(o) All instances of neglect of duty shall be brought by the pilot superintendent before the commissioners, and he shall not compromise any offence committed by any pilot.

(p) The time of the pilot superintendent shall be wholly devoted to the service of the commissioners.

Pilots.

3. There shall continue to be one body of licensed pilots, who, having qualified or upon qualifying as hereinafter mentioned shall be licensed, and during the continuance of their licenses shall be empowered to pilot vessels to and from and throughout any part of the Tyne pilotage districts.

4. All pilots are prohibited from using in the pilotage service at sea or in port, or when boarding vessels, any cable boat, steam tug, or other vessel of any description excepting only the pilot steamer or steamers or other craft for the time being provided by the commissioners, hereinafter called the "pilot steamer." Provided, nevertheless, that in such individual cases as shall be afterwards allowed by the commissioners to have been cases of special emergency justifying the use of a boat or vessel other than the pilot steamer the said prohibition shall not apply.

5. Every pilot using the pilot steamer shall take his turn whether the vessel requiring a pilot be large or small, and if all the pilots (excepting those only qualified to pilot vessels not exceeding eight hundred and/or five hundred tons register) obtain vessels, the pilot steamer shall return for a relay of pilots, and as soon as a sufficient number are on board, the pilot steamer shall proceed to sea immediately.

Provided always that if any incoming steamers have arrived off the Bar and require pilots the pilot steamer shall proceed to sea without waiting for a full complement of pilots or shall supply some other means of providing such incoming vessels with pilots without delay.

Provided always that this bye-law is subject to the right of the shipowner or of the shipmaster to nominate and select his own pilot and also subject to the right of the pilot so selected to board the said pilot steamer by any means which he may select but upon the express condition that no pilot shall as provided by bye-law Number 4 board any incoming vessel for any purpose excepting from the said pilot steamer.

6. Every pilot shall use his utmost care and diligence to conduct the ships and vessels under his charge without causing or contributing to damage or injury thereto, or to other vessels, craft, quays, dock, walls, piers, bridges, or other erections; and shall behave himself with strict sobriety and due respect towards the owners, masters, and officers of the ships and vessels under his charge; and shall not leave his vessel until she is safely and permanently moored; and shall forthwith, but not exceeding in any case within forty-eight hours after his leaving each vessel, report in writing to the pilot superintendent all accidents, whether damage result therefrom or not, which may have happened to or be caused by such vessel while under his direction inwards or outwards; and such report shall state the time and place of the occurrence, the state of the weather, the direction of the wind, the time of tide, and such other particulars as may be likely to prove useful. He shall always have with him when on duty, a copy of these bye-laws, his license and a pilot flag, as described in the tenth of these bye-laws. On taking charge of a vessel he shall, if required, exhibit his license to the officer in command. In the case of vessels outward bound, he shall repair on board at least two hours before high water, or when required by the master, to ascertain if the vessel of which he is about to take charge is ready for sea, or to moor in the river. In the case of vessels inward bound every pilot intending to take charge of a vessel coming into the port shall, unless prevented by stress of weather, board such vessel outside of the Tyne Piers, and remain on board until she is safely moored in port, and he shall not stop a vessel piloted seawards, for the purpose of leaving her, until she is fairly clear of the end of the Tyne Piers, except in case of stress of weather, or other case of emergency, nor except as aforesaid shall he leave such vessel inside the Tyne Piers, unless required so to do by the master of the vessel. He shall obey and execute all orders received from the commissioners or the nautical committee, the secretary, or the pilot superintendent. No pilot shall be absent from duty without the permission of the pilot superintendent, and every pilot found guilty of drunkenness whilst on duty shall be liable to have his license cancelled or suspended.

7. All pilots before boarding the pilot steamer, shall first visit the pilot office and lookout houses to ascertain what orders there are for vessels expected inwards, and shall pay due regard thereto. Pilots must take charge of vessels requiring pilots without preferring one vessel over another.

8. Pilots must first obtain leave from the pilot superintendent before engaging to pilot vessels from other British or from Foreign ports into the River Tyne, and failing such leave, the pilot next in turn on board the pilot steamer is to be entitled to the inward pilotage of any such vessel.

9. Every pilot engaged to pilot a vessel lying in the river, and bound into the Tyne, Northumberland, or Albert Edward Docks, shall be on board at least one hour before high water to make ready for going into dock, and every pilot in charge of a vessel in any part of the district shall be held responsible until the pilotage is completed.

