Foreign Office, December 2, 1895.

THE following Despatches have been received by the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs respecting certificates of origin for goods exported to Spain:—

Sir G. Bonham to the Marquess of Salisbury.—
(Received November 16.)

Madrid,

November 13, 1895.

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour to transmit herewith copy and translation of a note which I have received from the Minister of State in reply to the representations which, by instructions from your Lordship, I have made in favour of permission being granted to the English Chambers of Commerce, and more especially that of London, to continue to use the form of certificate hitherto employed by them.

The note forwards a Royal Order issued by the Minister of Finance, of which I have had the honour to forward a summary by telegraph.

I have, &c.

(Signed) G. F. BONHAM.

The Duke of Tetuan to Sir G. Bonham.

Ministry of State, Palace,

November 12, 1895.

SIR,

WITH reference to your Excellency's notes requesting that certificates of origin issued by English Chambers of Commerce be admitted, I have the honour to transmit to you the annexed copy, and forms of certificates of origin, of the Royal Order of the Ministry of Finance, dated the 8th instant, from which your Excellency will perceive what has been granted by that Department with reference to certificates of origin, and the good dispositions which animate Her Majesty's Government in its commercial relations with Great Britain.

I have, &c.

(Signed) TETUAN.

Royal Order, dated November 8, 1895.

Ministry of State,

Department of Commerce.

(Translation.)

IN view of the Royal Order, transmitted by your Ministry, of the 30th October last, forwarding copy of a despatch, dated the 25th of the same month, from the Marquess of Salisbury to Sir George Bonham, in which it is requested that certificates of origin in their present form be admitted by the Spanish Government until the negotiations are concluded, and that the guarantees offered by the London Chamber of Commerce with relation to the same be deemed sufficient for those issued by it, inasmuch as it is authorised to receive declarations in judicial form, which is the same as the administration of an oath:

In view of the Royal Order, communicated the 30th of the aforesaid month by the Under-Secretary of the Ministry of State, transmitting a note, dated the 25th, addressed to your Excellency by Her Britannic Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires, requesting that for the importation of English goods into Spain the form of certificates in harmony with the Memorandum of 1893, which the Chargé d'Affaires supposes to be intentionally rejected in some Custom Houses, be admissible until the conclusion of the above-mentioned negotiations:

Considering that, according to Section 5, letter (A), of Disposition 12 of the Customs Tariff in force, the certificate must necessarily consist of an official declaration made by the producer or manufacturer, or by his authorised representative, before the local authority of the place of production or deposit in the country of origin, to the effect that the goods to which the certificate refers are of his manufacture or the produce of his industry, the name and address of the producers or manufacturers being required when the declaration is made by persons authorised by them for the purpose:

Considering that the Chambers of Commerce are limited in their power by said Disposition 12 to the receipt of the official declaration of the producer or manufacturer, or person authorised by the same, showing that the goods to which the certificate refers are of his manufacture or the produce of his industry:

Considering that, in view of the intention of the Spanish Government to manifest its constant good-will towards that of Great Britain, and to favour the legitimate interests of English commerce in so far as the proper protection of national commerce may allow, under the legal provisions in force, a Royal Order was issued by the Ministry of Finance on the 2nd September, 1886, granting the admission of English goods with certificates of origin issued by the official known there under the name of Collector of Customs, equivalent to our "Administrador de Aduanas," provided that the certificates issued by said functionary be visé by the Spanish Consulate:

Considering that the aforesaid provisions of Disposition 12 of the Customs Tariff in force, and of the Royal Order of the 2nd September, 1886, constitute, with respect to certificates of origin for goods proceeding from England, the legal régime in force in Spain, the derogation of which cannot be inferred from mistakes made in its interpretation and application, in doubtful cases, by some Custom Houses, whose conduct has rather afforded opportunity for confirming the régime in question by provoking decisions of the office of the Director-General which have always been in conformity with said legal prescriptions:

