PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by the 582nd and 583rd sections of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, it is enacted that a Pilotage Authority may, by bye-law made under Part X of that Act, do all or any of the things specified in section 582; but that a bye-law so made shall not take effect until it is submitted to His Majesty in Council and confirmed by Order in Council:

And whereas the Corporation of the Master and Assistants of the Trinity House of Leith, being a Pilotage Authority, have made and submitted for the confirmation of His Majesty in Council certain bye-laws as set forth in the Schedule hereto annexed:

And whereas it has been made to appear to His Majesty that the proposed bye-laws are proper and reasonable:

Now, therefore, His Majesty, by virtue of the powers vested in Him by the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, and by and with the advice of His Privy Council, is pleased to approve of, and doth by this Order confirm, the said bye-laws as set forth in the Schedule hereto annexed.

Almeric FitzRoy.

SCHEDULE to which the foregoing Order in Council refers.

Bye-laws made by the Corporation of the Master and Assistants of the Trinity House, Leith, hereinafter referred to as the Corporation, for the appointment and government of Pilots, in pursuance of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894:—

I.—No person shall hereafter be licensed to act as a Pilot unless he is twenty-one years of age, and has been for the space of seven years at least actually engaged and actively employed as a seafaring man, and unless during at least three years of that space he has served in no lower capacity than A.B. on seagoing vessels, other than tugs, lighters, trawlers, fishing or similar vessels. Every candidate must bear a good moral character, and be able to read and write, and have a competent knowledge of arithmetic; he must be able to give a perfect verbal account of the harbours, docks, and piers, and the course and distance from any place within the limits for which he wishes to act as Pilot, the flowing and the setting of the tides, depth of water, the proper places for good anchorage, and where to stop a tide, the sand banks, rocks, shoals, and other dangers, the landmarks, buoys, perches, and lights; he must also be seaman enough to know, not only the method of staying or wearing a vessel, but also the complete management of a vessel in bad weather and narrow channels, to bring her properly to anchor, to keep a clear anchor, to moor and unmoor and get under weigh in all situations, to manage a steamer under her main steam in narrow waters and know the action of right and left handed propellers; and, where necessary, he must be able to set off a ship's position or actual place on the chart, to understand the deviation of the compass and how it is applied to steer a magnetic course; he must also know the marks and deeps of the Deep Sea Lead Line. The candidate must also have a competent knowledge of the rules concerning lights, fog signals, rule of the road at sea, and distress signals as contained in the Regulations for Preventing Collisions at Sea, made by Orders in Council in pursuance of the Merchant Shipping Acts. Every candidate shall on application for a licence or extension thereof pay the examination fee of 40s.

Every Pilot on receiving his licence shall pay a further sum of 21s., and shall also pay the like sum of 21s. annually in respect of the renewal of his licence, and the receipt by the Corporation for such annual payment shall be sufficient evidence to all concerned that the licence has been renewed for the year then current.

II.—A copy of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, so far as applicable to pilotage, is hereto annexed, and the Pilots of the Corporation are required to comply with the provisions thereof, so far as incumbent on them.

III.—When a Pilot receives an order from the Corporation to pilot any ship or vessel, or when required at sea by the commander of any of His Majesty's ships or vessels, such Pilot shall repair on board of such ship or vessel to take charge of her and continue such charge according to the mode expressed in the said order or requisition.

IV.—Whenever called upon or required to pilot any ship or vessel, a Pilot shall, if under engagement to any other ship or vessel, forthwith make known such engagement, and specify the particulars thereof truly and faithfully to the person calling for or requiring the service of such Pilot; and in case of any concealment, misrepresentation, or falsehood, in respect of such alleged previous engagement, such Pilot shall be liable to suspension at the discretion of the Corporation.

V.—When a Pilot discovers any alteration in any sands or channels, or any hitherto unknown sand or rock, or that any buoys, beacons or light-vessels have been driven away, broken down, damaged, or are out of place, or any circumstance affecting the safety of navigation or of shipping, he shall give immediate information thereof in writing to the Corporation.

VI.—When a Pilot comes to an anchor he shall observe the setting of the tide and its force, and he must see that the vessel has room to swing on the flood and ebb tides clear of everything, and if it shall happen that he comes near a sand or rock or any obstruction likely to interfere with navigation, he shall immediately (if there are any other vessels in company) cause a signal to be made so as to acquaint those in charge of such other vessels of the danger.

VII.—The Commissioners for the Harbour and Docks of Leith having in force a bye-law to the effect that no person shall in future be licensed, nor, after being licensed, continue to act as Harbour Pilot, unless he hold a Firth of Forth licence (excepting always Masters or Mates holding pilotage certificates for their own vessels), it has been arranged with the said Commissioners that the limits of the said Harbour Pilots shall extend from a line to be drawn from Granton to Burntisland on the west, and from Pettycur to Portobello on the east.