10. Every pilot shall provide himself with a red and white flag three feet long by two feet broad, and of two colours, the upper horizontal half white and the lower horizontal half red. On taking charge as pilot of any vessel, he shall cause his flag to be hoisted on board such vessel at the gaff-end under the ensign, or wherever it may be most conspicuously seen (except on the foremast), and he shall keep his flag continually flying whilst in charge of any vessel. This bye-law shall apply to every vessel outward or inward bound, at sea or in port, under weigh or at anchor, and under all circumstances so long as any vessel is in charge of a pilot.

11. All pilots and pilots' assistants at all times, and particularly whilst on board of the pilot steamer or whilst in charge of any vessel, or whilst using or being at or near any of the offices, lookout houses, or other premises used or occupied for the purposes of the pilot service, shall conduct themselves with strict sobriety and be always of good behaviour; and shall on no account use insolent, improper, or quarrelsome language to, about, or concerning any commissioner or any member of the pilots' committee or any official of the commissioners or to the master or officers of any vessel, either on any of the aforesaid premises or elsewhere, and if on the said premises the offenders may be forthwith ejected therefrom without prejudice to other penalties under any of these bye-laws.

12. All pilots shall obey the bye-laws for the time being, and all orders, resolutions, and directions of the commissioners, or of any committee of the commissioners; and also all proper orders and directions that may be given to them by the pilot superintendent or by the dock and harbour masters relative to the docking, undocking, towing, transporting, removing, or berthing of vessels under their charge.

Collection and Application of Pilotage.

13. Every pilot earning any pilotage dues or earnings of any description, including services in respect of vessels piloted, docked, undocked, moved, or in any way transported or attended by him, shall on completion of his services tender for signature to the master or other person in charge of the vessel, in respect of which such dues or earnings have arisen, a form of order on the owner, consignee, or agent at one of the Tyne ports, or at Sunderland or Blyth for payment of such pilotage dues or earnings, to be in such order specified, and shall forthwith on receipt of such order deliver the same to an official of the commissioners at the pilot office, Green's-place, South Shields, or at such office or place as the commissioners shall from time to time prescribe. In no case shall pilots deliver their pilotage orders at the pilot office later than the day after vessels have been piloted, and every pilot failing to do so without sufficient reason shall be reported by the secretary to the commissioners, and in each such instance the pilotage shall be retained until the commissioners have given their decision thereon.

14. Every pilot shall make daily returns on forms to be prescribed by and furnished at an office of the commissioners of the vessels piloted, docked, undocked, moved, or in any way transported or attended by him, showing the amount of pilotage dues and earnings of every description earned each day by him; such returns shall be made by each pilot to the secretary at the principal office of the commissioners, and in default of so doing, or in default of his paying over such pilotage dues and earnings as by the next of these bye-laws he is authorized to receive, he shall in each case be subject to a deduction from his share of pilotage of a sum not exceeding ten shillings, and be liable to have his license withdrawn or suspended.

15. Every pilot is prohibited from receiving from any owner, consignee, agent, or master any pilotage dues or earnings of any description, excepting only when there is no owner, consignee, or agent of the vessel piloted resident or carrying on business in any of the ports within the Tyne pilotage district, or in Sunderland or Blyth. In any case of the pilot receiving the dues or earnings he shall forthwith pay over the same without deduction to the proper officer of the commissioners at their principal office, or at such place and time as the commissioners may from time to time direct.

16. All owners, consignees, and agents at any of the Tyne ports, or at Sunderland or Blyth, of vessels piloted in the Tyne pilotage district, are hereby required to pay all pilotage dues and earnings of every description to the commissioners' collector for the time being, and not to any pilot. This bye-law is not to be construed to abridge or affect the legal liability of owners, masters, consignees, or agents to pay such pilotage dues and earnings, and is intended to provide for payment thereof to the commissioners' collector, on behalf of the pilots, instead of to the pilots.

17. From the pilots' earnings of every description from time to time received by the commissioners there shall be deducted by them sums not together exceeding one equal one-fourth part of such earnings, and the sums so deducted shall be applied by them

(a) to maintain, develop, and improve the pilotage service, and in particular to discharge all repairs, insurance, rents, rates, taxes, assessments, and outgoings in respect of the properties of the commissioners as such commissioners, and all office expenses and the salaries of officers or servants of the commissioners on shore, including salary of their collector of the said earnings, and expenses of collection, all ordinary law expenses, and other miscellaneous expenses incident to the duties and to the exercise of the powers of the commissioners.

