7. Where under any enactment of the Statute Law of England, which is applicable to the Protectorate, it is provided that the powers or jurisdiction of two Justices of the Peace may or shall be exercised by a Stipendiary Magistrate sitting alone, such powers or jurisdiction may or shall be exercised by the Commissioner and by every Sub-Commissioner and District Officer within his province or district.

8. In Article 45 of the Principal Order the words "and published as the Commissioner directs" shall be substituted for the words "and published as he directs."

9. All Queen's Regulations made or to be made under Articles 45 and 46 of the Principal Order shall, unless a contrary intention appears, extend to natives, and may, in relation to natives, comprise such special provisions, modifications, and penalties as the Commissioner may think fit, having regard to the powers of Native Courts and other considerations.

Any breach of Queen's Regulations by a native shall be cognizable only in the proper Native Court.

10. The power of making Queen's Regulations under Article 45 of the Principal Order is hereby extended to the making of Regulations with respect to the registration of documents purporting or operating to create, declare, assign, limit, or extinguish any right, title, or interest in or over immoveable property situate in the Protectorate, and any Regulations under this Article may prescribe the period within which any documents are to be registered, and such penalties for non-registration, whether by stamp duties or otherwise, and whether in lieu of or in addition to the penalties mentioned in the said Article 45 as may seem fit.

Provided that nothing in any Regulations made under this Article shall make any instrument inadmissible in evidence in any criminal proceedings.

As from the time when any Regulations under this Article come into force Article 47 of the Principal Order shall be repealed, without prejudice to anything done or suffered thereunder.

11. The Commissioner may, by any Queen's Regulations made under the powers of the Principal Order or this Order, fix such penalties for the breach of any Regulations as may seem proper, and where no penalty is so fixed a person found guilty of such breach shall on conviction be liable to a fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or to imprisonment of either kind, which may extend to two months, or both, in addition to such forfeiture as is mentioned in Article 45 of the Principal Order.

12. Every person subject to the Principal Order shall be liable to be summoned as a witness in a Native Court; provided that where the officer holding the Native Court is not a European British subject, the summons or process must be countersigned by a Judge of a Native Court who is a European British subject, and any proceedings against any person for disobeying such summons or process must be taken in the proper Court having jurisdiction in the like cases under this Order.

13. Expressions defined in any Order in Council relating to the Protectorate shall have the same respective meanings in any Rules, Regulations, or Orders made under the authority of that Order, unless other provision is made or the context otherwise requires.

Sir Fleetwood Edwards.

WHEREAS, by Treaty, grant, usage, sufferance, and other lawful means Her Majesty the Queen has power and jurisdiction in the Empire of Japan:

And whereas the exercise of the power and jurisdiction aforesaid is now regulated by "The China and Japan Order in Council, 1865," and subsequent amending Orders in Council:

And whereas, by Treaty between Her Majesty and the Emperor of Japan, signed at London on the sixteenth July, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, it was agreed that from the date when that Treaty should come into force certain Conventions, Arrangements, and Agreements with respect to Her Majesty's jurisdiction in Japan should cease to be binding, and in consequence that the jurisdiction then exercised by British Courts in Japan, and all the exceptional privileges, exemptions, and immunities then enjoyed by British subjects as a part of or appurtenant to such jurisdiction should absolutely cease and determine, and thereafter all such jurisdiction should be assumed and exercised by Japanese Courts.

And whereas the said Treaty came into force on the seventeenth day of July, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, but it has been agreed by and between Her Majesty and the Emperor of Japan, that its operation as regards

Her Majesty's Consular jurisdiction, should be suspended until the fourth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine.

PART IV.—Criminal Matters.

10. Subject to the other provisions of this Order, the Code of Criminal Procedure and the other enactments relating to the administration of criminal justice in India, for the time being applicable to the Protectorate, shall have effect as if the Protectorate were a Presidency of India.

For the purposes of those enactments—

(a.) The Consul-General shall hold and form a Court to be called the Protectorate Court, which shall have all the powers of a Sessions Court in India; and

(b.) The Protectorate Court shall in relation to all Courts within the Protectorate have the same appellate jurisdiction and the same powers of revision as are possessed by a High Court in India; and

(c.) The powers both of the Governor-General in Council and of the Local Government under those enactments shall be exercisable by the Secretary of State, or with his previous or subsequent assent, by the Consul-General.

12. Any act which if done in British India would be an offence against the law for the time being in force in British India relating to trademarks, merchandise marks, copyright, designs, or inventions, shall, if done in the Protectorate, be an offence punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two months, or with a fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

13.—(1.) In cases of murder or culpable homicide, if either the death or the criminal act which wholly or partly caused the death happened in the Protectorate, a Court acting under this Order shall have the like jurisdiction over any person charged either as a principal offender or as an abettor, as if both the criminal act and the death had happened in the Protectorate.

(2.) In the case of any offence committed on the high seas, or within the Admiralty jurisdiction, by any person who at the time of committing such offence was on board a British ship, or by any British subject on board a foreign ship to which he did not belong, a Court acting under this Order shall have jurisdiction as if the offence had been committed within the Protectorate.

(3.) In cases tried under this Article no different sentence can be passed from the sentence which could be passed in England if the offence were tried there.

14. When a sentence of death has been passed by the Protectorate Court the Consul-General shall consider whether it is or is not desirable that the sentence should be reconsidered by the Secretary of State.

