TUESDAY, JULY 13, 1897.

Windsor Castle, July 8, 1897.

THIS day the Archbishop of Canterbury, accompanied by certain of the Bishops and Clergy of the Province, waited upon Her Majesty to present the following Address:—

The Right Honourable Sir Matthew White Ridley, Bart., Secretary of State for the Home Department, was in attendance.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

Madam,

WE, Your Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects, the Archbishop, Bishops, and Clergy of the Province of Canterbury in Convocation assembled, approach Your Majesty with dutiful assurance of loyal and devoted attachment to Your Royal Person.

We desire to express our gratitude to Almighty God that it has pleased Him to preserve Your Majesty in health and peace to this Sixtieth Year of Your Majesty's Reign, and that throughout its happy duration, to a length of years unique in all our history, it has been so singularly marked, not only by the unprecedented growth of general prosperity and happiness, but also by the spread of sound learning and religious education, by the constantly increasing activity and influence of the Church of Christ, and by the ever deepening loyalty and attachment of the people to the Throne, in every portion of Your Majesty's Dominions, a loyalty and attachment based on the grateful recognition of Your Majesty's wise and gracious care for all good legislation and government, and Your ready and constant sympathy with the joys and sorrows of all classes of Your subjects.

The Church is deeply indebted to Your Majesty's fostering care, and we beseech Our Heavenly Father in His Good Providence long to continue to us that fostering influence for which Your Majesty's subjects are now offering up their thanksgivings in every part of the United Kingdom, the Empire of India, and in every Colony under Your Majesty's rule.

The Church and Empire are united on this memorable occasion in their desire to establish beneficent and enduring memorials which will testify to all future generations their gratitude and devotion to a good and gracious Queen, who has been through long years alike in Her hours of joy and sorrow a Nursing-Mother to Her People.

We pray that the blessing of God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Ghost may rest upon Your Majesty, and upon every member of Your Royal House. F. Cantuar, President.

Dated 14th May, 1897.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:—

"I AM deeply gratified at receiving the assurance of your loyalty to My Throne, conveyed with such warm expressions of attachment to My Person and Family.

"I heartily join My voice with yours in fervent thanksgiving to Almighty God for the blessings which He has been pleased to bestow in such abundance upon My country.

"I rejoice to witness the growth in piety, learning, and multifarious activity which has so honourably distinguished the Church of England during My Reign, and I am confident that, both at home and beyond the seas, wherever My people are She will be ever ready to offer the ministrations of Our Holy Religion for their succour, guidance, and consolation."

Windsor Castle, July 8, 1897.

THIS day the Right Honourable Sir George Faudel-Phillips, Bart., Lord Mayor of London, Aldermen Sir John W. Ellis, Bart., Sir R. Hanson, Bart., M.P., Sir Stuart Knill, Bart., Newton, F. Green, Sir Joseph Dimsdale, Treloar, Bell, Truscott, Alliston, Halse, S. Green, the Recorder, the Sheriffs of London, the Town Clerk, the City Remembrancer, and about 165 Members of the Common Council and others waited upon Her Majesty with the following Address:—

The Right Honourable Sir Matthew White Ridley, Bart., Secretary of State for the Home Department, was in attendance:—

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble, loyal and dutiful Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London in Common Council assembled.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, Your Majesty's most dutiful subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of Your Majesty's faithful City of London in Common Council assembled, venture with the sincerest feelings of loyalty and deep attachment, respectfully to approach the Throne which by the Divine will and blessing Your Majesty has occupied with such grace and wisdom for a period unparalleled and unique in our Country's history.

The Sixty Years of Your Majesty's beneficent

Rule have been remarkable beyond all previous epochs for the progress and development that have been continuously made in the arts and sciences, and the marvellous resources of civilization, and the health, prosperity, and happiness of the people have been conspicuously advanced.

We devoutly thank Almighty God that such manifold blessings have been vouchsafed to the vast Empire over which Your Majesty reigns as Queen and Empress, so wisely and so well, and we humbly pray that, in His infinite mercy, a life so dear to Her people as that of their beloved Sovereign, may long be spared to them.

John B. Monckton, Town Clerk.

Guildhall, June 17, 1897.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:—

"I THANK you for your loyal and dutiful Address; and I avail Myself of this occasion to publicly state how deeply I have been moved by the many touching tributes of affection tendered to Me by the inhabitants of London on the Commemoration of the long duration of My Reign.

