TRADEMARKS AND PATENTS IN MOROCCO.

THE Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs has received the following Despatch from Her Majesty's Minister in Morocco:—

Mr LORD, Tangier, May 21, 1895.

IN accordance with the instructions conveyed to me in your Lordship's Despatch of the 13th instant, I have the honour to furnish for publication a Memorandum on the present state of the protection of Trademarks in Morocco.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) ERNEST SATOW.

The Earl of Kimberley, K.G., &c., &c., &c.,
Foreign Office.

MEMORANDUM.

Protection of Patents and Trademarks in Morocco.

There exists no Moorish law for the protection of Patents and Trademarks, which are unknown in this country. The only redress afforded against a Moorish subject counterfeiting a foreign trademark, or procuring it to be counterfeited, is given by an engagement entered into in 1892 between the Moorish Government and the then French Minister, which runs as follows:—

"The Moorish Government engages to protect trademarks affixed to French goods to the extent that if a Moorish Merchant should counterfeit the said marks, or cause them to be counterfeited, goods found to bear such false marks shall be confiscated for the benefit of the Moorish Government, and the author of the falsification shall be severely punished."

Under the most-favoured-Nation clause of the Convention of Commerce between Great Britain and Morocco of December 9, 1856, British subjects become entitled to a similar measure of protection as against Moorish subjects. The Moorish Government has been officially informed of the intention of Great Britain to claim on behalf of British subjects the benefit of the Franco-Moorish Agreement.

In the absence of any International agreement among the powers having Treaties with Morocco, goods bearing false English trademarks can only be seized under this agreement, if they are the property of a Moorish subject and imported by him.

An agreement has been made between the British and French Legations by which protection is reciprocally accorded to the trademarks of the two countries. In order that British Manufacturers should obtain the advantage of this arrangement, they should cause their trademarks to be registered in France. At present no protection for British trademarks can be obtained as against the subjects or citizens of any other Power trading in Morocco.

As against British subjects and protégés in Morocco, protection is given by Art. 112 of the Morocco Order in Council 1889 which provides that any act, which if done in the United Kingdom or in a British Possession would be an offence against the Merchandise Marks Act 1887, the Patents, Designs and Trademarks Acts 1883 to 1888, any Act, Statute or Order in Council in force for the time being relating to copyright, inventions, designs or trademarks; or any Statute amending or substituted for any of the above-mentioned Statutes, shall, if done by a British subject in Morocco, be punishable as a grave offence against the Order. Any person found guilty under this section is liable (i) to a fine not exceeding ten pounds, without imprisonment; or (ii) to imprisonment not exceeding two months, without fine, or (iii) to imprisonment not exceeding one month, with a fine not exceeding five pounds.

It is to be presumed that the owner of a trademark which has been falsified by a British subject or protégé in Morocco would be able also to recover damages.

As there exists no machinery for registration of British trademarks at any of the British Consulates or Vice-Consulates in Morocco, before commencing proceedings in Her Majesty's Court for Morocco, it would be necessary to furnish legal evidence of the ownership of the mark, and similarly in any case where the intervention of a British Consular Officer with the French or Moorish Authorities was sought for.
