No. 1450.—ADMIRALTY CHARTS.

Norway and Sweden.

Intended alteration with regard to sectors of minor lights.

It having been found impracticable to show, on certain of the Admiralty charts, the various sectors of a large number of minor lights in Norwegian and Swedish waters without a disproportionate sacrifice of legibility; in future, the sectors of these minor lights will be omitted from the smaller scale charts.

The sectors of these lights are now being removed from the chart plates; and any chart, when thus amended, will bear a cautionary note on this subject.

In order to provide mariners, in future, with full information as to the sectors, the following arrangements are now being made:—

In the year 1912, Part II of the Admiralty List of Lights will appear in two sections, A and B. Section B will contain the lights of Norway alone, and the descriptions of the sectors will be as given in the Norwegian Official List of Lights. All bearings in this section will be True Bearings. Section A will contain the remainder of Part II, arranged as at present.

The lights of Sweden will continue in Part III, without alteration of arrangement.

In other waters, it may be found necessary in certain cases to adopt the above method with regard to the charts; but in all cases where sectors are omitted, a cautionary note will be placed on the charts, and full details of the sectors will be given in the Admiralty List of Lights.