(b) to discharge costs of purchase, hire, maintenance, repair, insurance, depreciation, and management of all steam cutters or other vessels employed by the commissioners in regard to the work of the pilots and of the boats' gear, machinery, and appliances of such cutters or other vessels, and the salaries, wages, and expenses of masters and crews of such steam cutters or other vessels, and of such persons training for the office of pilot (and herein called "pilots' assistants"), as the commissioners may employ.

(c) subject to (a) and (b) on payments to the credit of the General Pilotage Fund for the provision of the pensions and other relief mentioned in bye-law 47, and in the clause (d) next following.

(d) subject to (a) (b) and (c) on such compensation, if any, as the commissioners may think proper to pay to any pilots or pilots' assistants or officials or other persons employed by the commissioners whose position or prospects may in the opinion of the commissioners be injured by alterations from time to time by them in the mode in which the pilotage services are to be effected and regulated.

18. Any sums deducted under the preceding bye-law, but found to be in excess of the amount required for the purposes therein mentioned may, at the option of the commissioners, either be capitalised and invested as additions to the General Pilotage Fund or be divided under the following bye-law amongst the pilots, or be dealt with partly in the one way and partly in the other.

19. The net amount of the earnings referred to in bye-law 17 remaining after effect given to bye-laws 17 and 18 shall be divided between the pilots who earned such earnings in proportion to the respective amounts earned by such pilots respectively. The decision of the commissioners as to such proportion shall be conclusive, and the division shall be as nearly as possible monthly or more frequently in the discretion of the commissioners.

20. No action shall be brought or claim set up against the commissioners by any pilot in respect of the collection, apportionment, or division by the commissioners from time to time of the said earnings.

21. The commissioners may from time to time purchase or hire on such terms and for such periods as the commissioners shall think fit, one or more steam cutters or other vessels, of such size, burthen and equipment, and at such cost as the commissioners shall from time to time think fit, for the use of the pilots, and to enable them to keep the sea in every state of weather, and also for river service, with all necessary cables and other boats, gear, machinery, and appliances, and may keep any and every such cutter or other vessel insured and indemnified against all insurable risks, and may repair, maintain, and navigate every such cutter or other vessel; and may employ and pay and discharge, remove, and substitute masters, crews, and engineers, and may, at the discretion of the commissioners, and for any of the purposes by these bye-laws authorized, enter into all necessary charter-parties and other contracts.

22. Every master and every mate in the merchant service obtaining a pilotage certificate enabling him to pilot his vessel within any portion of the Tyne pilotage district pursuant to Part X of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, shall for each occasion on which he navigates his vessel within the district or part of the district to which his certificate applies pay to the commissioners, as in the next bye-law mentioned, a sum not exceeding in the discretion of the commissioners five per centum of the gross amount of pilotage dues payable in respect of the vessel to a qualified Tyne pilot on each such occasion. Every such payment shall be placed to the credit of the General Pilotage Fund. Provided always that such payments shall not entitle any such master or mate nor his widow or children to any pension, superannuation, or other benefit. Provided also that such payment shall not be made in respect of the same vessel, either for inward or for outward pilotage, more than once in a period of ten consecutive days.

23. Every such master and mate certificated as aforesaid shall, within one calendar month after each half-year ending on the thirtieth day of June and the thirty-first day of December respectively, make a return in writing of the occasions during the half-year immediately previous on which he shall have navigated vessels within the Tyne pilotage district, with the names and all needful particulars of the vessels, and shall within the same periods respectively from time to time pay to the secretary at the principal office of the commissioners the amounts due from him under the foregoing 22nd bye-law.

Pilots' Assistants.

24. Candidates for the pilot service must not be under fourteen years of age or over eighteen years of age. They will be required to prove that they are able to read and write correctly and that they have a competent knowledge of arithmetic, and must possess such other requirements as the commissioners shall from time to time prescribe. The name of every candidate shall be entered in the pilot superintendent's register and character book on his first entering the service and his character shall be therein yearly entered up by the pilot superintendent, and, unless otherwise ordered by the commissioners, vacancies in the pilotage service shall be filled up according to priority of date of entry as aforesaid.