If he considers that it is so desirable, he shall append to the Minutes a certificate under his hand to that effect, together with such observations as he may think fit, and shall, at the earliest opportunity, transmit the same to the Secretary of State.

If he considers that it is not so desirable, he shall, not sooner than seven days after the passing of the sentence, certify on the Minutes his confirmation of the sentence by writing under his hand.

The Secretary of State may confirm or remit or commute the sentence.

A sentence of death shall not be carried into effect until it is confirmed by the Consul-General or the Secretary of State, as provided in this Article, but upon such confirmation shall be carried into effect according to law.

When the Secretary of State commutes a sentence, the commuted sentence shall be carried into effect as if the Protectorate Court had passed, and had authority to pass, that sentence.

15.—(a.) The Consul-General may, if he thinks fit, by general order, prescribe the manner in which, and the places in the Protectorate at which, sentences of imprisonment are to be carried into execution.

(b.) The Consul-General may, if he thinks fit, in any case, by warrant under his hand and official seal, cause an offender convicted and sentenced to imprisonment before the Court to be sent and removed to, and imprisoned in, any place either in the Protectorate or in Aden.

16. Where an offender convicted before the Court is sentenced to imprisonment, and the Consul-General, proceeding under section seven of "The Foreign Jurisdiction Act, 1890," authority in that behalf being hereby given to him, considers it expedient that the sentence should be carried into effect within Her Majesty's dominions, the place shall be a place in some part of Her Majesty's dominions out of the United Kingdom, the Government whereof consents that offenders may be sent thither under this Article.

17.—(1.) Where it is shown by evidence on oath, to the satisfaction of the Consul-General, that any person subject to this Order has committed, or is about to commit, an offence against this Order, or is otherwise conducting himself so as to be dangerous to peace and good order in the Protectorate or is endeavouring to excite enmity between the people of the Protectorate and Her Majesty, or is intriguing against Her Majesty's power and authority in the Protectorate, the Consul-General may, if he thinks fit, by order under his hand and official seal, prohibit that person from being in the Protectorate, during any time therein specified, not exceeding two years, or may order him to be deported in manner provided by this Order.

(2.) If the person named in the order of prohibition fails to obey, or acts in contravention of the order—

(i.) He shall be guilty of an offence against this Order, and on conviction thereof, shall be liable to imprisonment for any term not exceeding two years, without prejudice to the operation of the order of prohibition.

(ii.) Whether the offender has been convicted of, or imprisoned for, that offence or not, the Consul-General may, if he thinks fit, order him to be deported.

(3.) The Consul-General, by order under his hand and official seal, may vary any order of prohibition (not extending the duration thereof), and may at any time revoke the same.

(4.) The Consul-General shall forthwith report to the Secretary of State every order made by him under this Article, and the grounds thereof, and the proceedings thereunder.

18.—(a.) Where a person is convicted of an offence, the Court before which he is convicted may, if it thinks fit, require him to give security to the satisfaction of the Court for his future good behaviour, and for that purpose may, if it thinks fit, cause him to come or be brought before the Court.

(b.) If any person required by an order under this Article, or under the law relating to criminal procedure for the time being in force, to give security for good behaviour or for keeping the peace, fails to do so, the Court may, if it thinks fit, order that he be deported from the Protectorate.

(c.) Any order of deportation not made by the Consul-General must be approved by him.

19.—(a.) Any person ordered to be deported under this Order shall be, as soon as practicable, and in the case of a person convicted, either after execution of the sentence, or while it is in course of execution, removed in custody, under the warrant of the Consul-General, to the place named in the warrant and there discharged from custody.

(b.) The place shall be a place in that part (if any) of Her Majesty's dominions out of the United Kingdom to which the person belongs, or in some other part of those dominions, the Government whereof consents to the reception therein of persons deported under this Order, or a place under the Protectorate of Her Majesty, or in the country out of Her Majesty's dominions to which the person belongs.

(c.) The Court, on making an order of deportation, may, if it thinks fit, order the person to be deported to pay all or any part of the expenses of his deportation, to be fixed by the Court in the order.

(d.) The Consul-General shall forthwith report to the Secretary of State every order of deportation made under this Order, and the grounds thereof; and the proceedings thereunder.

(e.) If a person deported under this Order returns to the Protectorate without permission in writing of the Consul-General or Secretary of State, he shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.

(f.) He shall also be liable to be again deported under the original or a new order, and a fresh warrant of the Consul-General.

(g.) The Consul-General may at any time revoke or vary any order or warrant of deportation.

20.—(a.) Where, under this Order, a person is to be sent, or removed, or deported from the Protectorate, he shall, by warrant of the Consul-General under his hand and seal, be detained, if necessary, in custody, or in prison, until a fit opportunity for his removal or deportation occurs, and then, if he is to be deported beyond sea, be put on board one of Her Majesty's vessels of war, or, if none is available, then on board some other British or other fit vessel.

(b.) The warrant of the Consul-General shall be sufficient authority to the person to whom it is directed or delivered for execution, and to the Commander or Master of the vessel, to receive and detain the person therein named, in the manner therein prescribed, and to send or remove and carry him to the place therein named, according to the warrant.

(c.) In case of sending or removal for any purpose other than deportation, the warrant of the Consul-General shall be issued in duplicate, and the person executing it shall, as soon as practicable after his arrival at the place therein named, deliver, according to the warrant, with one of the duplicates of the warrant, to a constable, or proper officer of police, or keeper of a prison, or other proper authority or person there, the person named in the warrant, to be produced on the order of the proper Court or authority there, or to be otherwise dealt with according to law.

