From Thursday February 11. to Monday February 15. 1691.

Warsaw, January 19.

THE Court is expected here about the middle of the next Month from Jawarow; and the King has Summoned all the Senators, and the General Officers of the Army, to repair hither against that time, in order to Consult with them about the Preparations for the next Campaign. The last Advices from the Frontiers confirm the Accounts we had by our former Letters of the Defeat of a great Convoy of Provisions which the Tartars were conducting to Caminiec; and of 400 Moldavians by a Party of our Garrison in Campolongo; but withal, tell us, That the Hospodar of Moldavia continued to draw what Troops he could together, with a Resolution to attack the Polish Garisons in that Province, and to force them to quit his Country; upon which, the King has ordered Reinforcements to be sent thither, being resolved to maintain those Places, which are so necessary to the Prosecution of his great Design, of annexing the Principality of Moldavia to the Crown of Poland. The Envoy of Moscow has not yet had Audience of the King, he pretending to several Ceremonies which were never granted to our Miniiters at Moscow; but in the mean time he has had a Conference with some of the Miniiters of this Court, to whom he has declared, That he is sent to Confirm and Strengthen the Good Correspondence and Friendship between the Czars and the Crown of Poland, and to Concert the Measures for carrying on the War against the Turks and Tartars the next year.

Weymouth, February 6. It has blown very hard for these last two days, during which, two Ships Rode in some danger off of this Place; one of them being an Ostend Privateer of 10 Guns and 135 Men, came into our Harbour this Day, who say, They have lately taken five French Prizes: The other continues in Portland Road, and is called the Crown Prize, bound to Plimouth.

Chester, February 10. The Easterly Winds continuing, accompanied with Frost and Snow, hinders the coming over of the Mails from Ireland.

Kensington, Febr. 12. Their Majesties having been Graciously Pleased lately to Incorporate divers Persons by the Name of the Governor and Company of Copper Miners, with several Privileges for the more effectual carrying on the making of Copper here in England; The Company did this Day Present to His Majesty a Field Piece made of English Copper, which His Majesty did very well approve of: And they proposing to Supply His Majesty with such and so many great Guns of the same Metall, as His Majesty should have Occasion for; His Majesty was pleased to Direct the Right Honorable the Lieutenant General of the Ordnance, to receive their Proposals, and give all Encouragement to this their Undertaking.

Whitehall, Febr. 14. at Night. There are just now come in 3 Holland Mails with Letters of the 12, 16, and 19, of this Month from the Hague, which tell us, That Things continued very quiet in Flanders, the violent Cold, and abundance of Snow that had fallen, making it impracticable to attempt any thing until the Weather changed, and the Thaw was well over. That the French in the mean time were drawing that way greatest part of their Troops that were Quarter'd in Alsace, and other Parts; and that 'twas Written from Paris, That the French King would set out the 6th of March on his Journey towards Flanders. That the Elector of Bavaria was expected there about the end of February; And that the Prince of Vaudemont was continued by the King of Spain in the Command of General of Arms in those Countries, under his Electoral Highness.

The Letters from Vienna of the 7th of February New Style, advise, That great Preparations were making by that Court for carrying on the War the next year; That the Emperor had resolv'd to raise several new German Regiments, and 9000 Hungarians; and 'twas said, That the Duke of Hannover would find 8000, and the Bishop of Munster 4000 Men, into his Imperial Majesties Service in Hungary. They confirm the taking and burning of the Palank and Town of Giza by the Imperialists; and add, That the Garrison of Great Woradin was reduced to the last Necessities, and could not hold out much longer: And that the Elector of Bavaria was on his departure for Flanders.

From Turin of the 2d of February they write, That the Duke of Savoy was not yet come back from visiting Coni, and his other Frontier Places towards the County of Nice; and that before his return he would meet the Governor of Milum at Final, against which place, according to the common Report, the preparations making by the French at Toulon are intended; They say likewise, that General Carras's was to be recalled, and that the Command of the Emperors Forces on that side would be given to the Duke of Savoy.

The Letters from Germany say, That the Troops of *Saxe Goth*a had pass'd the Rhine between Rhinburg and Dasfeldorp, and thence continued their march in order to joyn the Confederate Forces in Flanders.