25. All approved candidates for the pilot service shall be deemed officers of the commissioners, and shall act as assistants in the pilotage service for seven years under the direction of the commissioners before attaining the age of twenty-eight years, the first five of which are to be served in the Tyne pilotage district. No assistant shall leave the pilotage service in any case without permission from the pilot superintendent, and on application for examination for a pilot's license, proof shall be required of the satisfactory completion of the seven years term of service. Each such assistant shall serve six months of the above term after the first five years as seaman on board a sailing ship or ships, and shall serve one year and six months of the above term on board of a steam ship or steam ships, but such two years service in sailing and steam ships shall be made when and as may be approved of by the commissioners. During service in sailing and steam ships, every assistant shall use his utmost efforts to become familiar with and experienced in the steering, handling, and working of such vessels.

26. The commissioners, or the nautical committee thereof, shall have power as and when they shall think fit to hold investigations into the conduct of any pilot's assistant and to summon and require his attendance on any investigation and to dismiss any pilot's assistant from the pilot service at any time upon any misconduct on the part of the assistant deserving, in the judgment of the commissioners or of the nautical committee, such punishment.

27. Satisfactory testimonials, including a surgeon's certificate that a candidate for the pilot service is of sound health, and free from colour-blindness, shall in every case be submitted to the commissioners before a license is granted.

28. Every assistant who shall have served the above term of seven years and shall apply for a pilot's license shall, if eligible in other respects, undergo an examination under the direction of the commissioners for the purpose of ascertaining his skill, knowledge, and experience in relation to the navigating, piloting, and conducting of steam and sailing vessels, including knowledge of the rule of the road at sea and his freedom from colour-blindness. He must be able to give a correct and seamanlike description of the river, harbour, docks, and piers, and must know the course and distance between any two places within the Tyne pilotage district. He must be able to navigate any vessel requiring a pilot into, from, and throughout any part of the Tyne pilotage district, and for this purpose must possess a thorough knowledge of the chart and mariners' compass. He must be familiar with the rise and set of the tides; the depth and character of the soundings; the best anchorages; the sand banks, rocks, shoals, and other dangers; the landmarks, buoys, and lights, and the marks and deeps of the lead line; he must understand the complete management of a vessel, and how to bring her to anchor, and to keep her clear of her anchor in a tideway; how to moor, unmoor, and get under way; and how to handle a vessel under any circumstances. The number of pilots' assistants shall be entirely in the discretion of the commissioners.

Licenses and Renewals.

29. Every pilot license when first granted and for a period of not less than one year thereafter, shall apply only to and authorize the navigating, piloting, and conducting of vessels not exceeding five hundred tons net register. After the expiration of one year every pilot who continues to hold such a license may in the discretion of the commissioners be required to pass a further examination on such heads and particulars as the commissioners shall from time to time by resolution prescribe, and on his passing such further examination, if so required, he shall be eligible to conduct vessels not exceeding eight hundred tons net register. If at the expiration of the last-mentioned period of one year's service and on further examination by the commissioners the pilot shall be deemed competent a full pilot's license shall be granted to him by the commissioners. Provided always that the commissioners may from time to time in the case of either young pilots or old or infirm pilots, or in other special cases, restrict the form and operation of a pilot's license to such size of vessels and for such period and on such conditions as the commissioners shall prescribe. The commissioners shall not be bound to renew the license of any pilot and the same may be withdrawn by the commissioners if they consider that the pilot either from physical disability, misconduct, or from any other cause, is unable or unfit to carry out his work in a satisfactory manner.

Fees Payable by Pilots.

30. Every pilot hereafter licensed shall on receiving his license to pilot vessels not exceeding five hundred tons pay to the commissioners a fee of two pounds, and on receiving a license to pilot vessels of not exceeding eight hundred tons pay a further fee of one pound, and on receiving his full license shall pay a further fee of one pound, and for the annual renewal of his license one pound, the latter due on the first day of July in each year and payable within one calendar month thereafter, and for the renewal of any license in place of one lost ten shillings. Every pilot being a pensioner on the General Pilotage Fund shall be liable to pay the annual renewal fee during each year that he earns pilotage earnings amounting to one hundred pounds or upwards. Pilots being pensioners earning less in any year shall be exempt for that year.

31. Every master and every mate of any ship obtaining from the commissioners a pilotage certificate pursuant to section five hundred and ninety-nine in Part X of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, shall on receiving his license pay to the commissioners a fee of two pounds, and for the annual renewal of his license ten shillings, and for the renewal of any license in place of one lost ten shillings.