"It affords Me great pleasure to reflect that during the period within My recollection, in which by the blessing of God, so much has been done, through the genius and energy of My people, to advance those peaceful arts, sciences, and crafts which promote the welfare of humanity at large, the citizens of London have maintained their world-wide reputation for hospitality, liberality, and enterprise; and the past record of the Corporation inspires Me with the confident hope that they will in future worthily exercise the powers entrusted to them for the benefit of their fellow-citizens."

Windsor Castle, July 8, 1897.

THIS day the Right Honourable Sir George Fandel-Phillips, Bart., Lord Mayor of London, Charles John Todd, Esq., William Henry Nicholls, Esq., and eighty-four others, Her Majesty's Lieutenants for the City of London, waited upon Her Majesty with the following Address:—

The Right Honourable Sir Matthew White Ridley, Bart., Secretary of State for the Home Department, was in attendance.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty. The humble and dutiful Address of the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen and other Your Majesty's Lieutenants for the City of London.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Lord Mayor, the Aldermen, and other Your Majesty's Lieutenants for the City of London, beg leave to approach Your Majesty for the purpose of expressing our most heartfelt congratulations on the completion of the Sixtieth Year of Your Majesty's Reign.

During this unprecedentedly long period Your Majesty has ruled over Your subjects in every inhabited quarter of the Globe, with a wisdom, impartiality, and beneficence unexampled in the history of the world, sympathising with them in times of trouble, and rejoicing with them in seasons of prosperity.

The success which, under Providence, has attended Your Majesty's most benign Rule is attested by the general welfare of all classes of Your Majesty's subjects, and by their devoted affection for Your Majesty and Your Royal House.

The progress of the arts and sciences, resulting in great scientific discoveries, and the material improvement in the condition of the peoples of diverse races comprised within the vast British Empire, alike bear witness to the wisdom of Your Majesty's Government, under which the national prosperity, secure in the privileges and liberties of a constitution which is the admiration of all nations, has exhibited a development to which no parallel can be found.

We humbly offer to Your Majesty our warmest felicitations on the auspicious occasion, which Your Majesty's loyal and affectionate subjects are now celebrating with universal rejoicing, and with thankfulness to the Gracious Providence by which Your Majesty has been so long sustained; and we pray that it may please the Almighty to prolong Your Majesty's reign for many years to come, in the enjoyment of health and in the continued possession of the affection of Your Majesty's devoted subjects.

By order of Court,

H. Grose Smith, Clerk.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:—

"I THANK you for your loyal and dutiful Address.

"The great advance which has taken place within My recollection in the prosperity and welfare of My subjects fills me with gratitude to Almighty God, and I pray that the peoples of all races within the borders of My Empire may ever be blessed with His Grace and Favour."

Windsor Castle, July 8, 1897.

THIS day W. J. Collins, Esq., M.D., J.P., Chairman of the London County Council, R. M. Beachcroft, Esq., Vice-Chairman, A. M. Torrance, Esq., J.P., Deputy Chairman, and one hundred Members of the Council waited upon Her Majesty with the following Address:—

The Right Honourable Sir Matthew White Ridley, Bart., Secretary of State for the Home Department, was in attendance.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Chairman and Members of the London County Council, desire to lay before Your Majesty an expression of our loyal and dutiful attachment, and of our most sincere congratulations on the approaching completion of the Sixtieth Year of Your Majesty's beneficent Reign.

In common with our fellow-subjects throughout the Empire we rejoice at the unprecedented length to which Your Majesty's constitutional rule has already extended, and fervently trust that Your Majesty's dominion and high example may be long continued to the great advantage and prosperity of all classes of Your subjects.

The past Sixty Years have been fruitful beyond all previous experience in the continuous development of arts and sciences, in diffusion of knowledge, the expansion of commerce, and the amelioration of the condition of all workers in the great centres of industry.

As the Governing Body of the Metropolis of the Empire we recall with gratitude and satisfaction the vast improvements which have been effected in the Local Government of large towns of this country under laws which have come into operation during Your Majesty's Reign. It is our privilege to minister to the wants of London in regard to matters on which depend the good government and health of this the greatest city the world has ever seen, and we believe that it is owing largely to the advance which wise and prudent legislation has fostered in the matter of municipal government that the London of to-day compares so favourably in health and safety, in comfort and beauty, in individual welfare and social opportunity, with the condition of the Metropolis when Your Majesty ascended the Throne.

