards north-east of the new station, will remain for the present in case of accident to the new horn, and will, as previously, give shorts blasts at intervals of fifteen seconds.

the sea, and visible in clear weather from a distance of 11 miles.

The light-vessel has two masts, is schooner rigged, and no bowsprit. The mastheads are black, and at the fore masthead there is a black circular iron cage work day mark. The hull is red, with a broad white streak, on which "Fenwick Island Shoal" is painted in large black letters, and "No. 52" on each bow. A black funnel and the fog signal are between the masts.