32. In addition to persons qualifying for the pilot service as prescribed by the foregoing by-laws, the commissioners shall have power to grant licenses to such masters in the merchant service holding certificates of competency granted by the Board of Trade under the Merchant Shipping Acts, as the commissioners shall select as pilots, subject to each person before being licensed under this bye-law serving for a period of twelve months as an assistant in the pilot service under the direction of the commissioners, and passing the examination prescribed by the 28th bye-law, and a further examination if required under the 29th bye-law, but assistants in the pilot service having duly qualified themselves for licenses shall be preferred over masters applying for licenses under this bye-law.

33. There shall be a committee appointed by the commissioners for examining in the presence of the pilot superintendent all applicants for licenses, and this committee shall consist of the chairman and two members to be appointed by the commissioners of the pilots' committee mentioned in bye-law number 34, and of the two commissioners elected by the pilots, three of whom shall form a quorum.

Pilots' Committee.

34. There shall be a committee of pilots appointed by the commissioners to hear and settle disputes between pilots themselves, or between pilots and assistants, or between assistants, and the pilot superintendent shall, if requested by any of the parties interested, refer the case to the commissioners for their decision, which shall be final and binding upon the parties. The committee shall consist of such number as the commissioners shall from time to time appoint. For the present and until the commissioners shall otherwise appoint, the committee shall consist of twelve members with the addition of the two commissioners elected by the pilots, five of whom shall form a quorum. The three members of the committee who have acted longest as such shall retire at the end of each year, namely, on the date of the annual election of such two commissioners by the pilots, but shall be eligible for re-election, and three members shall be elected out of the body of the pilots by the pilots themselves at a meeting convened for the purpose held after but on the same day as the said annual election, and the members then elected or re-elected shall, if approved, be appointed by the commissioners to act on the committee for the ensuing year.

35. Each member of either of the committees mentioned in bye-laws Numbers 33 and 34 shall hold office during the pleasure of the commissioners, and in case of the death, resignation, or removal of any member of the committee, the vacancy shall be filled up by the commissioners. Any other of the commissioners may be present at any meeting of either of these committees.

Vessels requiring pilots and bound from any part of the river and which have proceeded direct to sea must pay pilotage to sea.

42. When any vessel at sea, inward bound to the River Tyne, shall arrive within the limits of the pilotage district of the Tyne without a pilot of the Tyne on board, the pilot who first offers his services thereafter shall, although such services be refused by the master or other person having the charge and control of the vessel, be entitled to receive one half of the pilotage dues for the pilotage inwards of such vessel, in case the master or other person having the charge or control of such vessel shall, after such refusal, employ any other pilot to pilot such vessel inwards into the Tyne. Such inward pilotage shall be so divided, notwithstanding that the pilot actually employed was not informed that a pilot had previously offered his services as aforesaid. Provided that no pilot shall be entitled to such share of the inward pilotage of more than one inward bound vessel refusing his services within twelve hours from the first offer and refusal.

43. A pilot engaged in general terms at sea who pilots a vessel into the harbour, but is there superseded by another pilot, shall be entitled to receive in addition to the pilotage from sea into the harbour, half of the further pilotage to her destination.

44. When a vessel at sea bound into the Tyne shows one or more authorized signals for a pilot, and does not employ a pilot responding thereto, the inward pilotage of such vessel into Shields Harbour shall nevertheless be payable by such vessel to such pilot, and the amount thereof shall be recoverable before a court of summary jurisdiction in the same way as pilotage dues are recoverable.

Docking and Transporting.

45. The rates for docking, undocking, transporting, shifting, and moving within the port not covered by the foregoing rates of pilotage shall be as follows, viz. :—

Vessels not exceeding 200 tons net register	5	0
" " 400 " "	7	6
" " 600 " "	10	0
" " 800 " "	12	6
" " 1000 " "	15	0
" exceeding 1000 tons, for every 100 tons, or part of 100 tons above 1000 tons, a further charge of	1	0

In the case of vessels exceeding four hundred tons net register, two-thirds only of the above rates to be charged for moving vessels from tier to tier, or from tier to any dry dock within the distance of three hundred yards.

For a pilot's attendance in harbour when required on any vessel, when not ultimately engaged to pilot such vessel, per day or part of a day seven shillings and sixpence.

Launches.