We believe we are expressing the feelings of the millions of London citizens when we say that in our rejoicings in this ever memorable year in the history of our country we gratefully recall the many occasions on which Your Majesty's active interest and ever-ready sympathy with the joys and sorrows of Your subjects have been graciously manifested, and we earnestly pray that Your unexampled and illustrious Reign may continue for many years to come.

W. J. Collins, Chairman of the Council.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:—

"I THANK you for your loyal and dutiful Address, and I avail myself of this occasion to publicly state how deeply I have been moved by the many touching tributes of affection tendered to Me by the inhabitants of London on the commemoration of the long duration of My Reign.

"It is with just satisfaction that you point out how favourably the London of to-day compares as regards health, safety, and beauty with the London of sixty years ago as well as in respect of the individual welfare of its inhabitants. The remarkable progress already made in this direction since My Accession, and the increased interest now taken by the public in municipal affairs, inspire Me with the confident hope that you will ever strive to further enhance the welfare of the vast population of the Metropolis, and that in the execution of your important duties you will do all that lies in your power to keep London worthy of its place as the Capital of the Empire."

Windsor Castle, July 10, 1897.

THIS day the Most Noble the Marquis of Salisbury, K.G., Chancellor of the University of Oxford, and a Deputation from that University waited upon Her Majesty to present the following Address, which was handed to Her Majesty:—

The Right Honourable Sir Matthew White Ridley, Bart., Secretary of State for the Home Department, was in attendance.

A loyal and dutiful Address to the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty on the Sixtieth Anniversary of Her Accession.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Oxford, desire to take our loyal and loving part in the expression of national joy on the happy occasion of the Sixtieth Anniversary of Your Majesty's Accession. To our heartfelt gratitude to Almighty God for the many blessings which Your beneficent sway has secured for Your vast Empire, we would add our special thanksgiving to-day that Your Reign has been mercifully extended over so many years. Happy, indeed, is our Nation which can proudly boast that the longest reign vouchsafed to an English Sovereign has also been the best! The sixty years which have elapsed since England welcomed its young Queen to the Throne have comprised a most eventful era in our annals. The vast development and the consolidation of the British Empire and its dependencies, the rapid growth of scientific discovery, the improvement of the mechanical arts, the humanizing effects of new means of intercommunication between distant lands, and the unprecedented extension of commercial enterprise, have marvellously changed the world which our grandsires knew; while the march of education, the expansion of civil and religious liberty, and the widening of political responsibility, have given new tone and colour to English character. The historian of Your Majesty's Reign may have to record that this progress has not been secured without many grave anxieties and struggles at home and abroad, but he will gratefully acknowledge that Your Reign has been marked by many happy years of peace, and it will be his proud task to show how consistently and powerfully Your Royal Influence has been directed to this end, and how largely our national prosperity has been due, under the favour of Heaven, to the singleness of purpose and calm resolution with which You have guided Your people's destinies.

Among all Your Majesty's subjects there are none who regard Your Throne and Person with more love and devotion than the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of this loyal and ancient University, which Your Majesty has graciously permitted to be bound by close and endearing ties to Your Royal House.

But, Madam, we shall leave our deepest feelings unexpressed unless we are suffered to bear our humble testimony to the high example of those personal virtues which have taught us to look to You, not only as Queen of Your great Realm, but as the Friend and Mother of Your people. Your Majesty's munificent works of charity, Your unfailing sympathy with distress, and Your condescension in sharing Your own joys and sorrows with Your loving subjects, have knit a lifelong bond between You and them—such as no other nation has ever known.

That the remaining years of Your Majesty's pure and beneficent reign may be crowned with the blessing of peace and prosperity is the earnest prayer of Your faithful and devoted subjects.

Given at our House of Convocation under our Common Seal, this twenty-ninth day of June, in the year of our Lord 1897.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:—

"IT is a great pleasure to Me to receive in person your Loyal Address of Congratulation on the completion of the Sixtieth Year of My Reign.

"The immense progress which has been made in Education during the last half-century has not only been one of the greatest glories of My Reign, but has, I am convinced, been one of the chief means of effecting the material prosperity and social and political welfare which have been vouchsafed to My people.

"I am confident that your ancient University will never decline from the high standard of learning to which it has attained, and that under its wise discipline successive generations of youth will, for centuries to come, grow up as loyal, humane, and accomplished citizens."

Windsor Castle, July 10, 1897.