21. The Consul-General, and every officer for the time being exercising the powers of a Magistrate, shall have in and for the Protectorate, province, or district, as the case may be, all the power and jurisdiction appertaining to the office of a Justice of the Peace.

22. A sentence of imprisonment under this Order, or any Regulations made under this Order, may be with or without hard labour, in the discretion of the Court, unless it is expressed to be without hard labour.

PART V.—Civil Matters.

23. Subject to the other provisions of this Order, the Code of Civil Procedure, "The Bombay Civil Courts Act, 1869," and the other enactments relating to the administration of civil justice for the time being applicable to the Protectorate, shall have effect as if the Protectorate were the Presidency of Bombay.

(a.) For the purposes of these enactments the Protectorate Court shall be deemed to be the High Court, and the Court authorized to hear appeals from and to revise the decisions of District Courts;

(b.) District Courts shall be established under the provisions of "The Bombay Civil Courts Act, 1869," as applied by this Order; and

(c.) The powers both of the Governor-General in Council and the Local Government under those enactments shall be exercisable by the Secretary of State, or with his previous or subsequent assent, by the Consul-General.

24. The following enactments of "The Colonial Courts of Admiralty Act, 1890," that is to say, section 2, sub-sections (2) to (4), sections 5 and 6, section 16, sub-section (3), shall apply to the Protectorate Court as if in the said sections the said Court were mentioned in lieu of a Colonial Court of Admiralty, and the Protectorate were referred to in lieu of a British possession.

25.—(a.) Every District Court shall endeavour to obtain, as early as may be, notice of the death of every British subject or foreigner dying in the Protectorate leaving property to be administered, and all such information as may serve to guide the Court with respect to the securing and administration of his property.

(b.) On receiving notice of the death of such a person, the Court shall put up a notice thereof at the Court-house, and shall keep the same there until probate or administration is granted, or, where it appears to the Court that probate or administration will not be applied for, or cannot be granted, for such time as he thinks fit.

(c.) The Court shall, where the circumstances of the case appear so to require, as soon as may be, take possession of the property in the Protectorate of the deceased, or put it under its seal (in either case, if the nature of the property or other circumstances so require, making an inventory), and so keep it until it can be dealt with according to law.

(d.) All expenses incurred by the Court in so doing shall be the first charge on the property of the deceased, and the Court shall, by sale of the property, or part thereof, or otherwise, provide for the discharge of these expenses.

26. Where a British subject or foreigner dies in the Protectorate intestate, his property shall, until administration is granted, vest in the Consul-General.

27. If a person named executor in a will, to the establishment of whose title, as such, it is necessary to obtain probate of that will, takes possession of, and administers or otherwise deals with, any part of the property of the deceased, and does not obtain probate within one month after the death, or after the termination of any proceeding respecting probate or administration, he shall be liable to be punished with fine, which may extend to one thousand rupees.

28. If any person other than the person named executor, or the administrator, or a person entitled to represent the deceased, without obtaining probate or letters of administration, or an officer of the Court, takes possession of and administers, or otherwise deals with, any part of the property of the deceased, he shall, as soon as practicable, notify the fact and the circumstances to the District Court, and shall furnish to that Court all such information as the Court requires, and shall conform to any directions of the Court in relation to the custody, disposal, or transmission of the property, or the proceeds thereof, and, in case of any contravention of this Article, he shall be liable to be punished with fine, which may extend to one thousand rupees.

29.—(1.) When the peculiar circumstances of the case appear so to require, for reasons recorded in its proceedings, the District Court may, if it thinks fit, of its own motion or otherwise, grant letters of administration to an officer or practitioner of the Court.

(2.) The person so appointed shall act under the direction of the Court, and shall be indemnified thereby; and, if he is a practitioner, he shall not act otherwise than as administrator in relation to the estate.

(3.) He shall publish such notices, if any, as the Court thinks fit in the Protectorate, Aden, the United Kingdom, and elsewhere.

(4.) The Court shall require and compel him to file, in the proper office of the Court, his accounts of his administration at intervals not exceeding three months.

(5.) The accounts shall be audited under the direction of the Court.

(6.) All expenses incurred in behalf of the Court in execution of this Article shall be the first charge on the estate of the deceased in the Protectorate; and the Court shall by the sale of the estate or otherwise, provide for the discharge of those expenses.

(b.) The Court shall thereupon have authority to enforce the agreement, and the award made thereunder, and to control and regulate the proceedings before and after the award, in such manner and on such terms as the Court may think fit.

PART VI.—Miscellaneous.

31. Subject to the approval of the Secretary of State, the Protectorate Court may frame Rules of Procedure and other Rules, consistent with this Order, for the better execution of the provisions herein contained in respect of civil or criminal proceedings, and for regulating the conditions on which persons other than parties may be permitted to practise as advocates or solicitors in any Court, and for suspending or excluding (subject to a right of appeal) such persons from practice in case of misconduct: provided that any scales of remuneration fixed by such Rules shall have been sanctioned by the Treasury.

32. The Consul-General may make Regulations (to be called Queen's Regulations) for the following purposes, consistent with the provisions of this Order, that is to say:—

(i.) For the Regulation of all matters relating to Customs, Inland Revenue, post-office, land, highways, railways, money, agriculture, trade, and health.

