FRIDAY, JULY 6, 1906.

Whitehall, July 3, 1906.

On the occasion of Their Majesties' visit, on Wednesday, the 13th June, to the Sanatorium known as "King Edward VII. Sanatorium," which has been erected near Midhurst for the treatment of tuberculosis, the visit being undertaken with a view to the performance by His Majesty of the opening ceremony, the following Address was presented to His Majesty:—

May it please Your Majesty,

The advisory committee honoured by Your Majesty's command to supervise the construction of a sanatorium for the open-air treatment of early and curable cases of pulmonary consumption occurring in certain classes of the community, beg humbly to place before Your Majesty a brief report of their proceedings, which have resulted in the erection of the group of buildings to be opened by Your Majesty and the Queen to-day.

With a view of eliciting new ideas and encouraging originality of design, prizes of £500, £300, and £100 were, at the suggestion of Your Majesty, offered for essays on the subject, and, in order that advantage might be taken of all available experience in the structural arrangements of similar institutions, the architect appointed, Mr. H. Percy Adams, was directed to visit the newest and most important of the existing sanatoria. Members of the committee also visited the chief European institutions of the kind, and it is believed that all the improvements suggested by experience are embodied in the Sanatorium to be known by Your Majesty's name.

The class for which special provision is to be made includes those belonging to the various professions who may fall victims to phthisis and are unable to afford the expense incident to treatment in private sanatoria, clergymen and other ministers of religion, medical men, members of the teaching profession, together with clerks and others employed in business offices, or members of their families.

By Your Majesty's express desire the wealthy classes are not to be altogether excluded from the advantages of a sanatorium which, if it realizes Your Majesty's beneficent intention, is to be the best of its kind, and twelve rooms are set apart for their reception.

It is unnecessary to enter into a detailed description of the building, as every point can be explained in the course of the inspection which is to be made by Your Majesties. The main block is devoted entirely to the patients, each of whom has a separate room with a balcony on to which the bed can be wheeled if necessary, the upper storey being set back in order that the balcony for this floor should not interfere with the light and air of the rooms below. The twelve rooms for the well-to-do are in the centre, the eighty-eight for the others in the wings.

Recreation rooms are provided on the ground floor, while in the basement is a hydro-therapeutic department.

The administration block, containing the dining-rooms, nurses' rooms and kitchen, with its accessories, is separated from the main building by an ornamental garden. The communication between the two is by a corridor permitting of the direct access of nurses and domestic servants to the grand corridor leading to the patients' rooms.

Annexed to the administration block are the rooms of the resident medical staff, the consultation rooms, and the operating theatre, and in a convenient situation, isolated from the other parts of the Sanatorium, is the pathological laboratory. A clinical and research laboratory is also provided, as it is intended that scientific work, both preventive and curative, shall be one of the prominent objects of the Sanatorium.

The laundry is fitted with all the latest appliances, and special precautions are taken for sterilization of the linen. Adjoining it is the engine-house, from which is supplied the motor power for the dynamos that generate the electric light and the steam for heating the building.

Your Majesty will see with particular interest the chapel erected at the expense of Sir John Brickwood. It is entirely original in plan, consisting of two naves at right angles to each other, meeting in a chancel common to both. The sides enclosing the angle which looks to the south are formed by open arches, protected only by a cloister. By this admirable arrangement Divine service will practically be conducted in the open air, warmth being provided by heating the floor.

The site which the advisory committee were so fortunate as to secure is singularly beautiful and admirably fitted for all the requirements of a sanatorium. Its aspect on the southern slope of a hill, the height above the sea, the protection from the north and east afforded by the pine woods, the sandy soil, the dry air, the proportion of sunshine, the freedom from dust, the facilities for graduated walks on the rising ground, constitute a combination of advantages rarely to be met with.