THIS day His Grace the Duke of Devonshire, K.G., Chancellor of the University of Cambridge, and a deputation from that University waited upon Her Majesty to present the following Address, which was handed to Her Majesty :—

The Right Honourable Sir Matthew White Ridley, Bart., Secretary of State for the Home Department, was in attendance.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please Your Majesty.

WE, the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Cambridge, ask Your gracious permission to approach You with the expression of our loyal and heartfelt congratulations on the completion of the Sixtieth Year of Your Majesty's Reign. It is among the manifold benefits which, under the blessing of Divine Providence, Your Majesty has conferred upon Your subjects, that their devotion to the Throne and Person of the Sovereign has become a bond of ever-increasing strength between all parts of Your Empire and all classes of Your people. Those sentiments of profound loyalty, gratitude, and affection which ten years ago were so signally manifested, are but stronger and deeper to-day, when a Reign, unique in our history for the extent and variety of its beneficence, has become unique also in respect of the term during which that beneficence has been enjoyed.

While in every department of the National life the Reign of Your Majesty has been a period of unexampled expansion and progress, nowhere, perhaps, has the advance been more remarkable than in the field of Education. More and more this great subject, in all its bearings, has attracted the thoughtful attention of the public, while its vital moment to the welfare of the Nation has been more and more clearly apprehended. In this salutary movement Your Majesty's ancient Universities have not failed to participate. Retaining unimpaired their distinctive traditions, they have come to embrace a larger portion of the community within the sphere of their activity; and without detriment to those older studies of which they have long been the guardians, they have welcomed and fostered each new development of Science. The Reign of Your Majesty will be recorded in their history, not only as a period of vigorous growth, but also as a time in which they enlarged the scope of their usefulness to the nation, and became yet more fully equipped for the efficient service of Church and State.

For us, in the University of Cambridge, such a retrospect is inseparable from the thought of those personal ties which have given our University a share alike in the joys and in the sorrows of Your Majesty and of Your Royal House. Especially do we cherish a grateful remembrance of the years during which Your Illustrious Consort, as Chancellor of the University, evinced so deep and constant an interest in all that made for its good. We rejoice to think that, in a place where the power of a noble example appeals with an ever-fresh force to the youth of successive generations, the traditions of our highest Academic office should be thus linked with the great qualities which adorned his life and now consecrate his memory.

We humbly pray that the blessing of Almighty God may rest upon Your Majesty in the future, as it has been with You in the past; still sustaining You in all Your care for the people whose devoted love You have won; still guiding all Your counsels to the well-being of the greatest Empire which the world has seen; and so prospering Your reign, even to the end, that in all time to come it shall be remembered as an age which advanced the happiness of the human race.

L. S.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :—

"I THANK you for your loyal Address and for your warm expressions of attachment to My Throne and Person.

"It is with the greatest satisfaction and pride that I see how your great University, of which My beloved Consort was once Chancellor, has expanded to meet the ever widening necessities of the times, and is now imparting instruction in a liberal variety of studies to Students drawn from various classes of the Community, some of whom have hitherto been deprived of the great advantages of University Education.

"I trust that your excellent work may continue under the Divine Blessing to the increasing honour of the University and the benefit of My People."

Windsor Castle, July 10, 1897.

THIS day the Right Honourable Lord Herschell, G.C.B., Chancellor of the University of London, and a Deputation from that University waited upon Her Majesty to present the following Address, which was handed to Her Majesty :—

The Right Honourable Sir Matthew White Ridley, Bart., Secretary of State for the Home Department, was in attendance.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

May it please Your Majesty,

WE, Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, Fellows, and Graduates of the University of London, humbly beg leave to offer to Your Majesty our hearty congratulations upon the auspicious occasion of the Sixtieth Anniversary of Your Majesty's Accession to the Throne.

Whilst, in common with all Your Majesty's faithful subjects, we are deeply sensible of the abundant blessings which have attended Your Majesty's Reign, the occasion is one of especial interest to this University, inasmuch as it was founded by a Royal Charter granted by Your Majesty in the first year of that reign. The work accomplished by this University has thus been entirely comprised within the period of Your Majesty's beneficent rule.

That Your Majesty may long be spared to reign over a contented and loyal people is the fervent prayer of Your Majesty's most dutiful subjects, the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, Fellows, and Graduates of the University of London.

Signed on behalf of the Fellows,

Herschell, Chancellor.

Henry E. Roscoe, Vice-Chancellor.

Signed on behalf of the Graduates,

E. H. Bush, Chairman of Convocation.

To which Address Her Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer :—

"I THANK you for your loyal and dutiful Address.