The rates for attending at the launch of any vessel in the river Tyne, and conducting her to her moorings in dock or elsewhere within the port shall be as follows, viz. :—

" " 600 " "	25	0
" " 800 " "	30	0
" " 1000 " "	32	6
" exceeding 1000 tons, for every 100 tons or part of 100 tons above 1000 tons, a further charge of	1	0

For a pilot continuing in charge on request whilst a steamer's compasses are being adjusted ten shillings extra for such service.

Complaints : How to be Made.

46. All complaints of offences shall be made in writing, signed by the party aggrieved, and delivered to the secretary of the commissioners, or left at the head office as soon as practicable, and the secretary shall summon all such persons as the commissioners or any committee may desire to examine, to attend any meeting of the commissioners or committee.

Pilotage Funds.

47. Whereas since the first day of October, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, the then separate sea and river pilots' funds have been amalgamated, and are now included under the term "The General Pilotage Fund." And whereas it was thought possible that certain river pilots might have been injuriously affected by such amalgamation : and it was therefore provided that each river pilot pensioned on the first day of October, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, should, in lieu of the pension then receivable by him, receive a pension of thirty pounds per annum during his life, and that each river pilot who should have attained the age of forty-five years, on the said first day of October, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, should thereupon and until he should attain the age of sixty years, be entitled to a pension of eighteen pounds per annum, and upon his attaining the age of sixty years should be entitled in lieu of the said last mentioned pension to receive a pension of thirty pounds per annum during his life, and that the aforesaid pensions to river pilots living on the first day of October, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, should not prevent them continuing to act as river pilots in the same manner as they did previous to such date, it is declared that so far as still capable of taking effect the said provisions should continue in force.

48. Other pensioners on the sea and river pilots' funds on the first day of October, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, if still living shall continue to receive pensions and allowances upon the same conditions as heretofore.

49. Sea and river pilots licensed prior to the said first day of October, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, shall continue to be entitled to pensions and allowances upon the conditions in force on and before that date ; provided also that such last-mentioned pensions and allowances may be by the commissioners from time to time varied and if necessary reduced if in the opinion of the commissioners the funds available after payment of expenses ranking prior thereto are insufficient to pay and provide for the pensions and allowances charged thereon.

50. The pensions and other relief intended under clause (c) of bye-law 17 are the relief of the widows and children of pilots licensed since first October, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, or of any such pilot and his wife or children in case of his temporary sickness, and pensions to any such pilot when permanently disabled by age or infirmity. The commissioners may also out of the General Pilotage Fund pay or contribute towards the funeral expenses of any pilot in such special and individual cases as the commissioners shall in their discretion think fit. The commissioners may also out of the General Pilotage Fund pay or contribute towards the cost of promoting or opposing any Bill in Parliament affecting the pilotage service or of otherwise protecting the interests of the pilots. The commissioners may also pay or contribute towards the cost of defending any pilot or pilots in any action or proceedings which may be brought against any pilot in such special cases as the commissioners may approve of.

51. No pension shall be assigned or assignable, and every pension shall be payable only to and against the receipt of the pensioner entitled thereto, and no attempt by any pensioner to anticipate, assign, mortgage, or otherwise deal with any pension shall be recognised or acted on.

52. For the purposes of the separate accounts to be returned to the Board of Trade, pursuant to section five hundred and eighty-five of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, the income from funds from time to time invested at interest as part of the general pilotage fund shall be primarily applicable to payment of pensions, superannuations, and benefits pursuant to the foregoing bye-laws, and shall be accordingly annually transferred from the general pilotage fund to a separate account to be intitled "Receipts and expenditure in respect of pensions, superannuations, and other benefits," together with other items of receipts and expenditure appearing in the general pilotage fund applicable to pensions, superannuations, and benefits, and together with such further amount to be annually transferred from the general pilotage fund applicable to pensions, superannuations, and other benefits as shall, subject to working expenses from time to time, be available and required to balance the account of receipts and expenditure in respect of pensions, superannuations, and other benefits. Save as aforesaid, the general pilotage fund shall continue to be administered as heretofore.

53. All funds now in or hereafter coming into the possession of the commissioners in respect of the Tyne pilotage district, and available for investment, including the amalgamated sea and river pilots fund, may be and remain at the discretion of the commissioners invested, and may be from time to time invested and re-invested upon any of the following securities, namely:—

(1.) Upon loan to the Tyne Improvement Commissioners upon any of the securities on which these Commissioners are from time to time authorized by law to borrow money.

