

Our men had been withdrawn on the evening of the 1st, leaving a Houssa garrison. The fire was first discovered at 3 A.M. on the 2nd.

A Letter, of which the attached is a copy, has been addressed to the Commander-in-Chief with reference to the before-mentioned Despatches:—

SIR, Admiralty, December 7, 1894.

I HAVE laid before my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty the Despatches noted in the margin* reporting on the operations undertaken against the Chief Nanna of Benin, in the months of August and September last, resulting in the capture of his stronghold at Brohémie on the 25th September, and I am commanded by their Lordships to acquaint you that they have much pleasure in approving all your proceedings and in noting the skill and energy by which they have been characterized.

They notice with satisfaction that your plans were so complete that your forces took the town, although it was strongly defended by batteries, without loss of life.

The peculiar nature of the position, surrounded as it is by mangrove swamps and intersected with creeks, rendered these operations especially arduous and difficult, and the zeal and endurance shown by Officers and Men in bringing them to a successful issue merits the highest praise.

Their Lordships fully recognize the gallantry and perseverance shown by the Officers and Men engaged in these operations, both at the capture of Brohémie and in those prior to your arrival in the Benin River, and I am to desire you will convey to all concerned the expression of their Lordships' high appreciation (in which the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs fully concurs) of the praiseworthy manner in which they did their duty under very trying circumstances.

The Despatches will be gazetted, and the names of the Officers and Men especially mentioned will be favourably noted.

I am, &c.,
EVAN MACGREGOR.

Rear-Admiral Bedford, C.B.,
&c., &c., &c.,
Cape of Good Hope.

Privy Council Office, December 21, 1894.