The committee are confident that the natural advantages of the site, with skilled medical treatment in a perfectly appointed building, will result in the restoration to health of many of those suffering from early consumption, and in the hope and belief that in years to come blessings will be invoked on Your Majesty's name for the generous thought which prompted the erection of this institution, your committee now humbly pray that Your Majesty will be pleased to declare the Sanatorium open.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following gracious Answer:—

It gives The Queen and Myself great pleasure to be here to-day to open this magnificently situated building. I thank the most generous donor through whose munificence I have been enabled to found this Sanatorium which bears My name, and I am well assured that it will be a great pleasure to him to know that the noble gift which he placed at My disposal has been so usefully bestowed, and that it will be the means of affording relief to those suffering from the devastating scourge of tuberculosis. I congratulate the members of the advisory committee upon the wholehearted manner in which they have carried out the trust I reposed in them; and I thank them for the inestimable value of their advice and experience, and for the expenditure of time and labour, which, despite the many calls upon them, they have given to the work.

It is My desire that this institution shall afford accommodation for that large class of persons of slender means, in professional and other employments, for which no provision for sickness of this kind at present exists. It is also My wish that those persons of larger means who can afford to pay for treatment here should not be entirely excluded from the advantages to be derived from this institution, and I have accordingly decided that a small number of beds shall be reserved for them.

It has ever been My endeavour, and that of the Queen, to do all within Our power to mitigate suffering, and to check the ravages of disease. The Queen has shown Her deep interest in the fight against tuberculosis by becoming the patron of the proposed "Queen Alexandra Sanatorium" at Davos, and by permitting that institution to be called by Her name; and it is Our earnest hope that the Sanatorium which is now opened, and its research laboratories, equipped with every resource of modern science, may assist to advance the physiological knowledge of pulmonary diseases, and that this institution may, by treating the disease in its early stages, be the means of prolonging the lives of those whose career of honourable usefulness has been interrupted by this terrible malady.

I pray that God's blessing may rest upon this building and upon all who work within it and all who come to it for aid, and that it may be a means of alleviating suffering and saving life for this and many generations to come.

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have in pursuance of the Act of the thirty-third and thirty-fourth years of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, chapter thirty-nine, and of the Acts therein mentioned, that is to say, the Act of the third and fourth years of Her said late Majesty, chapter one hundred and thirteen, the Act of the fourth and fifth years of Her said late Majesty chapter thirty-nine, and the Act of the thirty-first and thirty-second years of Her said late Majesty, chapter one hundred and fourteen, duly prepared and laid before His Majesty in Council a scheme bearing date the thirty-first day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred and six, in the words following, that is to say:—

"We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England, in pursuance of the Act of the thirty-third and thirty-fourth years of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, chapter thirty-nine, and of the Acts therein mentioned, that is to say, the Act of the third and fourth years of Her said late Majesty, chapter one hundred and thirteen, the Act of the fourth and fifth years of Her said late Majesty, chapter thirty-nine, and the Act of the thirty-first and thirty-second years of Her said late Majesty, chapter one hundred and fourteen, have prepared and now humbly lay before Your Majesty in Council the following scheme for effecting a transfer of the ownership of the advowson or perpetual right of patronage of and presentation to the church and cure (hereinafter called 'the said benefice') of Abbots Langley, in the county of Hertford, and in the diocese of Saint Albans.

"Whereas the advowson or perpetual right of patronage of and presentation to the said benefice of Abbots Langley is vested for an estate in fee simple without incumbrances in Edward Henry Loyd of Langleybury, King's Langley, in the county of Hertford, Esquire, one of Your Majesty's Justices of the Peace.

"And whereas the said Edward Henry Loyd is desirous that the whole advowson or perpetual right of patronage of and presentation to the said benefice of Abbots Langley now vested in him as aforesaid, should be transferred to and be vested in the Bishop for the time being of the said diocese of Saint Albans.