Considering that the essential terms ("comunicaciones constitutivas") of the Memorandum of 1893 do not, as regards certificates for English produce, imply any alteration whatsoever in the form harmonising with Disposition 12 of the Customs Tariff and Royal Order of 1886, with which agree the copies of certificates annexed to the present Royal Order as visible examples of the legal and admissible form, which examples correspond exactly with the respective original documents of a date subsequent to the year 1893 attached to their particular Records:

Considering that, as regards certificates issued by the English Custom Houses, the legal prescriptions defining the officially constituted position—the continuance of which is asked by the English Chargé d'Affaires—are thus established, and that they preclude the grant to the London Chamber of Commerce of the power conceded as an exception to the above-mentioned Custom Houses, and that it only remains to avoid or correct any inconvenience which, owing to the involuntary error of any Spanish Custom House, may stand in the way of the exact observance of the régime in force, His Majesty the King, and, in his name, the Queen Regent, has been pleased to order—

1. That the office of the Director-General of Customs be reminded and enjoined, for the information of all the Custom Houses in the Kingdom, to maintain the strictest observance of the above-mentioned legal provisions.

2. That the same Department be recommended, with a view to giving proper effect to the law, to observe in every case, and especially where there is any doubt, an equitable discrimination, which, without contravening the said precepts, and causing undue loss to the revenue of the Customs and improper injury to the national commerce, may facilitate the commercial relations of England and Spain, and may harmonise with the relations of mutual sympathy and respect existing between the two Governments.

Sir G. Bonham to the Marquess of Salisbury.—
(Received November 25.)

Madrid,November 22, 1895.

MY LORD,
WITH reference to my despatch of the 13th instant relating to certificates of origin, I have the honour to transmit herewith copies and translation of a Circular addressed to the various Custom Houses, stating the treatment to which English certificates of origin are to be subjected. The Circular, although dated the 12th instant, is only published in the "Eco de las Aduanas" of yesterday.

I have, &c.
(Signed) G. F. BONHAM.

Extract from "El Eco de las Aduanas,"
November 21, 1895.

Circular referring to the Admission of Certificates of Origin issued in England.
(Translation.)

Owing to protests made to the Minister of Finance and to this Central Department, it has come to knowledge that some Custom Houses, not taking into account the provisions in force, have refused English certificates of origin issued by the "Collectors of Customs," because the said documents failed to give the name of the manufacturers of the goods mentioned therein, or because the person who made the declaration of origin was not duly authorised for the purpose by the manufacturers; and as this ruling is in opposition to the Royal Order of the 2nd September, 1886, published in the "Boletin" of this Direction-General, whereby Administrators of British Custom Houses are authorised to issue certificates of origin, which Order is still in force, as also the provisions of Disposition 12 of the Customs Tariff for countries mentioned in the Circular of the 22nd October last, this Department, by order of the Minister, enjoins you, until the diplomatic negotiations on the application of the Royal Order of the 6th July last, commenced by the Ministry of State, are concluded:—

1. To observe most strictly the aforesaid Royal Order of the 2nd September, 1886, and other provisions in force relating to English certificates of origin.

2. To observe in every case, and especially where there is any doubt, an equitable discrimination, which, without contravening the said precepts, and causing undue loss to the revenue of the Customs and improper injury to the national commerce, may facilitate commercial relations between Spain and Great Britain.

3. And, following out the instructions of the Minister, to admit likewise certificates issued by English Chambers of Commerce, which have been refused owing to their not containing the names of the manufacturers, on condition that the "expediente" have been furnished by the date of this Royal Order; as also those which, under similar conditions, refer to goods ready for clearance at the date alluded to, provided that documents amending the deficiencies of the said certificates be furnished within a reasonable time by the interested parties, and that this exception shall not extend to subsequent cases.

You are requested to acknowledge receipt of the present Circular, and to be careful to comply with the same, and to transmit it to the subordinate officials in your province.

God protect, &c.