(ii.) For the establishment of a constabulary or other force to be employed in the maintenance of order or (either with or without the limits of this Order) in defence of the Protectorate.

(iii.) For securing the observance of any Treaty for the time being in force relating to the Protectorate, or of any native or local law or custom; and

(iv.) For the registration of documents purporting or operating to create, declare, assign, limit, or extinguish any right, title, or interest in or over any immovable property situate in the Protectorate.

(v.) Generally for the peace, order, and good government of the Protectorate.

Any Regulations under this Article may provide for forfeiture of any goods, receptacles, or things in relation to which, or to the contents of which any breach is committed of such Regulations, or of any Treaty, or any native or local law or custom, the observance of which is provided for by the Regulations.

Any Regulations under this Article with respect to the registration of documents, may prescribe the period within which any documents are to be registered, and such penalties for non-registration, whether by stamp duties or otherwise, and whether, in lieu of, or in addition to, the other penalties provided by this Article; but nothing in any such Regulations shall make any instrument inadmissible in evidence in any criminal proceeding.

Any Regulations under this Article shall, when allowed by the Secretary of State, and published by the Consul-General, have effect as if contained in this Order: Provided that in case of urgency declared by any such Regulations, the same shall take effect before such allowance, and shall continue to have effect unless and until they are disallowed by the Secretary of State, and until notification of such disallowance is received and published by the Consul-General; and such disallowance shall be without prejudice to anything done or suffered under such Regulations in the meantime.

The Consul-General may fix such penalties for the breach of any Regulations as may seem proper, and, where no penalty is so fixed, any person guilty of such breach, shall, on conviction, be liable to a fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or to imprisonment which may extend to two months, or both, in addition to any forfeiture as aforesaid.

33. The Consul-General may also make Queen's Regulations for the governance, visitation, care, and superintendence of prisons in the Protectorate, and for the infliction of corporal or other punishment on prisoners committing offences against the Prisons Regulations.

Any Regulations under this Article shall, when allowed by the Secretary of State, have effect, as if contained in this Order, and copies thereof shall be exhibited in every prison to which they apply in such manner as the Consul-General may direct.

Any breach of Regulations under this Article, committed by any officer of a prison, or by any other person (not being a prisoner), shall be punishable in like manner as a breach of Queen's Regulations under the last preceding Article.

34.—(a.) The Consul-General may, with the approval of the Secretary of State and concurrence of the Treasury, make rules imposing fees leviable in respect of any proceedings in, or processes issued out of, any Court established under this Order, and in respect of the registration of any instrument under this Order.

(b.) But the Court may in any case, if it thinks fit, on account of the poverty of a party, or for any other reason, dispense in whole or in part with the payment of any fee chargeable in respect of such matter.

(c.) Nothing in this Order shall affect any Order in Council prescribing a table of fees to be taken by Consular officers; and, where a fee is taken under that Order, no fee shall be taken in respect of the same matter under this Order.

35.—(a.) All fees, charges, expenses, costs, fines, damage, and other money payable under this Order, or under any law made applicable by this Order, may be enforced under order of the Court by attachment and sale of goods, and in case of deficiency by imprisonment (without hard labour) which may extend to one month.

(b.) Any bill of sale or mortgage, or transfer of property, made with the view of avoiding such attachment or sale, shall not be effectual to defeat the provisions of this Order.

(c.) All fees, penalties, fines, and forfeitures levied under this Order shall be paid to the public account, and shall be applied in such manner as the Secretary of State, with the consent of the Treasury, may direct.

36. Subject to the other provisions of this Order, all expenses of removal of prisoners and others, and the expenses of deportation and of the sending of any person to any part of Her Majesty's dominions or Protectorates, including expenses of maintenance, shall be defrayed in such manner as the Secretary of State, with the concurrence of the Treasury, directs.

37.—(a.) If an officer of any Court employed to execute an order loses, by neglect or omission, the opportunity of executing it, then, on complaint of the person aggrieved and proof of the fact alleged, the Court may, if it thinks fit, order the officer to pay the damages sustained by the person complaining, or part thereof.

(b.) The order may be enforced as an order directing payment of money.

38.—(a.) If a clerk or officer of the Court, acting under pretence of the process or authority of the Court, is charged with extortion, or with not paying over money duly levied, or with other misconduct, the Court may, if it thinks fit, inquire into the charge in a summary way, and may for that purpose summon and enforce the attendance of all necessary persons as in an action, and may make such order for the repayment of any money extorted, or for the payment over of any money levied, and for the payment of such damages and costs as the Court thinks fit.

(b.) The Court may also, if it thinks fit, on the same inquiry, impose on the clerk or officer a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for each offence.

(c.) A clerk or officer punished under this Article shall not, without the leave of the Protectorate Court, be liable to an action in respect of the same matter; and any such action, if already or afterwards begun, may be stayed by the Court in such manner and on such terms as the Court thinks fit.

(d.) Nothing in this Article shall be deemed to prevent any person from being prosecuted under any other law for any act or omission punishable under this Article, or for being liable under that other law to any higher punishment or penalty than that provided by this Article: Provided that no person shall be punished twice for the same offence.

39. The Consul-General, or any officer of the Protectorate Government appointed by him in that behalf, may exercise any power conferred on any Justices of the Peace within Her Majesty's dominions by any Act of Parliament, for the time being in force, regulating merchant seamen or the mercantile marine.