"And whereas the Right Reverend Edgar, now Bishop of Saint Albans, is willing to accept such transfer, and in token of such his willingness and also in token that the same transfer has that consent of the Bishop of the diocese which by the Acts in the hereinbefore mentioned Act recited or by some or one of them is made necessary, he, the said Edgar, Bishop of Saint Albans, has executed this scheme as hereinafter mentioned.

"And whereas the transfer of the patronage of the said benefice of Abbots Langley, which is hereinbefore mentioned and hereinafter recommended and proposed will in our opinion tend to make better provision for the cure of souls in the parish or district in or in respect of which the right of patronage or advowson so recommended and proposed to be transferred as aforesaid arises or exists, that is to say, in the parish of Abbots Langley.

"Now therefore with the consent of the said Edward Henry Loyd (in testimony whereof he has signed and sealed this scheme), and with the consent of the said Edgar, Bishop of Saint Albans (in testimony whereof he has signed this scheme and sealed the same with his Episcopal seal), we, the said Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England humbly recommend and propose that upon and from the day of the date of the publication in the London Gazette of any Order of Your Majesty in Council ratifying this scheme and without any conveyance or assurance in the law other than such duly gazetted Order, the whole advowson or perpetual right of patronage of and presentation to the said benefice of Abbots Langley, now vested in him the said Edward Henry Loyd as aforesaid, shall be transferred to the said Edgar, Bishop of Saint Albans, and his successors in the same Bishoprick, and shall thereupon and thenceforth become and be absolutely vested in and shall and may from time to time be exercised by the said Edgar, Bishop of Saint Albans, and by his successors in the same Bishoprick for ever.

"And we further recommend and propose that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing any further or other measures relating to the matters aforesaid or any of them in accordance with the provisions of the said Acts or of any of them or of any other Act of Parliament."

And whereas the said scheme has been approved by His Majesty in Council: now, therefore, His Majesty, by and with the advice of His said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said scheme, and to order and direct that the same and every part thereof shall be effectual in law immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette pursuant to the said Acts; and His Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the said diocese of Saint Albans.

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have in pursuance of the Act of the sixth and seventh years of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, chapter thirty-seven, duly prepared and laid before His Majesty in Council a scheme bearing date the fourteenth day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred and six, in the words following, that is to say:—

"We, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England in pursuance of the Act of the sixth and seventh years of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, chapter thirty-seven, have prepared and now humbly lay before Your Majesty in Council the following scheme for authorizing the sale and disposal of certain property formerly belonging to the rectory of Leverington in the county of Cambridge and now vested in us.

"Whereas, under and by virtue of an Act of the thirty-third and thirty-fourth years of Her said late Majesty, chapter one hundred and fifty-five, section sixteen, certain lands particularly mentioned in the preamble of the said Act became vested in us for all the estate and interest therein of the Rector of Leverington and his successors and for the purposes and subject to the provisions applicable to other hereditaments vested in us for the purposes of our common fund.

"And whereas the said lands are not subject to any outstanding beneficial lease or grant, but some portions thereof on account of their character or situation are unsuitable or inconvenient to be held or applied for the purposes for which estates vested in us are applicable under the Acts by which our proceedings are governed.

"And whereas with a view to the advantageous appropriation of the same or of the proceeds thereof, for the ultimate improvement of our common fund, it is expedient that the said lands so in our possession as aforesaid, or such part or parts thereof as we shall at any time and from time to time think fit, should be sold or disposed of, and accordingly that we should be empowered to sell or dispose of our interest in such lands or in any part or parts thereof, in such manner as shall appear to us advisable.

