Mr. Stuart-Wortley.

WHEREAS by a Convention made between Her Majesty and Her Majesty the Queen of the Netherlands for defining the boundaries between the British and Netherland Possessions in the Island of New Guinea and signed at The Hague on the sixteenth of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five the following Articles were amongst others agreed to.

ARTICLE I.

The boundary between the British and Netherland Possessions in New Guinea starts from the southern coast of the said Island at the middle of the mouth of the Bensbach River situated at about 141° 1' 47.9" of east longitude (meridian of Greenwich).

ARTICLE II.

The boundary proceeds to the north, following the meridian which passes through the said mouth, up to the point where that meridian meets the Fly River.

ARTICLE III.

From that point the waterway ("Thalweg") of the Fly River forms the boundary up to the 141st degree of east longitude.

ARTICLE IV.

The 141st degree of east longitude after this forms the boundary up to the point of intersection of the boundaries of the British, Netherland, and German Possessions.

And whereas certain small portions of territory have thereby been added to Her Majesty's Possession of British New Guinea and it is expedient that the laws of the said Possession should extend to the said portions of territory.

And whereas the provisions of section one of "The Rules Publication Act 1893" have been complied with.

Now therefore Her Majesty by virtue and in exercise of the powers in this behalf by "The British Settlements Act 1887" or otherwise in Her Majesty vested is pleased by and with the advice of Her Privy Council to order and it is hereby ordered as follows.

The boundary set out in the above mentioned Articles of the Convention of the sixteenth of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five shall be the western boundary of Her Majesty's Possession of British New Guinea and the laws of the said Possession shall extend to and be in force up to that boundary.

C. L. Peel.
