Narrows—Tidal Indicator at Fort Hamilton Wharf.

THE United States Government has given notice, dated February, 1894, that a tidal indicator has been established in a small wooden building, on the south side of the extremity of the wharf at Fort Hamilton, Eastern side of the Narrows:—

The indicator appears as a large semicircle painted white, resting on the roof of the tide gauge house. The figures, and the longer lines pointing towards them, indicate the height of the tide in feet, the shorter lines represent half feet.

A pointer turning about the centre of the circle indicates the rise or fall of tide above or below mean low water, or the level to which the soundings on the chart are reduced. The minus sign on the left hand side of the indicator shows when the tide has fallen below that level.

The arrow head in the centre of the disc points upwards while the tide is rising and downwards when it is falling.

Thus, in the above figure, the tide is rising, and is $4\frac{1}{2}$ feet above the mean level of low water.

Ice Islands and Bergs.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 647 of 1893, on ice islands and bergs in the South Atlantic Ocean:—

Mariners are warned that reports are still being made of the existence of icebergs within the boundary line marked on the diagram attached to this Notice. This boundary line roughly stretches from lat. 55° S., long. 53° W., to lat. 51° S., long. 55° W.; then to lat. 40° S., long. 43° W.; and to lat. 37° S., long. 20° W. To eastward of it is ice.

Large masses of ice in this area were first seen in April 1892, and have been constantly reported since by vessels passing this locality. There seems to be at present no sign of any diminution in the number or size of the bergs reported, and the area must therefore still be considered dangerous for some considerable period.

Night Tidal Signals at West Jetty Lighthouse.

WITH reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 611 of 1893:—

Information is published in the French Light List, Série C, 1894, No. 26, that since the destruction of the extremity of Calais East Pier, night tidal signals have been made, when practicable, from the lighthouse on the extremity of Calais West Pier.

These signals are made in the same manner as those on Dunkerque west jetty, and indicate by colour and flashes every 10 inches of rise after the tide has risen to a height of $6\frac{1}{2}$ feet above the level of the soundings on the chart.

When the tide is less than $6\frac{1}{2}$ feet above low water springs, and rising, the light shows red; when less than $6\frac{1}{2}$ feet and falling, the light shows green; when between $6\frac{1}{2}$ and $7\frac{1}{4}$ feet the light shows white.

With $7\frac{1}{4}$ feet and upwards the light shows white with groups of coloured flashes at intervals of eighty seconds. The flashes in each group are shown at intervals of five seconds, each red flash adding 3 feet 4 inches more to the initial height of $6\frac{1}{2}$ feet, and each green flash 10 inches more.

With a rising tide, the fixed light, whether red or white, is eclipsed for a short period every eighty seconds; and, with a falling tide, the fixed light, white or green, is eclipsed twice in quick succession during the same period.

At or near high water, the light is not eclipsed. When the fixed white light is varied by groups of coloured flashes, the eclipse takes place about the middle of the interval separating the groups.

To the Vestry of the Parish of Lambeth, and all whom it may concern.

WHEREAS by Section 15 of the London Council Council (General Powers) Act, 1893, it is enacted that the London County Council may from time to time for the purpose of the election of vestrymen, upon the application in writing of the vestry, or of not less than 500 rated householders of a parish mentioned in Schedules A and B to the Metropolis Management Act, 1855, by order under their seal, rearrange the wards in such parish, and determine the number, extent, limits, and boundary lines of the new wards, but so nevertheless that no ward shall contain less than 500 rated householders, and that the whole number of wards shall not exceed eight, and the Council shall, in making any such rearrangement, apportion among the several wards the number of vestrymen to be elected for such parish, and shall in assigning the number of vestrymen to each ward have regard, as far as practicable, as well to the number of persons rated to the relief of the poor in each ward as to the aggregate amount of the sums at which all such persons are rated, and the number of vestrymen assigned to each ward shall be a number divisible by three; and it is also by the said Act enacted that such Order may contain such provisions with reference to the election, rotation, and retirement of vestrymen (whether elected prior or subsequently to the date of the Order) as the Council may think necessary for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the Order.

And whereas the parish of Lambeth is a parish mentioned in Part I of Schedule A to the Metropolis Management Act, 1855, and, pursuant to the provisions of the said Act, the said parish was divided into eight wards.

And whereas the vestry of the said parish hath applied to the London County Council to rearrange the wards of the said parish pursuant to the provisions of the said 15th Section of the London County Council (General Powers) Act, 1893.

Now the London County Council having considered the said application, and having taken into consideration the number of persons rated to the relief of the poor in each ward of the said parish, and the aggregate amount of the sums at which all such persons are rated, and all the circumstances connected with such application, doth hereby order that the wards of the said parish of Lambeth be rearranged in manner following, that is to say, namely, that the said parish be redivided into eight wards, and that the eight wards be distinguished by the numbers and names mentioned in the first column of the undermentioned Schedule, that the extent, limits, and boundary lines of such wards shall be those described in the second column of the said Schedule; and that the number of vestrymen to be elected for each of the said wards shall be the number mentioned in the third column of the said Schedule, that is, 120 vestrymen.

And the London County Council doth further order that this Order shall come into force for the purpose of the first election of vestrymen under the Local Government Act, 1894, and such election shall be subject to the provisions of the said Act.
