Whitehall, February 10, 1905.

The KING was pleased this day, at Buckingham Palace, to confer the honour of Knighthood upon

Mr. John Foster Stevens, Judge of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and

Mr. Justice (Henry Bargrave) Deane.

Whitehall, February 11, 1905.

The KING was pleased, after the Council holden yesterday at Buckingham Palace, to present to Mr. Albert Victor Hardwick, of Muswell Hill, the Albert Medal of the First Class, conferred upon him by His Majesty's command for conspicuous gallantry in saving life as detailed below:—

On the evening of the 21st December, 1904, No. 4 Platform at Finsbury Park Station was crowded with people (estimated at over a thousand) awaiting down trains. A dense fog prevailed at the time.

An elderly lady fell from the platform just as an incoming train loomed out of the fog at a distance of a few yards. If her rescue was to be effected nothing but great promptitude, resourcefulness, and bravery could avail, seeing that but a few seconds remained for action, and the lady had injured her ankle and could not save herself.

Mr. Hardwick leapt on the line, and just succeeded in placing the lady and himself at full length on the ground between the rail and the wall supporting the platform when the train overtook them.

The engine and four coaches had passed the spot where they were lying before the train was brought to a standstill. The Railway Officials, having satisfied themselves that both the lady and Mr. Hardwick had escaped injury, directed the train to be moved forward slowly, and rescued and rescuer, to the great relief of the onlookers, were assisted to the platform in safety.

EDWARD THE SEVENTH, by the Grace of God, of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas King, Defender of the Faith,

To all whom these Presents may concern. Greeting!

Whereas, the Senators of Our College of Justice in Scotland are designated by the style and title of "Lord" by which style and title with the prefix of "Honourable" they are commonly known and addressed during their tenure of Office as Judges of the Court of Session.