"I am much pleased at being able, in Person, to receive your expressions of attachment to My Throne and Person, and I heartily congratulate the University of London on the happy fruits of its efforts for raising and maintaining a high standard of liberal Education during the sixty years of its life, which dates almost from My Accession."

Whitehall, July 12, 1897.

THE following Addresses and Resolutions of Congratulation to the Queen on the occasion of Her Majesty completing the Sixtieth Year of Her Reign; having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir Matthew White Ridley, Bart., Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, have been laid before Her Majesty, who has been pleased to receive the same very graciously:—

To Her Most Gracious Majesty The QUEEN.

May it please Your Majesty,

WE, the County Council of Durham, respectfully venture to approach Your Majesty with an expression of our loyal and hearty congratulations on the completion of the Sixtieth Year of Your happy Reign.

Deeply sensible of the wisdom and beneficence with which Your Majesty has governed Your vast and widespread Empire, and of the great increase in prosperity which has been enjoyed by Your Majesty's subjects since Your Majesty's accession to the Throne, We beg humbly to assure Your Majesty of our heartfelt sense of the many blessings which this country has experienced under Your rule, and of our loyal devotion to Your Person.

Signed by order and on behalf of the County Council of Durham, this 20th day of June, 1897.

Arthur Pease,
Chairman.

L. S.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please Your Majesty,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Ancient and Royal Borough of Salford, desire most respectfully to approach Your Majesty with sincere felicitations that Almighty God has vouchsafed to Your Majesty prolonged life and health to complete the Sixtieth Year of Your Majesty's beneficent reign over a loyal and contented people.

The innumerable benefits which we have enjoyed during Your Majesty's long reign in the developments of trades, manufactures, and commerce, in the cheapening of the necessities of life, and in the extension of personal and national liberty by legislation in Municipal and Imperial Government have inspired in us sentiments of contentment and happiness.

Moreover, we have been privileged during the same period to see achieved many other triumphs on the line of progressive civilization. Education, in its elementary forms, has become the heritage of all the children of our land, affording them ample opportunities to rise from elementary to higher grade and technical instruction.

Art, Science, Philosophy, and Literature have, by progressive steps, exercised their elevating influence in the higher culture of the people. Human suffering, in its physical forms, has been greatly alleviated by the marvellous strides made in Medicine and Surgery.

Religion, philanthropy, and social goodwill have permeated the land so largely during Your Majesty's unparalleled reign that every village and hamlet show evidences of their ameliorating influence. We therefore unite in the universal prayer offered up by all the loyal subjects of Your Majesty's vast Empire, that Your Majesty may yet enjoy in health and strength a further extension of years to reign over Your Majesty's faithful, dutiful, and loving subjects.

Given under our Common Seal, this 2nd day of June, 1897.

Richard Mottram,
Mayor.

Saml. Brown,
Town Clerk.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble Address of Your Majesty's Justices of the Peace of the County of Southampton, in Quarter Sessions assembled the 21st day of June, 1897:—

May it please Your Majesty,

WE, the Magistrates of the Court of Quarter Sessions for the County of Southampton, humbly offer to Your Majesty our heartfelt congratulations on the Sixtieth Anniversary of the beneficent reign with which it has pleased Almighty God to bless Your Majesty and the Empire. That Your Majesty may be long spared to rule over a grateful and loyal people in health and prosperity is our fervent prayer.

Melville Portal,
Chairman of Quarter Sessions.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

The humble, loyal and dutiful Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Premier Cinque Port and County Borough of Hastings.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, Your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Premier Cinque Port and County Borough of Hastings, the Corporation of the Borough, in Council assembled, desire to tender to Your Majesty our heartfelt congratulations upon the attainment of a Sixty Years Reign, an event which is almost unique in the history of Europe.

We acknowledge, with feelings of the deepest gratitude, the prosperity and advancement which the Empire has enjoyed under Your Majesty's beneficent rule, and the extension of the great principles of Christianity; the improvement in the condition of the people and the wonderful development in the fields of science and literature, which are such marked features of Your Majesty's reign.

We also heartily congratulate Your Majesty on the great development and expansion which have taken place in various parts of Your Colonial Empire, during Your Majesty's reign.

We recall, with pride and pleasure, the honour which was done to the borough by the visit, during girlhood, of Your Majesty, for the benefit of health.

We humbly pray that Your Majesty may be spared for many years to reign over a happy, contented, and prosperous People, and that the richest blessings of Almighty God may abound to Your Majesty, the Royal Family, and all Your Majesty's subjects.