(2.) In any post office savings' bank.

(3.) In the public funds.

(4.) Upon real securities of freehold or copyhold tenure in England or Wales.

(5.) Upon the debentures or debenture stock or the preference stock or preferred ordinary stock of any English, Scotch or Welsh railway company.

(6.) Upon the securities offered by any municipal corporation, body of commissioners, harbour authority or other corporation aggregate in England authorized by law to borrow money, including any debenture or preference stock of any gas or water company incorporated by Act of Parliament or by any Provisional Order confirmed by Parliament.

(7.) In the purchase of real property situate in England.

(8.) In addition to the foregoing, upon any of the securities upon which a trustee is authorized to invest trust funds by "The Trustee Act, 1893," or by any amendment thereof, or by any other statutory authority in force for the time being applicable to trustees and trust funds.

Penalties for Breach of Bye-laws.

54. Every pilot or assistant offending against or contravening any of the preceding bye-laws or any bye-law hereafter ordained by the commissioners, or any rules, orders, regulations, or ordinances from time to time made by the commissioners shall for every such offence forfeit and pay a penalty not exceeding five pounds. The commissioners shall assess the amount of penalty to be paid in each case, and shall have power to deduct the same from any money belonging to the pilot in their hands, or which may afterwards be earned by the pilot offending. In addition to this penalty, any pilot so offending is and is hereby made liable to have his license restricted, recalled, or suspended by the commissioners or by any committee of the commissioners.

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS there was this day read at the Board a Memorial from the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, dated the twenty - first day of September, one thousand nine hundred and six, in the words following, viz. :—

"And whereas by section three of the Naval and Marine Pay and Pensions Act, 1865, it is enacted inter alia that all pay, pensions, or other allowances in the nature thereof payable in respect of services in Your Majesty's Naval or Royal Marine Forces to a person being or having been an Officer, Seaman, or Marine therein, shall be paid in such manner and subject to such restrictions, conditions and provisions as are from time to time directed by Order in Council :

"And whereas we consider it is desirable that we should have greater power of control with regard to the settlement of debts of the nature above specified :

"We beg leave humbly to recommend that Your Majesty may be graciously pleased by Your Order in Council to direct that any Pay, Half Pay, Pension, Retired Pay, Gratuity, or other allowances payable to an Officer shall be liable to be abated in order to meet Mess Debts or other liabilities in respect of his Mess or any similar debts or liabilities, subject always to any general regulations which we may think fit to make in that behalf and subject to any special directions which we may think fit to give in any particular case:

*Lake St. Peter—Leading Lights Established,

With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 867 of 1906:—

The Government of the Dominion of Canada has given further notice, dated 15th October, 1906, that Light-vessel No. 2 in Lake St. Peter has been replaced by a lighthouse from which a white fixed light, elevated 49 feet above the water, and visible in clear weather from a distance of 6 miles, is exhibited; it is shown from a white square dwelling, with red roof, surmounted by a red octagonal iron lantern, 28 feet high, above the concrete foundation on which it stands. It is situated at a distance of 2 miles S. 5° E. from the southernmost point on the eastern side of the entrance to River du Loup, in the position of the former light-vessel.

Approximate position, lat. $46^{\circ} 11' 25''$ N., long. $72^{\circ} 54' 20''$ W.

The above is the front light of the two under-mentioned pairs of leading lights, the rear lights of which have been established as follows:—

1. One white fixed light is shown from a tower erected at a distance of $3\frac{1}{2}$ cables S. 84° W. from the above front light. This light in line with the front light S. 84° W. leads through the channel from the light-buoy at Yamachiche curve to No. 2 curve.

2. A second white fixed light is shown from a tower erected at a distance of $3\frac{1}{4}$ cables N. 58° E. from the front light. This light in line with the foregoing front light N. 58° E. leads through the channel from No. 1 Light-ship to No. 2 curve.

The rear lights are each elevated 94 feet above the water, and visible from a distance of 6 miles; they are dioptric of the 5th order, and shown from red skeleton steel framework towers 73 feet high, with red lanterns, surmounting white dwellings, erected on white concrete foundations.

These lights have been placed with a view to the proposed widening and deepening of the channel; at present the leading lights in line give the red buoys a berth of only 75 feet; outward bound vessels must, therefore, keep a little to the south-eastward of the leading lines, to enable vessels going up the river to pass.