40. If a question arises whether any place is or is not within the Protectorate for the purposes of this Order, it shall be referred to and determined by the Consul-General, and a certificate under his hand and seal shall be conclusive on the question, and judicial notice thereof shall be taken by every Court constituted by or under this Order.

41. Not later than the thirty-first March in each year the Consul-General shall send to the Secretary of State a Report on the operation of this Order, up to the thirty-first December in the previous year, showing for the then last twelve months the number and nature of the proceedings, criminal and civil, taken under this Order, and the result thereof, and the number and amount of fees received, and containing such other information, and being in such form as the Secretary of State from time to time directs.

42. This Order shall commence and have effect as follows:—

(1.) As to the making of any warrant or appointment under this Order, immediately from and after the date of this Order.

(2.) As to the framing of Rules of Procedure or Regulations, and the approval thereof by the Secretary of State, immediately from and after the date of this Order.

(3.) As to all other matters and provisions comprised and contained in this Order, immediately from and after the expiration of one month after this Order is first exhibited in the public office of the Protectorate at Berbera; for which purpose the Consul-General is hereby required forthwith, on receipt by him of a copy of this Order, to affix and exhibit the same conspicuously in his public office, and he is also hereby required to keep the same so affixed and exhibited during one month from the first exhibition thereof; and notice of the time of such first exhibition shall, as soon thereafter as practicable, be published in such manner as the Consul-General directs; and, notwithstanding anything in this Order, the time of the expiration of the said month shall be deemed to be the time of the commencement of this Order.

(4.) Proof shall not in any proceeding or matter be required that the provisions of this Article have been complied with, nor shall any act or proceeding be invalidated by any failure to comply with any of such provisions.

43. A copy of this Order shall be kept exhibited conspicuously in the principal office of the Protectorate at Berbera.

Printed copies shall be provided and sold at such reasonable price as the Consul-General directs.

And the Most Honourable the Marquess of Salisbury, K.G., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, is to give the necessary directions herein.

The application for the grant of a patent or the registration of a design or the registration of a trade mark under this section must be made in the same manner as an ordinary application under this Act; provided that, in the case of trade marks, any trade mark the registration of which has been duly applied for in the country of origin may be registered under this Act.

And whereas it has pleased Her Majesty to make an arrangement of the nature contemplated by the said Act by and in virtue of a Declaration signed and sealed by Her Majesty's Ambassador at Paris on the seventeenth March one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four duly conveying the Accession of Great Britain to the International Convention and Protocol for the Protection of Industrial Property signed by representatives of certain Powers on the twentieth day of March one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three and duly ratified on the sixth day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four power being reserved to Her Majesty to accede hereafter to the provisions of the said Convention and Protocol on behalf of the Isle of Man the Channel Islands and any of Her Majesty's Possessions which Declaration of Accession was duly accepted by the French Government on behalf of the signatory Powers by and in virtue of a Declaration dated the second April one thousand eight hundred and eighty-four.

And it is hereby further ordered and declared that this Order shall take effect from the day and date first above written.

A. W. FitzRoy.

AT the Court at Balmoral, the 7th day of October, 1899.

PRESENT,
The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by “The Coroners Act 1844” it is (amongst other things) enacted that when and so often as it shall seem expedient to the Justices of any County that such County should be divided into two or more districts for the purposes of that Act, or that any alteration should be made of any division theretofore made under that Act it shall be lawful for the said Justices in General or Quarter Sessions assembled to resolve that a petition shall be presented to Her Majesty praying that such division or alteration be made, and thereupon to adjourn the further consideration of such petition until notice thereof shall be given to the Coroner or Coroners of such County as in that Act thereafter provided, and further that the Clerk of the Peace shall give notice of any such resolution to every Coroner for such county and of the time when the petition will be taken by the said Justices into consideration, and the Justices shall confer with every such Coroner who shall attend the meeting of the Justices for that purpose touching such petition having due regard to the size and nature of each proposed district the number of inhabitants the nature of their employments and such other circumstances as shall appear to the Justices fit to be considered in carrying into execution the provisions of that Act, and that such petition with a description of the several proposed districts and of the boundaries thereof with the reasons upon which the petition is founded shall be certified to Her Majesty under the hands and seals of two or more of the Justices present when such petition shall be agreed to, and the Clerk of the Peace for such county shall forthwith give or send a true copy of such petition certified under his hand to every Coroner for such county, and that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty if She shall think fit with the advice of Her Privy Council after taking into consideration any such petition and also any petition which may be presented to Her by any Coroner of the same county concerning such proposed division or alteration, or whenever it shall seem fit to Her Majesty to direct the issue of a Writ de Coronatore Eligendo for the purpose of authorizing the election of an additional Coroner above the number of those who have been theretofore customarily elected in such county to order that such county shall be divided into such and so many districts for the purposes of that Act as to Her Majesty with the advice aforesaid shall seem expedient, and to give a name to each of such districts and that every such Order shall be published in the London Gazette.

And whereas it was further provided by the said recited Act that in the county of Lincoln all things by the said Act directed to be done by and with respect to the Justices in General or Quarter Sessions assembled and by their Clerk should be done by and with respect to the Justices of the said county of Lincoln in General Gaol Sessions and by their Clerk.