VIII.—The Pilot licensed by the Corporation not holding a licence for the harbour to which the ship he is in charge of is bound shall, on approaching the limits of such harbour, require the master or officer in charge of such vessel to display and keep flying the usual signal for a Pilot, and if any Harbour Pilot is within hail or is approaching, he shall, by heaving to in proper time or shortening sail, or by any practical means consistent with safety, facilitate the Harbour Pilot getting on board. If no Harbour Pilot appears the said Pilot shall continue in charge of the ship until she reaches the roadstead, but on no pretence whatever shall he, unless licensed therefor, bring the vessel into the harbour—cases of necessity alone excepted.

IX.—In regard to vessels piloted to any Roads in the Firth of Forth for orders, repairs, or otherwise, the Pilot licensed by the Corporation to the said Roads shall, if required by the Master of such vessel, stay by the vessel as Pilot until orders are obtained or repairs effected and shall be remunerated at the rate specified in Article 12 hereof. If required by the Master and if the vessel receives orders to proceed to any port or harbour in the Firth, or having finished repairs, she intends to proceed to sea again, the Pilot shall take charge of the vessel so far as his licence allows him to do so, but if the vessel is ordered into the harbour, the Pilot shall, unless he holds a licence therefor, forthwith cease to act as pilot of said vessel—cases of necessity alone excepted.

X.—When a Pilot licensed by the Corporation and not licensed for Leith Harbour, has piloted any vessel intended for Leith Harbour, he shall, before leaving the vessel, require the master or officer in charge or in command of such vessel either to pay him the pilotage, or to sign and deliver to him an order on the owner, consignee, or agent, for payment thereof, specifying the vessel, and the pilotage service rendered.

Note.—If a Pilot so licensed cannot conveniently go to Leith he can as provided in Pilotage Bye-Law 13 of the Commissioners for the Harbour and Docks of Leith require the Harbour Pilot to deliver the order for his pilotage to the Shore Dues Office there, where the Master or Agent of the ship may pay it, and if so paid the money shall be handed to the Firth Pilot when called for, less 5 per cent. commission.

XI.—A master or mate to whom a pilotage certificate shall be granted by the Corporation in terms of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, section 599, shall be bound to exhibit his certificate to any licensed Pilot of the Corporation on all occasions. Every master or mate on applying for such certificate or extension of an existing certificate shall pay the examination fee of forty shillings. Every master or mate on receiving such certificate shall pay a further sum of ten shillings and shall also pay the like sum of ten shillings annually in respect of the renewal of his certificate, and the receipt for such payment shall be sufficient evidence to all concerned that the Certificate has been renewed for the year then current.

XII.—The respective rates, charges, or prices hereinafter enumerated and specified in the annexed tables, may and shall be lawfully demanded, exacted, and received by every Pilot licensed by the Corporation for the piloting or conducting of any ship or vessel from place to place, as expressed in said tables, and no other rates or prices, or other reward or emolument, shall under any pretence whatever be demanded, exacted, or received, by any such Pilot.

The daily pay of a Pilot who remains on board any vessel at the request of the master or during detention under quarantine shall, exclusive of his proper pilotage, be 10s. 6d. for every lay day or part of a lay day after the vessel's arrival over and above his proper maintenance out of the ship's stores, and the Pilot's time for such detention shall commence after the first full tide of his attendance on the vessel. When a Pilot has been engaged in Port, but not employed after offering his services to the person engaging him, he shall receive half pilotage dues. Should any dispute occur as to the distance any vessel was in charge of a Pilot, the same shall be decided by the Corporation.

XIII.—Every Pilot licensed by or under the authority of the Corporation shall, in obedience to the orders or summons of the Corporation, duly posted to or delivered in writing or offered to such Pilot, or left a reasonable time at the usual or last known place of residence of such Pilot, attend the Corporation at the Trinity House of Leith, to answer to any charge brought against such Pilot, or for the performance of any public service; and in default of such attendance, every Pilot so offending shall be liable for the first offence to a fine of Forty Shillings, and for the second offence to the cancellation of his licence.

XIV.—Every Pilot shall produce to the master of any ship, or other person employing him, when required to do so, these bye-laws and also the annexed relative Rates of Pilotage and excerpt Act of Parliament relating to Pilotage. The Pilot shall also produce his licence to every person by whom he is employed, or to whom he tenders his services, and this he shall specially do when he supersedes an unqualified Pilot. All masters and officers of vessels or any person employing a Pilot are warned that such Pilot's licence to be in order and valid for the current year must have attached to it the receipt for the annual payment of twenty-one shillings prescribed by bye-law No. I hereof.

