THE Queen has been graciously pleased to confirm the grant of the decoration of the Victoria Cross to the undermentioned Officer, Non-Commissioned Officer, and Soldiers, which decoration has been provisionally conferred upon them by the Field-Marshal Commanding-in-Chief in South Africa, in accordance with the rules laid down in Her Majesty's Warrant instituting the decoration, for their conspicuous bravery during the action at Korn Spruit on the 31st March, 1900, as stated against their names:—

Regiment.	Name.	Act of Courage for which recommended.
Q Battery, Royal Horse Artillery	Major Edmund John Phipps-Hornby	On the occasion of the action at Korn Spruit on the 31st March, 1900, a British force, including two batteries of the Royal Horse Artillery, was retiring from Thabanchu towards Bloemfontein. The enemy had formed an ambush at Korn Spruit, and before their presence was discovered by the main body had captured the greater portion of the baggage column and five out of the six guns of the leading battery. When the alarm was given Q Battery, Royal Horse Artillery, was within 300 yards of the Spruit. Major Phipps-Hornby, who commanded it, at once wheeled about and moved off at a gallop under a very heavy fire. One gun upset when a wheel horse was shot, and had to be abandoned, together with a waggon, the horses of which were killed. The remainder of the battery reached a position close to some unfinished railway buildings and came into action 1,150 yards from the Spruit, remaining in action until ordered to retire. When the order to retire was received Major Phipps-Hornby ordered the guns and their limbers to be run back by hand to where the teams of uninjured horses stood behind the unfinished buildings. The few remaining gunners, assisted by a number of Officers and men of a party of Mounted Infantry, and directed by Major Phipps-Hornby and Captain Humphreys, the only remaining Officers of the battery, succeeded in running back four of the guns under shelter. One or two of the limbers were similarly withdrawn by hand, but the work was most severe and the distance considerable. In consequence all concerned were so exhausted that they were unable to drag in the remaining limbers or the fifth gun. It now became necessary to risk the horses, and volunteers were called for from among the drivers, who readily responded. Several horses were killed and men wounded, but at length only one gun and one limber were left exposed. Four separate attempts were made to rescue these, but when no more horses were available the attempt had to be given up and the gun and limber were abandoned. Meanwhile the other guns had been sent on, one at a time, and after passing within 700 or 800 yards of the enemy, in rounding the head of a donga and crossing two spruits they eventually reached a place of safety, where the battery was re-formed. After full consideration of the circumstances of the case the Field-Marshal Commanding-in-Chief in South Africa formed the opinion that the conduct of all ranks of Q Battery, Royal Horse Artillery, was conspicuously gallant and daring, but that all were equally brave and devoted in their behaviour. He therefore decided to treat the case of the battery as one of collective gallantry under Rule 13 of the Victoria Cross Warrant, and directed that one Officer should be selected for the decoration of the Victoria Cross by the Officers, one non-commissioned officer by the non-commissioned officers, and two gunners or drivers by the gunners and drivers. A difficulty arose with regard to the Officer, owing to the fact that there were only two unwounded Officers—Major Phipps-Hornby and Captain Humphreys—available for the work of saving the guns, and both of these had been conspicuous by their gallantry and by the fearless manner in which they exposed themselves, and each of them nominated the other for the decoration. It was ultimately decided in favour of Major Phipps-Hornby as having been the senior concerned.

Regiment.	Name.	Act of Courage for which recommended.
Q Battery, Royal Horse Artillery	Sergeant Charles Parker	Was elected by the non-commissioned officers, as described above.
Q Battery, Royal Horse Artillery	Gunner Isaac Lodge	Were elected by the gunners and drivers, as described above.
Q Battery, Royal Horse Artillery	Driver Henry Glassock

Suffling v. Bath.

The Hanworth Hall Estate Norfolk. One of the most important residential and sporting estates in the Eastern counties, about five miles from Cromer, the fashionable east coast health resort, the same distance from the market town of North Walsham, about 17 miles from the city of Norwich and under three hours' railway journey from London. It comprises a total of about 5,753 acres, is noted for its very fine shooting, and is situate in the neighbourhood of many well-known county seats, including Gunton Park, Felbrigg Hall, Blickling Hall, and Walerston Hall, the respective properties of Lord Suffield, R. W. Ketten Esquire, the Marchioness of Lothian and the Earl of Orford. The rent roll shows a present annual income of about £5,350 and including the estimated value of the mansion and its appurtenances, (which are in hand), the woods and plantations, and the shooting over the estate, amounts to upwards of £8,600 per annum.

MR. EDWARD TEWSON of the firm of Messrs. Debenham Tewson Farmer and Bridgewater (the person appointed by the Judge) will sell at the Mart on Tuesday July 10th at 2, in one lot, this fine freehold (and part copyhold) domain, situate near Cromer, in one of the most picturesque and healthy parts of the county of Norfolk. It comprises a capital family mansion, built of red brick, in the Queen Anne style, standing in the centre of a large well-timbered undulating park, through which it is approached by carriage drives, and containing about 20 bed and dressing rooms, servants' bedrooms, bath room, drawing room about 30 ft. 8 in. by 20 ft. 3 in. morning room 18 ft. by 15 ft., dining room 25 ft. by 20 ft., entrance hall and billiard room 33 ft. by 20 ft., library 25 ft. 9 in. by 20 ft., a wide principal staircase of oak, secondary staircase, suitable domestic offices and extensive dry cellarage, with convenient out offices, gunroom and game larder.

The excellent modern stabling, placed in a large enclosed yard, comprises six stalls, five loose boxes, large carriage house, good harness room, grooms' rooms and lofts with dog kennels, additional stabling and other buildings adjacent.

There are handsome pleasure grounds including extensive lawns, a charming wilderness, and an ornamental sheet of water, a fine large kitchen garden enclosed by high walls and stocked with a choice assortment of thriving wall and espalier fruit trees, outer fruit and vegetable gardens, glasshouses, forcing pits and all accessories. In a convenient position is the estate timber yard with all necessary workshops and premises.

The park and pleasure grounds contain some very fine specimen oak, beech and chestnut trees.

There is an excellent supply of water to the mansion and the drainage and sanitary arrangements have been recently entirely remodelled upon scientific principles. In the park is a stream of running water affording trout fishing, also a decoy with wild fowl shooting.

The agricultural 'portions' of the estate are divided into numerous farms of convenient sizes with good farmhouses and homesteads, various smaller holdings, excellent cottages, houses, village shops and other premises. The farms are let to capital tenants (many of whom, with their fathers before them, have been in occupation for a long period of years) at very moderate times rents. The lands are fertile, well cultivated, and to a considerable extent of especially high quality, growing heavy crops of wheat, barley and roots. The woods and plantations are well placed for holding game, with which the property abounds. The usual stock of pheasants is being reared and the estate includes much of the finest partridge ground in Norfolk. The estate is well timbered, pleasing in contour, and is bounded and intersected by capital hard roads.

Hanworth Parish Church is on the margin of the park, and post and telegraph offices are near at hand. The Cromer and Sheringham Golf Links are both within easy reach.
