

By the Lieutenant-Governor.

A PROCLAMATION.

Isle of Man to wit.

Whereas the infectious disease, commonly called "Foot and Mouth Disease," prevails amongst animals in certain foreign countries:

And whereas in order to prevent the introduction into this Island of such disease, it is considered advisable to prohibit the importation of animals from abroad:

Now I, the said Lieutenant-Governor, by and with the advice and consent of two members of the Council, and in exercise of the powers contained in The Cattle Diseases Prevention Acts, do hereby order that from and after the date hereof no animal shall be imported into this Island from any place other than the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the Channel Islands.

The expression "Animal" in this Order shall mean cattle and sheep, as defined by section 18 of "The Cattle Diseases Prevention Act, 1865," and shall also include swine and goats.

Given this 4th day of January, 1909.

RAGLAN,

Lieutenant-Governor.