XV.—Any vessel within the limits of the Firth of Forth, showing the usual signals for a Pilot, or being admittedly in quest of one, shall take the first Pilot offering, or, on his rejection, will be liable to him for full pilotage.

XVI.—When two or more pilot boats are making for the same vessel and are distant not more than half a mile from said vessel, the Pilot in the first or leading boat shall be entitled to board such vessel and the other Pilots in the vicinity shall not interfere in any way. And no pilot boat shall be towed by any other vessel past another pilot boat which is making for the same vessel if such vessel is in sight.

XVII.—Every Pilot in default of reasonable and sufficient food and sleeping accommodation being provided for him on board of any vessel under his charge when at anchor may leave such vessel and come on shore after giving the master or officer in command of such vessel at least one hour's previous notice in writing of his intention to do so, and every Pilot so leaving any vessel shall report the case to the Corporation at the earliest possible moment.

XVIII.—Every Pilot taking charge of a vessel shall be held responsible until the pilotage is completed, but in case such Pilot shall obtain the services of a substitute who is accepted by the Master or Officer in command of the vessel, such substitute shall take charge until the pilotage is completed, and shall be held responsible as if he had been the Pilot originally engaged.

XIX.—Any Pilot losing his licence shall forthwith give notice thereof to the Corporation stating the circumstances under which the licence was lost, and the Corporation shall, unless they are satisfied that the loss has been caused by the Pilot's misconduct, issue to such Pilot a duplicate licence and for such duplicate licence a Pilot shall pay ten shillings.

XX.—All candidates before being examined must produce certificates that they have recently passed Board of Trade colour and eyesight tests; and all holders of licences must submit themselves to the same tests when required by the Corporation and produce evidence of having passed such tests; and when required shall furnish proof to the satisfaction of the Corporation of continued physical fitness to act as a Pilot.

XXI.—In the event of any Pilot holding a Pilot's licence, or any master or mate holding a pilotage certificate issued by the Corporation becoming incapable or being in any way unsuitable, or it being undesirable in the public interest that the licence of such Pilot or certificate of such master or mate be continued, or in the event of any misconduct on the part of any Pilot or master or mate, the Corporation may cancel or suspend such licence or certificate, and such cancelling or suspension shall be entirely in the discretion of the Corporation, and no compensation or repayment shall be demandable in respect thereof.

XXII.—The whole powers and duties of the Corporation so far as arising under the foregoing bye-laws or under the Pilotage provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, and subsequent enactments, other than the powers of the Corporation with regard to suspension or dismissal of, or suspension or revocation of the licence of Pilots, may be exercised by a Committee of the Corporation appointed therefor.

XXIII.—These regulations and bye-laws shall commence and take effect from the date of the publication in the "Edinburgh Gazette" of the Order in Council approving the same, from which date all previous bye-laws made for the government of Pilots shall be revoked.

I hereby give Notice, pursuant to the 9th Section of the Act 5 and 6 Victoria, cap. 110, intituled "An Act for better preserving the Navigation of the River Mersey," that I have received a Notice from Messrs. Joseph Crosfield and Sons Limited, given pursuant to the provisions of the above mentioned Act, of their intention to construct a Steam Ferry Landing Stage in the River Mersey at Warrington, in accordance with plans and sections deposited at this Office, a copy of which Notice is subjoined.

A. Mostyn Field, Vice Admiral,
Acting Conservator of the Mersey.

To Vice Admiral A. Mostyn Field, F.R.S.,
Acting Conservator of the River Mersey.

In pursuance of an Act for better preserving the Navigation of the River Mersey (5 and 6 Victoria, cap. 110), we, Joseph Crosfield and Sons Limited, Bank Quay, Warrington, Soap and Chemical Manufacturers, hereby give you notice that we propose to construct at Walton, near Warrington, in accordance with plans and sections deposited at the Office of the Mersey Conservancy, two timber Dolphins, together with a floating steel Pontoon to be secured between the Dolphins.

The Dolphins will be constructed on lines which will correspond generally with the lines of the tidal flow and ebb at the place at which they are to be erected: the projection of the Dolphins into the tideway will be about 40 feet (measured from the line of high water on the Cheshire side of the River Mersey), and the object of the Dolphins and of the floating Pontoon is to provide a landing stage for a steam ferry for the accommodation of workmen employed at the cement works in Walton.

The Dolphins will exclude about 30 cubic yards of tidal water on a tide of the height of 21 feet, as measured from the sill of the Old Dock Gates in Liverpool.

The work will be commenced immediately upon the sanction of the Mersey Conservancy having been obtained thereto.

Dated this 7th day of November, 1910.

For Joseph Crosfield and Sons, Limited,
