PURSUANT to an Order of the Chancery Division of the High Court of Justice, made on the 13th July, 1897, in the action Thomas Edward Best, deceased, ROBERT LAZENBY, plaintiff, and JOHN WALKER and others, defendants (1892, B. 5632), whereby an enquiry was directed whether either and which of Annie Meynell and Thomas Booth (whose correct names are believed to be Annie Maud Meynell and John Booth) and who are entitled to legacies under the will of the testator, Thomas Edward Best, was living at the testator's death, and whether either and which of them has died, and who are or is his or her legal personal representatives. The said Annie Meynell, otherwise Annie Maud Meynell, and Thomas Booth, otherwise John Booth, or, if dead, their legal personal representative or representatives, is or are, personally, or by their Solicitors, on or before the 28th day of October, 1903, to come in and prove their claims at the chambers of Mr. Justice Swinfen Eady and Mr. Justice Farwell, at the Royal Courts of Justice, Strand, London, England, or in default thereof they will be peremptorily excluded from the benefit of the said Order. Wednesday, the 11th day of November, 1903, at 12 o'clock at noon, at the said chambers, is appointed for hearing and adjudicating upon the claims. The said Thomas Edward Best died on the 18th December, 1890. The said Annie Meynell, otherwise Annie Maud Meynell, and Thomas Booth, otherwise John Booth, were the children of Emily Booth (formerly Lazenby). The said Annie Maud Meynell left England some 30 years ago for India and married Edmund Meynell (who came from Cokermonth, in Cumberland), it is believed, in India.—Dated this 8th day of July, 1903.