"Now, therefore, we humbly recommend and propose that we may be authorized and empowered by instrument or instruments in writing duly executed according to law, from time to time to sell or dispose of, and duly to convey according to the provisions of the said first-mentioned Act all or any of the said lands so in our possession as aforesaid, with their appurtenances, and all our estate, right, title, and interest therein, or in any part or parts thereof, unto and to the use of any person or persons desirous or willing to purchase the same, and his or their heirs, executors, administrators, or assigns, or otherwise as he or they shall direct or appoint, and for such consideration as shall upon due calculation and enquiry appear to us to be just and reasonable, it being our intention to invest the proceeds of such sale from time to time as occasion may arise in the purchase of other lands, tithes, rent charges, tenements or hereditaments, or of some estate or interest therein convenient to be held by us for the purposes of the Acts by which our proceedings are governed as aforesaid, and in the meantime to invest the said proceeds in some Government or Parliamentary stock or other public securities in England.

"And we further recommend and propose, that nothing herein contained shall prevent us from recommending and proposing any other measures relating to the matters aforesaid, or any of them, in accordance with the provisions of the said first mentioned Act or of any other Act of Parliament."

And whereas the said scheme has been approved by His Majesty in Council: Now, therefore, His Majesty, by and with the advice of His said Council, is pleased hereby to ratify the said scheme, and to order and direct that the same and every part thereof shall be effectual in law immediately from and after the time when this Order shall have been duly published in the London Gazette pursuant to the said Act; and His Majesty, by and with the like advice, is pleased hereby to direct that this Order be forthwith registered by the Registrar of the diocese of Ely.

"II. And also all that contiguous portion of the said new parish of Saint George, Bickley, which is bounded upon the east and upon the north-east by the said parish of Chislehurst, and upon the remaining side, that is to say, upon the south-west, by an imaginary line commencing upon the boundary which divides the said parish of Chislehurst from the said new parish of Saint George, Bickley, at the point in the middle of the line of the South-Eastern Railway (distant three chains from the centre of the bridge which carries such line of railway across Yester-road) where the said line of railway crosses the middle of the stream called Kid Brook, and extending thence south-eastward along the middle of the said line of railway (thereby crossing the high road leading from Bromley to Chislehurst) for a distance of forty-two chains or thereabouts to the point where such line of railway again crosses the middle of the stream called Kid Brook, upon the boundary which divides the said new parish of Saint George, Bickley, from the said parish of Chislehurst."

Dover Harbour Works—Cautionary Notice Respecting.

As several instances have recently occurred of large ships fouling the staging of the South Breakwater at Dover, when entering or leaving the port, and doing considerable damage, and also of their fouling the Admiralty Pier, mariners are warned that not only is great skill required, owing to the varying conditions of the tidal streams, to enter or leave Dover Harbour safely, but that if that skill and care is not observed, it is possible that they may so disturb the staging, when fouling it, as to bring down on their decks the "Titan," employed in laying the concrete blocks, which weigh 400 tons.

They thus not only risk doing the staging work damage, but also large damage to themselves, even to being sunk, should the "Titan" fall on them.

As the strength and direction of the tidal streams vary daily as the work progresses, it is impossible yet to give any directions which would be of use, and it is considered that until the works have approached nearer to completion it is unsafe for large vessels to enter the harbour.

Approximate position, lat. 51° 7' N., long. 1° 19' E.

This Notice affects the following Admiralty Chart:—Dover Bay, No. 1698. Also, Channel Pilot, Part I, 1900, page 331.

With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 504 of 1906:—

The French Government has given notice, dated 15th June, 1906, that the beacon on the western point of the entrance to North passage, and other beacons in the approach to Rotoava having been destroyed by a cyclone, the following temporary beacons have been erected in the undermentioned positions:—

a. Three white beacons on Poniu, near the entrance to the North passage; vessels must pass to the southward of these beacons.

b. A white beacon on Togamaitu i Tai, Togmaitu i Uta, Tapaeroa, and Kopoapiro Shoals.

c. A white beacon surmounted by a ball, on the shoal situated at a distance of 1¼ miles S. 58° W. from Rotoava Light.

d. A white beacon on the shoal situated about 7¼ cables S. 16° W. from Rotoava Light.

Approximate position, Rotoava Light, latitude 16° 2½' S., long. 145° 38½' W.
