

pension, if any, of a former Incumbent) of four hundred pounds (£400) or upwards he shall vacate his Fellowship at the end of a year from such presentation."

And whereas under paragraph 8 of the same Statute XXI it is further provided as follows, to wit:—

"Any Fellow who serves or has served in any privileged College office and who holds or has held one or any of such offices during a period of not less than two years continuously shall be entitled to retain his Fellowship notwithstanding the expiration of six years from the date of his election, unless and until he shall vacate the same otherwise than by lapse of time, for a further period, equal to the whole time of his service, whether continuous or not, and, after twenty years of such service, for the remainder of his life; provided always that not more than four Fellowships shall be thus held for life at any one time."

And whereas doubts have arisen whether in the true meaning of the said Statute a Fellow of the said College who has served for twenty years in a privileged College office and has thereby become entitled to retain his Fellowship for the remainder of his life can be instituted on the presentation of the College to any benefice of the clear annual value (not deducting the pension, if any, of a former Incumbent) of four hundred pounds (£400) or upwards without vacating his Fellowship at the end of a year from such presentation.

We the Master and Fellows of the said College do hereby in exercise of the powers given unto us by the aforesaid fifty-fourth section of the said Act alter and amend the Statutes of the said College by adding to paragraph 1 of the said Statute XXI the words following, that is to say:—

"Provided always that this shall not be deemed to apply to any Fellow who as hereinafter provided shall have served for twenty years in a privileged College office and shall have become entitled to retain his Fellowship for life."

Given under our Common Seal this twentieth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and seven.