And whereas by "The Local Government Act 1888" it was provided that in the case of the county of Lincoln the administrative business which would, if the said Act had not passed, have been transacted by the Justices of all the divisions at their Gaol Sessions should be transacted by a Joint Committee of the County Councils of the three divisions appointed in manner provided by the said Act, and that the said Joint Committee should be a body corporate for the purposes of such administrative business and should be called by the name of the County Committee with the prefix of the name of the county.

And whereas by an Order in Council made on the thirtieth day of June one thousand eight hundred and forty-five under the provisions of the hereinbefore first recited Act, such parts of the county of Lincoln as were not excepted by the operation of section twenty-seven of the said herein first recited Act were divided into seven districts for the purposes of the said Act called respectively the "Lincoln District," the "Kirton District," the "Caistor District," the "Louth District," the "Boston District," the "Grantham District," and the "Spalding District."

And whereas the "Lincoln District" the "Boston District" and the "Spalding District" as constituted by the aforesaid Order in Council are respectively situate partly in one, and partly in another Administrative County (or Division) forming part of the entire county of Lincoln.

And whereas in addition to the above-named districts the borough of Stamford formed a district of itself and appointed its own Coroner.

And whereas the Kesteven County Council did not exercise their power, in pursuance of section thirty-eight of the "Local Government Act, 1888," of annexing the said borough to any County Coroner's District, but continued it as a separate County Coroner's District, and resolved that the then existing Coroner should be continued in office as County Coroner within the district of the borough of Stamford.

And whereas the Lincolnshire County Committee have presented a petition to Her Majesty praying for an alteration of the several Coroners Districts situate partly in one and partly in another Division of the county of Lincoln in the manner therein set forth, so that from and after the thirtieth day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine no Coroner's District should be situate in more than one Administrative County, which said petition with a description of the said proposed districts and of the boundaries thereof with the reasons upon which the petition is founded were duly certified to Her Majesty.

And whereas all the provisions of the herein-before first recited Act in that behalf have been complied with in relation to the said petition.

And whereas the Coroners for the said county have not presented any petition to Her Majesty.

And whereas Her Majesty has with the advice of Her Privy Council taken into consideration the said petition and is minded to make such alteration and division as aforesaid as from the thirty-first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine.

Now therefore Her Majesty by and with the advice of Her Privy Council is pleased to order and it is hereby ordered directed and declared that from and after the thirty-first day of December one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine :—

AT the Court at Balmoral, the 7th day of October, 1899.

PRESENT,
The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have, in pursuance of the Act of the eighth and ninth years of Her Majesty, chapter seventy; of the Act of the fourteenth and fifteenth years of Her Majesty, chapter ninety-seven; and of the Act of the nineteenth and twentieth years of Her Majesty, chapter fifty-five; duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a representation, bearing date the twenty-seventh day of July in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine in the words following; that is to say:—

"Now therefore, with the consent of the Right Reverend Richard Bishop of the said diocese of Llandaff as such Bishop, and also as the patron, in right of his See, of the vicarage of the parish of Bettws aforesaid, and with the consent of Emily Charlotte Talbot of Margam Park in the said county of Glamorgan, Spinster, as the patron of the vicarage of the parish of Llangeinwyr aforesaid (in testimony whereof they the said consenting parties have respectively signed and sealed this representation), we, the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, humbly represent, that it would, in our opinion, be expedient that all those contiguous portions of the said parish of Llangeinwyr, and of the parish of Bettws aforesaid which are described in the Schedule hereunder written, all which portions, together with the boundaries thereof, are delineated and set forth on the map or plan hereunto annexed, should be united and formed into one consolidated chapelry for the said church of Saint Theodore situate at Pontycymmer as aforesaid, and that the same should be named 'The Consolidated Chapelry of Garw Valley.'

"We, therefore, humbly pray that Your Majesty will be graciously pleased to take the premises into Your Royal consideration, and to make such Order in respect thereto as to Your Majesty in Your Royal wisdom shall seem meet.

"The SCHEDEULE to which the foregoing Representation has reference.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have, in pursuance of the Act of the sixth and seventh years of Her Majesty, chapter thirty-seven, and of the Act of the nineteenth and twentieth years of Her Majesty, chapter one hundred and four, duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a scheme, bearing date the twenty-seventh day of July, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, in the words and figures following, that is to say:—

"We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England in pursuance of the Act of the sixth and seventh years of Your Majesty chapter thirty-seven and of the Act of the nineteenth and twentieth years of Your Majesty, chapter one hundred and four have prepared and now humbly lay before Your Majesty in Council the following scheme for constituting a separate district for spiritual purposes to be taken out of the parish (sometime district under the 'Parish of Manchester Division Act 1850') of Saint Matthew Stretford (within the original limits of the parish of Manchester) in the county of Lancaster and in the diocese of Manchester.

"Whereas it has been made to appear to us that it would promote the interests of religion that the particular part of the said parish of Saint Matthew Stretford which is hereinafter mentioned and described should be constituted a separate district in the manner hereinafter recommended and proposed.

"And whereas by an Order of Your Majesty in Council bearing date the thirty-first day of July in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight and published in the London Gazette on the thirteenth day of August following a part of the said parish (then called a new parish) of Saint Matthew Stretford was under the provisions of the said 'Parish of Manchester Division Act 1850' annexed to the consecrated church of Saint Thomas Old Trafford and became a district for spiritual purposes and was named 'The District of Saint Thomas Old Trafford.'