Given under our Common Seal this 21st day of June, 1897.

Stanley T. Weston, Mayor.

Ben. F. Meadows, Town Clerk.

L. S.

To Her Most Gracious Majesty the QUEEN.

May it please Your Majesty,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Borough of Ryde, venture humbly to approach Your Majesty, and with feelings of profound respect to offer our heartfelt congratulations on the completion by Your Majesty of a Reign of Sixty Years over a loyal and prosperous people.

We fully share in the rejoicing and deep thankfulness with which all hearts are now filled, that Your Majesty's life has been prolonged for so many precious years of our national life.

We gratefully call to mind the advancement our beloved country has made during Your Most Gracious Majesty's unparalleled reign—the many wise and humane laws enacted, the development of commerce, the marvellous growth of Your great Empire, and the general prosperity enjoyed by all classes during Your Majesty's beneficent rule of the past sixty years. It is our earnest prayer that the Almighty, who has guided and sustained Your Majesty through Your long and eventful reign, so fruitful in blessing to our country, may still grant abundant blessings to Your Majesty and to each Member of the Royal Family, thus crowning Your Majesty's future days with peace and glory.

Given under our Corporate Seal at a Meeting of the Council specially convened this 21st day of June, 1897.

Ernest Groves, Mayor.

Chas. G. Vincent, Town Clerk.

County of Carnarvon to wit.

At a Meeting of the Carnarvonshire County Council, held at Carnarvon on Thursday, the 6th day of May, 1897,

IT was unanimously resolved that this Council humbly offers to Her Majesty the Queen their loyal and hearty congratulations upon the completion of the Sixtieth Year of Her Reign, and earnestly pray that the blessing of the Almighty may continue to rest upon Her Majesty, and that She may long be spared to rule over a peaceful, prosperous, and contented people.

Edward Jones, Chairman.

J. H. Bodvel-Roberts, Clerk of the County Council.

To Her Most Gracious Majesty QUEEN VICTORIA, Empress of India, Defender of the Faith.

The following Resolution was unanimously passed by the Glamorgan County Council at the Meeting held at the Glyn Hall, Neath, on the 17th day of June, 1897.

"THAT we, the Glamorgan County Council, desire to offer Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria our loyal and hearty congratulations upon the occasion of the completion of the Sixtieth Year of Her Majesty's Reign, and to express our devout hope that by Divine Providence Her Majesty may long be spared to rule in peace over the millions of her loving subjects in this great and prosperous Empire."

The Seal of the Glamorgan County Council was hereunto annexed on the twenty-first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, in the presence of

Frederick H. Jotham, a Member of the County Council.

W. E. H. Allen, Deputy Clerk of the County Council.

To Her Most Gracious Majesty the QUEEN.

May it please Your Majesty,

WE, the President and Council of the London Chamber of Commerce (Incorporated), representing the Commercial and Mercantile Community of the Metropolis, most humbly approach Your Majesty and sincerely offer, with profound respect, our heartfelt congratulations on Your Majesty having completed a Reign of unparalleled duration in the history of our country.

Under Your Majesty's wise and beneficent rule, that Commerce with which we are identified has grown, developed, and is extending in an unprecedented measure. The widening of the bounds of Empire in the last sixty years, while increasing Your Majesty's dominions, has promoted fresh outlets for the energies of Your people and new markets for the trade of the United Kingdom, the Colonies, and Dependencies: and with the world at large British commercial relations have been advanced and strengthened.

We fervently hope and pray that Providence may long spare Your Majesty to continue Your rule over a loyal, a prosperous, and a contented people.

Given under the Common Seal of the London Chamber of Commerce (Incorporated) this eighteenth day of June, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven.

Albert K. Rollit,

President of the Chamber.

W. H. Willans,

Chairman of the Council.

Kenric B. Murray, Secretary.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please Your Majesty.

WE, Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the President, Council, and Members of the Victoria Institute, gladly embrace the opportunity of once more approaching Your Majesty and tendering our heartfelt congratulations on the completion of the Sixtieth Year of Your Majesty's beneficent Reign.

