Board of Trade (Railway Department), 7, Whitehall-Gardens, London, June 30, 1900.

RAILWAY AND CANAL TRAFFIC ACT, 1888.

In the Matter of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888, and in the Matter of an Application by the County Council of Gloucestershire for a Warrant, authorizing the Abandonment of the Thames and Severn Canal.

Warrant of Abandonment.

WHEREAS by section 45, sub-section (1), of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1898, it is enacted (inter alia) that where on the application of any Local Authority it appears to the Board of Trade that any canal or part of a canal thereinafter referred to as a derelict canal has, by reason of the default of the proprietors thereof, become unfit for navigation, the Board of Trade may, by warrant signed by their Secretary, authorize the abandonment by the existing proprietors of such derelict canal; and by sub-section 3 of the same section it is enacted that in the case of a derelict canal the warrant may be granted on the condition that the canal or any part thereof, with all or any of the powers relating thereto, be transferred to any person, body of persons, or Local Authority, and where any such condition is imposed, the Board of Trade may, if they think fit, frame and embody in a Provisional Order a scheme for the management of the canal or any part thereof.

And whereas by an Act passed in the 23rd year of the reign of King George III, cap. 38, the Company of Proprietors of the Thames and Severn Canal Navigation, hereinafter called "the Company," were incorporated and authorized to make and maintain a navigable canal from the River Thames or Isis, at or near Leachlade, to join the Stroudwater Canal at Wallbridge, near the town of Stroud, in the county of Gloucester, with a collateral cut from the said canal at or near Siddington, to or near the town of Cirencester, in the same county:

And whereas the powers of the Company were enlarged and amended by six subsequent Acts, viz.:—31 Geo. III, c. XVII; 36 Geo. III, c. XXXIV; 49 Geo. III, c. CXII; 53 Geo. III, c. CLXXXI; 42 and 43 Vic., c. LXXI; 57 and 58 Vic., c. CC; and the Company completed and opened for traffic the said canal and cut (hereinafter referred to as "the Canal"):

And whereas by the Thames and Severn Canal Trust Act, 1895, the Canal and Undertaking of the Company were transferred to and vested in the Thames and Severn Canal Trust thereby incorporated, and the Company was dissolved, and the said Canal Trust are now the Proprietors of the Canal.

And whereas the said Canal Trust have expended large sums of money with the object of putting the canal into a proper state of repair, but such expenditure has proved to be insufficient and their powers of raising money are exhausted:

And whereas an application has been made to the Board of Trade by the County Council of Gloucestershire (a local authority within the meaning of the said section), for a warrant authorizing the abandonment by the existing proprietors of the canal, and for a Provisional Order transferring the canal with all the powers relating thereto to the County Council of Gloucestershire, and constituting a scheme for the management and maintenance of the canal.

And whereas such public and other notices of the application have been given as were required by the Board of Trade.

And whereas the Board of Trade are satisfied that, by reason of the default of the proprietors of the canal, the canal has become unfit for navigation, and is a derelict canal.

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the powers conferred upon the Board of Trade by section 45 of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888, and of all other powers in that behalf enabling them, the Board of Trade do hereby authorize the abandonment of the canal as a derelict canal by the Thames and Severn Canal Trust, the existing proprietors thereof, upon condition that the canal with all the powers relating thereto be transferred to the County Council of Gloucestershire.

Dated the 30th day of June, 1900.

Courtenay Boyle,
Secretary of the Board of Trade.
