WHEREAS the territories of Africa now known as the British Central Africa Protectorate are under the protection of His Majesty the King:

And whereas by treaty, grant, usage, sufferance, and other lawful means, His Majesty has power and jurisdiction within the said Protectorate:

And whereas by an Order of His Majesty in Council bearing date the eleventh day of August, one thousand nine hundred and two, and entitled "The British Central Africa Order in Council, 1902," provision was made for the exercise of His Majesty's jurisdiction within the said Protectorate, and the Commissioner under the said Order appointed was empowered to make ordinances for the administration of justice, the raising of revenue, and generally for the peace order and good government of all persons therein:

And whereas it is expedient that the designation of the said Protectorate should be changed from the British Central Africa Protectorate to the Nyasaland Protectorate, that a Governor should be appointed for the said Protectorate in place of a Commissioner, that there should be an Executive Council and also a Legislative Council in and for the said Protectorate, and that the Legislative Council should have power to make ordinances for the peace order and good government of all persons in the said Protectorate, and that save as herein provided the said Council should exercise all such powers in that behalf as heretofore have been exercised by the Commissioner, subject in all respects to the provisions contained in the said British Central Africa Order in Council, 1902:

The appointment of such Deputy or Deputies shall not affect the exercise by the Governor himself of any of his powers or authorities. Every such Deputy shall, in the discharge of his office, conform to and observe all such Instructions as the Governor shall address to him for his guidance.

XIX. And all His Majesty's Officers, Civil and Military, and all other the inhabitants of the Protectorate are hereby required and commanded to be obedient, aiding, and assisting unto the Governor, and to such person or persons as may from time to time, under the provisions of this Order, administer the Government of the Protectorate.