We acknowledge with thankfulness that in the growth of the Empire abroad, in large measures of benevolent legislation at home, in literature, and in the investigation of the truths of Philosophy and Science (with which it is this Institute's privilege to be specially connected), Your Majesty's Reign may confidently challenge comparison with those of our greatest and most illustrious Sovereigns. But we particularly rejoice to believe that the humblest and poorer classes in these Dominions may identify Your Majesty's Reign with a sensible diminution of ignorance, poverty, and suffering during the years which have elapsed since Your Majesty ascended the Throne, and that they may gratefully remember that every movement for the greater glory of God and the improvement of Your people has received the impulse of Your Majesty's gracious sympathy and support.

We desire to assure Your Majesty of our dutiful and affectionate attachment to Your Majesty's Person and our loyalty to the Throne, and we earnestly pray that Your Majesty may long be spared to promote the happiness and receive the grateful homage of Your Majesty's subjects.

Signed on behalf of the Victoria Institute,

G. G. Stokes, President,

Halsbury, Vice-President,

Francis W. H. Petrie, Hon. Sec. to Council.

Address from Wicklow Town Commissioners.
To Her Most Gracious Majesty the QUEEN.

May it please Your Majesty,

WE, the Town Commissioners of Wicklow (incorporated by Royal Charter), unanimously desire to address Your Majesty on this most auspicious occasion and to congratulate Your Majesty upon having attained the Sixtieth Year of Your illustrious and memorable Reign. We rejoice also, in the privilege thus afforded to us, of expressing our sincere hope that Your Majesty may long be spared to watch over the interests of Your people and enjoy the loyal devotion of Your subjects, whose peace and prosperity has so greatly and rapidly advanced since Your Majesty ascended the Throne.

Signed for and by order of the Wicklow Town Commissioners.

The Address of the Royal Dublin Society.

May it please Your Majesty.

ON behalf of the Royal Dublin Society we the President and Council tender our sincere congratulations on the completion of the Sixtieth Year of Your Majesty's Reign.

The Royal Dublin Society has the honour of being one of the oldest institutions of the kind in the United Kingdom. For one hundred and sixty-six years we have laboured to promote Science, Art, Industry, and more especially Agriculture in this country. For more than one third of that long period Your Majesty has been the Patron of the Royal Dublin Society.

It is our pleasing duty to record that in the long period during which Your Majesty presided over the destinies of the British Empire the labours of the Royal Dublin Society have from year to year been recorded with ever-increasing success and encouragement.

In the advancement of science, the marvellous development of which in all its branches forms so characteristic a feature of Your Majesty's Reign, the sphere of usefulness of the Royal Dublin Society has undergone rapid development. To widen the bounds of knowledge and extend our control of the forces of nature must ever be an arduous, often an unappreciated, task. Never at any time in its history has the Royal Dublin Society entered upon that task more hopefully or with brighter prospects than now in the Sixtieth Year of Your Majesty's illustrious Reign.

In the application of knowledge, whether in the sphere of Industry or of Art, new economic conditions, constant, though often unseen, in their operation, are ever imposing new difficulties. We in Ireland, in common with all parts of Your Majesty's Dominions, have experienced these difficulties and sought by wise adaptation to face and overcome them. Our efforts have not been unrewarded, and we hail with the deepest satisfaction the growth in this country of a healthy spirit of self-reliance, and an increased desire to seek prosperity by industrial means.

We take this auspicious opportunity to assure Your Majesty of our loyal and deep devotion, and we pray that long may You live to rule the world-wide Empire of which we are proud to form a part.

BELPER FAIR.

THE Secretary of State for the Home Department hereby gives notice that by Memorial dated the 30th day of June, 1897, a representation has been duly made to him by the Urban District Council of Belper that a Fair has been annually held on the 31st day of October and the 1st day of November in each year, and that it would be for the convenience and advantage of the public that such Fair should in future be held on the Thursday and Friday nearest to the 30th of October in each year.

On the 5th day of August, 1897, the Secretary of State will take such representation into consideration, and any person who may desire to object to the alteration of the date for holding the Fair, should intimate his objections to the Secretary of State before that date.

Whitehall, July 6, 1897.

GENERAL ORDER of the Local Government Board: Outfits for Children sent to Service:—

To the Guardians of the Poor of the several Poor Law Unions for the time being in England and Wales;—

And to all others whom it may concern.

