His Majesty The King has been pleased to award the Edward Medal of the Second Class to Hannah Hugill:—

On the 11th September, 1909, Mrs. Hugill, on going into a field at Court House Farm, Great Busby, with her daughter to bring in some cows, was attacked by an infuriated bull. She defended herself with a pitchfork, but was knocked down by the bull, which commenced to gore her. Her daughter, Hannah, aged 15 years, who had been left at the gate, about a hundred yards from the place where her mother was attacked, came to her aid, and, recovering the fork from under the bull, used it with all her strength, thus diverting the animal's attention.

The mother and daughter then succeeded in making good their escape from the field, though the mother was again attacked while crossing the fence. The girl's action saved her mother from severe and, possibly, fatal injury.

Notice of Intended Exportation.

1.—(1.) For the purpose of enabling Local Authorities to enforce more effectively the provisions of the Exportation of Horses Order of 1898 any person intending to ship a horse for conveyance from any port in Great Britain to Belgium or the Netherlands shall give such notice of his intention as is hereinafter prescribed to the Clerk of the Local Authority of the District where the horse is intended to be shipped or to some person appointed by the Local Authority to receive such notices.

(2.) The notice shall be signed by the owner of the horse or a person authorised by him in that behalf and shall be given by post or otherwise in time for its receipt not less than twenty-four hours before the time of the intended shipment.

(3.) The notice shall state:—

(a) the number of horses intended to be shipped and the port of shipment;

(b) the date and the approximate time at which the horses will arrive at the port of shipment;

(c) the name and address of the owner and of the foreign consignee (if any), and the name of the port to which the horses are to be shipped;

2.—(1.) A Local Authority shall take the necessary steps to secure the examination by a Veterinary Inspector of every horse intended to be shipped for conveyance from a port in their District to Belgium or the Netherlands except where the information furnished by the notice of intended exportation or otherwise is sufficient to show that such examination is unnecessary for the purpose of enforcing the Exportation of Horses Order of 1898; and a Local Authority shall give such authority and directions to the Clerk or other person appointed to receive notices as will enable the provisions of this Article to be carried into effect, and the question as to whether an examination of a horse is unnecessary may be decided by the Local Authority, or if they so direct, by the Clerk or other person appointed to receive notices.

(2.) If the Veterinary Inspector is satisfied by his examination of a horse that it cannot be conveyed for the intended voyage without unnecessary suffering owing to age, infirmity, illness, injury, fatigue or any other reason, he shall serve a notice on the person in charge of the horse prohibiting its shipment unless and until the notice is withdrawn by the Veterinary Inspector. The Inspector shall also in every such case forthwith give notice of the result of his examination to a police constable with a view to action under the Injured Animals Act, 1907, unless the Inspector is satisfied that that Act does not apply.

Permit necessary for shipment.

3.—(1.) A horse shall not be shipped for conveyance from any port in Great Britain to Belgium or the Netherlands unless its shipment is authorised by a permit granted by the Local Authority of the District in which the port is situate or by an officer authorised by that Local Authority to grant such permits.

(2.) The permit may be in the form set forth in the Schedule to this Order or to the like effect, and for the purpose of identification, a person granting a permit may mark a horse by affixing a label with the letter P, together with the date, a number, or any other matter.