"And whereas by a Judgment delivered by the late Vice-Chancellor Scott in the Court of Chancery on the sixteenth day of January in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven it was decided that the conveyance of the site and fabric of Saint Thomas's Church to the late Church Building Commissioners was invalid and the said property has been reconveyed to the Trustees of the charity known as Henshaw's Blind Asylum and the Manchester Schools for the Deaf and Dumb.

"And whereas since the date of the said Judgment the said Order in Council has been practically inoperative and the said district of Saint Thomas Old Trafford has been regarded for ecclesiastical purposes as a part of the said parish of Saint Matthew Stretford.

"And whereas the district hereinafter proposed will practically absorb all that no longer remains of the district of Saint Thomas Old Trafford aforesaid.

"And whereas with the exception of the church or chapel of Saint Thomas Old Trafford being the chapel of the charity aforesaid there is not at present within the limits of the said proposed district a consecrated church or chapel in use for the purposes of Divine worship.

"And whereas we are satisfied that the said parish of Saint Matthew Stretford is a cure wherein or in parts whereof the provision for public worship and for pastoral superintendence is insufficient for the spiritual wants of the inhabitants thereof.

"And whereas we are also satisfied that an adequate and permanent maintenance for the support of the minister of the said proposed district and when the said district shall have become a new parish then for the support of the incumbent thereof will be secured as from the date of the licensing or appointment of such minister or incumbent by the payment of a sum of not less than one hundred and fifty pounds which will be annually provided out of the moneys received by us the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners under the provisions of the said 'Parish of Manchester Division Act 1850.'

"Now therefore with the consent of the Right Reverend James Bishop of the said diocese of Manchester (in testimony whereof he has signed and sealed this scheme) we the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners humbly recommend and propose that all that part of the said parish of Saint Matthew Stretford which is more particularly described in the Schedule hereunder written, and is delineated and set forth on the map or plan hereunto annexed, shall upon and from the day of the date of the publication in the London Gazette of any Order of Your Majesty in Council ratifying this scheme become and be constituted a separate district for spiritual purposes and that the same shall be named 'The District of Saint Hilda Old Trafford.'

"And we further recommend and propose that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing any other measures relating to the matters aforesaid or to any of them in accordance with the provisions of the said Acts or of any other Act of Parliament.

"The SCHEDULE to which the foregoing Scheme has reference.

"All that part of the parish (sometime district under 'The Manchester Division Act 1850') of Saint Matthew Stretford within the original limits of the parish of Manchester and in the county of Lancaster and in the diocese of Manchester which is bounded upon the south-east partly by the parish of Saint Margaret Whalley Range and partly by the parish of Saint Bride Stretford upon the east partly by the parish of Saint Gabriel Hulme and partly by the parish of Saint George at Hulme upon the north-east by the last-named parish upon the north by the parish of Saint Clement Ordsall in Salford all which parishes are situate within the said original limits of the parish of Manchester aforesaid and in the county and diocese aforesaid and upon the remaining sides that is to say upon the north-west upon the west and upon the south by an imaginary line commencing at the point where the boundary which divides the said parish of Saint Clement Ordsall in Salford from the parish of Saint Matthew Stretford aforesaid is intersected by the middle of Trafford-road which is carried across the old course of the River Irwell, now forming part of the Manchester Ship Canal, by Old Trafford Bridge and extending thence first southward and thence south-eastward along the middle of the said road for a distance of sixteen chains or thereabouts (thereby crossing the Duke of Bridgewater's Canal) to the point where the said road passes over the line of the Cheshire Lines Railway the north-eastern end of the tunnel under Throstle Nest Plantation and extending thence south-westward to and along the middle of the said line of railway for a distance of twenty chains or thereabouts (thereby following on the surface of the ground the course of the said tunnel) to the centre of the bridge which is intended to carry a continuation of Warwick-road over the same line of railway and extending thence south-eastward for a distance of seven and a half chains or thereabouts first along the middle of the proposed course of the said continuation of the said Warwick-road as far as Chester-road and then along the middle of the said Warwick-road for a distance of twenty-nine chains or thereabouts to a point near the south-eastern end of the same road where it adjoins the north-western side of the line of the Manchester South Junction and Altringham Railway and extending thence in precisely the same direction and in a straight line for a distance of one chain or thereabouts to a point in the middle of the last-named line of railway and extending thence north-eastward along the middle of the said last-named line of railway for a distance of twenty-seven chains or thereabouts to the centre of the bridge which carries such line of railway over the Manchester South District Line of the Midland Railway and extending thence southward along the middle of the last-named line of railway for a distance of nineteen chains or thereabouts to a point at the northern side of the next bridge over the same line of railway and extending thence in a westerly direction and in a straight line for a distance of fifteen chains or thereabouts to a point at the junction of the road called Seymour-grove with a proposed road which is intended to be a continuation of Ayres-road and extending thence still westward along the middle of the course of the said proposed road for a distance of three chains or thereabouts to the boundary which divides the said parish of Saint Matthew Stretford from the parish of Saint Margaret Whalley Range aforesaid."

And whereas drafts of the said scheme have, in accordance with the provisions of the secondly hereinbefore-mentioned Act, been transmitted to the patron and to the incumbent of the parish of Saint Matthew Stretford out of which it is intended that the district recommended in such scheme to be constituted shall be taken, and such patron and incumbent have respectively signified their assent to such scheme:

And whereas the said scheme has been approved by Her Majesty in Council: now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said scheme, and to order and direct that the same and every part thereof shall be effectual in law immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette pursuant to the said Acts; and Her Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the said diocese of Manchester.