WHEREAS by certain General and other Orders, addressed by the Poor Law Commissioners, the Poor Law Board, and by Us, the Local Government Board, respectively, to the Boards of Guardians of Poor Law Unions in England and Wales, provision is made with respect to the grant of relief to paupers chargeable to any of the said Unions, and with respect to the boarding or boarding-out of pauper children;

And whereas it is expedient to make further provision as hereinafter mentioned with respect to the relief which may be given to children who have been boarded or boarded-out by a Board of Guardians, or are otherwise chargeable to a Poor Law Union, on their going to service:

Now therefore, in pursuance of the powers given to Us by the Statutes in that behalf, We hereby Order that, from and after the date hereof, the following provisions shall have effect, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any of the aforesaid Orders; that is to say,—

The Guardians of any Poor Law Union may, when they deem it expedient, incur a reasonable expenditure in providing an outfit for any child chargeable to such Union, on such child being sent to service by the Guardians, or, if the child is boarded or boarded-out under the supervision of a Boarding-out Committee in accordance with the Regulations from time to time applicable to the boarding or boarding-out of pauper children, on such child being sent to service by the Guardians or otherwise.

Given under the Seal of Office of the Local Government Board, this tenth day of July, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven.

Henry Chaplin,
President.

Hugh Owen, Secretary.

In the High Court of Justice in Ireland.—
Chancery Division.
Vice-Chancellor.

In the Matter of the Irish Shipowners' Company Limited and in the Matter of the Companies (Memorandum of Association) Act 1890.

NOTICE is hereby given that a petition was on the 23rd day of June 1897 presented to the Right Hon. the Lord Chancellor by the above named Company to confirm Special Resolutions of the Company passed unanimously at an Extraordinary General Meeting of the said Company held on the 17th day of May 1897 and subsequently unanimously confirmed at an Extraordinary General Meeting of said Company held on the 3rd day of June 1897 and which said resolutions are as follows:—"1. That the Memorandum of Association of the Company may be altered by substituting for No. 5 in the said Memorandum the following clauses:—5. That the capital of the Company consist of £400,000 divided into 2,000 ordinary shares of £100 each, and 2,000 preference shares of £100 each, and to be called preference shares such preference shares to be issued at such times, to such persons, and upon such terms, as the Directors in their absolute discretion may from time to time determine, and have the following rights viz.:—(a.) The holders of such preference shares shall be entitled to receive out of the profits of the Company, a cumulative preferential dividend at the rate of £5 per cent. per annum on the amount for the time being paid up on their shares, payable half-yearly on each first day of April and first day of October. (b.) In the event of the Company being wound up, the surplus assets shall, after paying liabilities, be applicable, first, to repaying to the holders of such preference shares the full amount paid up thereon before any amount is repaid to the holders of the ordinary shares of the Company, and, subject as aforesaid, such surplus assets shall belong to and be divided among the holders of ordinary shares. 6. The holders of such preference shares shall not, as such, be entitled to notice of, or to attend and vote at, any General Meeting of the Company, but may vote at any Meeting of preference shareholders convened pursuant to the next resolution, or at any poll demanded thereat. 7. The said preference shares shall be issued, allotted, and held upon the distinct agreement and understanding that the preferential rights as regards dividend and repayment of capital above conferred shall not be interfered with, except with the approval by Special Resolution of such preference shareholders, passed and confirmed at a Meeting thereof specially summoned for the purpose, and no shares of the Company having priority to or ranking equally with said preference shares shall be issued by the Company without such approval as aforesaid. 8. All the provisions of the Company's Articles as to General Meetings of ordinary shareholders shall apply as far as practicable to Meetings of preference shareholders summoned pursuant to the last clause, except that the quorum in the case of preference shareholders shall be two-thirds of the nominal amount of the issued preference shares, either present in person or represented by proxy, and every Special Resolution passed as aforesaid at any such Meetings shall bind all preference shareholders. 9. Fully paid preference shares shall not be subject to the restrictions imposed by Nos. 11, 12, 16, and 18 of the Company's Articles of Association, and the Directors shall not have power to refuse to register a transfer of any such fully paid shares on any grounds whatever. 10. The Directors shall be and are hereby empowered to declare and pay the half-yearly dividends on said preference shares. 2. That the Articles of Association may be altered in accordance with the above proposed alterations in the Memorandum of Association." And notice is further given that the said petition is directed to be heard before the Right Honourable the Vice-Chancellor on the 26th day of July 1897 and any person interested in the said Company whether as creditor, shareholder, or otherwise desirous to oppose the making of an Order for the confirmation of the said resolutions under the above Acts should appear at the time of hearing by himself or his Counsel for the purpose and a copy of the said petition will be furnished to any such person requiring the same by the Company's undersigned Solicitors on payment of the regulated charge for the same.—Dated this 9th day of July 1897.