PRESENT,
The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have, in pursuance of an Act of the twenty-third and twenty-fourth years of Her Majesty chapter one hundred and twenty-four duly prepared and laid before Her Majesty in Council a scheme bearing date the twenty-seventh day of July, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, in the words and figures following, that is to say:—

"We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England in pursuance of the Act of the twenty-third and twenty-fourth years of Your Majesty chapter one hundred and twenty-four have prepared and now humbly lay before Your Majesty in Council the following scheme for annexing to the episcopal residence of the Bishop of Hereford at Hereford certain lands which are necessary for the enjoyment of such residence.

"Whereas by the said recited Act it is enacted that upon the first avoidance of the See of any Archbishop or Bishop happening after the passing of the same Act, all the lands hereditaments and emoluments of or belonging to such See (except all rights of patronage or presentation and the residences of the Archbishop or Bishop and such lands necessary for the enjoyment of such residences as shall be attached thereto by any scheme sanctioned by Order in Council) shall become vested absolutely in us for the purposes and subject to the provisions applicable to other hereditaments vested in us.

"And whereas the Bishopric of Hereford has become vacant since the passing of the said Act of the twenty-third and twenty-fourth years of Your Majesty but certain lands which are necessary for the enjoyment of the episcopal residence at Hereford have not been attached thereto by any scheme prepared by us and sanctioned by Order of Your Majesty in Council.

"And whereas it appears to us that the lands specified in the schedule annexed to this scheme are necessary for the enjoyment of the episcopal residence at Hereford and are such as it is contemplated by the said Act of the twenty-third and twenty-fourth years of Your Majesty should be attached to the residence and should be held by the Bishop exclusively of and in addition to the lands tenements and hereditaments which by the provisions of the same Act are to be assigned as the endowment of his said See for the purpose of securing the statutory income named for such Bishop.

"Now therefore we humbly recommend and propose that immediately upon the publishing in the London Gazette of an Order of Your Majesty in Council ratifying this scheme and without any legal conveyance or assurance in the law other than such duly published Order the lands specified in the schedule annexed to this scheme shall become and be attached to and form part of the residence of the Bishop of Hereford and shall be held and enjoyed by the said Bishop and his successors in the See of Hereford irrespectively of and in addition to the lands tenements and hereditaments which have been or may hereafter be from time to time assigned to the said Bishop or his successors as the permanent endowment of the See for the purpose of securing the statutory income of the bishopric videlicet four thousand two hundred pounds per annum.

"And we further recommend and propose that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing any further or other measures relating to the matters aforesaid in compliance with the said recited Act or any other Acts of Parliament.

PRESENT.

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by "The Burial Act 1852" it is enacted that, in case it appears to Her Majesty in Council, upon the representation of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, that, for the protection of the public health, burials in any part or parts of the Metropolis or in any burial-grounds or places of burial in the Metropolis should be wholly discontinued, or should be discontinued subject to any exception or qualification, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order that, from and after a time mentioned in the Order, burials in such part or parts of the Metropolis, or in such burial-grounds or places of burial, shall be discontinued wholly, or subject to any exceptions or qualifications mentioned in such Order, and so from time to time as circumstances may require; provided that notice of such representation, and of the time when it shall please Her Majesty to order the same to be taken into consideration by the Privy Council, shall be published in the London Gazette, and shall be affixed on the doors of the churches or chapels of the parishes in which any burial-grounds or places of burial affected by such representation shall be situate, or on some other conspicuous places within the part or parts of the Metropolis affected by such representation one calendar month before such representation is so considered; provided always that no such representation shall be made in relation to the burial-ground of any parish until ten days' previous notice of the intention to make such representation shall have been given to the Incumbent and the vestry clerk of such parish:

And whereas by "The Burial Act, 1855," it is, amongst other things, enacted that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, from time to time to postpone the time appointed by any Order in Council for the discontinuance of burials, or otherwise to vary any Order in Council made under any of the Acts recited in the said Act, or under the said Act (whether the time thereby appointed for the discontinuance of burials thereunder, or other operation of such Order, shall or shall not have arrived), as to Her Majesty, with such advice as aforesaid, may seem fit:

And whereas the Right Honourable Sir Matthew White Ridley, Baronet, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, after giving notice to the Incumbent and the vestry clerk of the parish of Saint Mary, Stoke Newington, of his intention to make the representation, made a representation stating that he was of opinion that so much of the Order of Her Majesty in Council of the fourteenth November, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, as relates to the Church and churchyard of Saint Mary, Stoke Newington, should be varied, by substituting for the directions therein contained the Order hereinafter set forth:

And whereas Her Majesty was pleased by Her Order in Council of the eighth day of August last to give notice of such representation, and to order that the same be taken into consideration by a Committee of the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, on the eighteenth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, and such Order has been published in the London Gazette and copies thereof have been affixed as required by the said Act:

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that so much of the Order of Her Majesty in Council of the fourteenth November, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, as affects burials in the Church and churchyard of Saint Mary, Stoke Newington, be varied by substituting for the directions therein contained the following Order, viz.:—

said Act (whether the time thereby appointed for the discontinuance of burials thereunder, or other operation of such Order, shall or shall not have arrived), as to Her Majesty, with such advice as aforesaid, may seem fit:
