Steamers' Lights.

7. A steam vessel other than a steam launch when under way shall exhibit:—

(a) On, or in front of the foremast, or if a vessel without a foremast, then in the forepart of the vessel at a height above the hull of not less than twenty feet, and if the breadth of the vessel exceeds twenty feet then at a height above the hull not less than such breadth, so, however, that the light need not be exhibited at a greater height above the hull than forty feet, a bright white light so constructed as to show an unbroken light over an arc of the horizon of twenty points of the compass, so fixed as to throw the light ten points on each side of the vessel, viz.:—from right ahead to two points abaft the beam on either side, and of such a character as to be visible at a distance of at least two miles. Provided that if there be more than one such lighter, float or raft of timber being towed in line the white light above referred to shall be exhibited on the stern, or after part, of the sternmost or last of such line.

(b) The master of a steam vessel shall not, by night, commence to tow any lighter lashed alongside such steam vessel unless a white light, of the construction and character above mentioned, is exhibited on the side of such lighter farthest from such steam vessel.

(c) The person in charge of the lighter, float or raft of timber, upon which in compliance with the foregoing provisions a white light is exhibited; shall by night, after the towage has commenced and during the towage, continue to exhibit such light.

Such light shall be exhibited as nearly as practicable on the same level as the side lights.

14. A vessel under one hundred and fifty feet in length when at anchor, or moored, shall, by night, exhibit forward, where it can best be seen but at a height not exceeding twenty feet above the hull, a white light (hereinafter called "the riding light") in a lantern so constructed as to show a clear, uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least one mile.

A vessel of one hundred and fifty feet or upwards in length when at anchor, or moored, shall, by night, exhibit in the forward part of the vessel, at a height of not less than twenty and not exceeding forty feet above the hull, one such light, and, at or near the stern of the vessel, and at such a height that it shall be not less than fifteen feet lower than the forward light, another such light.

(a) Where masted vessels are lying made fast at the moorings in the tiers, only the outermost off shore of such vessels, in each tier, shall be required to exhibit the riding light.

(b) Where masted vessels are lying made fast, fore and aft, at wharves, piers, jetties or derricks, only the outermost off shore of such vessels as are in the fairway shall be required to exhibit the riding light or lights above prescribed.

(c) Lighters lying at the usual barge moorings in the river above Gravesend, and lighters lying made fast at wharves, piers or jetties or alongside vessels thereat, shall not be required to exhibit the riding light.

This bye-law shall not apply to vessels used as hulks and moored fore and aft.

Vessel Aground in or near the Fairway.

16. A vessel of one hundred feet or upwards in length, other than a lighter aground in or near the fairway, shall, by night, exhibit in the forward part of such vessel three lights placed vertically, of which the centre one shall be red and the other two white (such lights to be visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least one mile), and, by day, shall exhibit two black balls or shapes not less than two feet in diameter, which shall be placed vertically in the forward part of the vessel not less than six feet apart.

A vessel of one hundred and fifty feet or upwards in length shall, by night, in addition to the above-mentioned lights, exhibit the after light required to be carried by a vessel at anchor.

The lights, or balls, or shapes mentioned in this bye-law shall be so placed that the lowermost in the forward part of the vessel shall be at a height of not less than 20 feet, and not more than 40 feet above the hull, and the after light not less than 15 feet lower than the lowermost forward light.

This bye-law shall not apply to vessels above London Bridge, or to vessels lying at tiers, wharves, piers or jetties.

Lights to mark positions of Wrecks.

17. All vessels when employed to mark the positions of wrecks, or other obstructions, shall exhibit, where the same may best be seen, by day, a green flag, and, by night, two white lights placed horizontally not less than six or more than twelve feet apart.

This bye-law shall not apply to that part of the Thames which lies below or to the Eastward of an imaginary line drawn due North (true) from Minster Church in the Isle of Sheppey in the county of Kent.

Steam Vessel to be provided with Steam Whistle.

21. A steam vessel shall be provided with an efficient steam whistle, so placed that the sound may not be intercepted by any obstruction; and with an efficient fog horn to be sounded by mechanical means; and also with an efficient bell. A sailing vessel of twenty tons gross tonnage or upwards shall be provided with a similar fog horn and bell. A dredger shall be provided with an efficient gong.

Sound-Signals for Vessels under Way.

22. All signals prescribed by these bye-laws for vessels under way shall be given:—

(i.) By steam vessels—on the steam whistle.

(ii.) By sailing vessels and vessels which are being towed and are not under steam, other than lighters—on the fog horn.

Vessel turning round.

23. When a steam vessel under way is about to turn round she shall signify the same by four short blasts of the steam whistle in rapid succession, followed, after a short interval, if turning with her head to starboard by one short blast, and if with her head to port by two short blasts, and, whilst turning, shall repeat such signal to any approaching vessel, which latter vessel shall take action to avoid collision.

Vessel not under Command.

24. When a steam vessel under way is for any reason not under command, or is unable to manœuvre as required by these bye-laws, she shall signify the same to any approaching vessel by four short blasts on her steam whistle in rapid succession, and thereupon such approaching vessel shall take action to avoid collision.

Vessel coming out of Dock.

25. A vessel coming out of dock shall signify the same by a prolonged blast of the steam whistle, except in the case of a vessel coming out of the St. Katharine's Dock, requiring the bascules of the Tower Bridge to be raised in order to get into position in the river, which shall signify the same by a prolonged blast of the steam whistle followed by three short blasts in rapid succession.

In the case of a vessel not under steam the tug in attendance shall make the foregoing signals.

For Vessels in Sight of One Another.

26. When vessels are in sight of one another a steam vessel under way, in taking any course authorized or required by these bye-laws, shall indicate that course by the following signals on her steam whistle, viz.:—

One short blast to mean "I am directing my course to starboard."

Two short blasts to mean "I am directing my course to port."

Three short blasts to mean "My engines are going astern."

For Vessels in Fog.

27. In fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain storms, whether by day or night, the signals described in this bye-law shall be used as follows, viz.:—

(e) A steam vessel under way about to turn, and whilst turning round, shall sound, at intervals of not more than two minutes, four short blasts in rapid succession, followed, if turning with her head to starboard, by one short blast, and if with her head to port, by two short blasts.

(g) A sailing vessel under way shall sound at intervals of not more than one minute, when on the starboard tack, one blast; when on the port tack, two blasts in succession; and when with the wind abaft the beam or becalmed, three blasts in succession.

(h) A vessel, when in the fairway and not under way, shall, at intervals of not more than one minute, ring the bell rapidly for about five seconds.

(i) A dredger, when in the fairway and not under way, shall, at intervals of not more than one minute, sound a gong rapidly for about five seconds.

Sailing vessels of less than twenty tons gross tonnage and lighters shall not be obliged to give the above mentioned signals; but, if they do not, they shall make some other efficient sound signal at intervals of not more than one minute.

This bye-law shall not apply to keels, boats, randans, wherries, skiffs, dingies, shallops, punts, canoes, floats or rafts of timber.

Speed of Vessel to be moderate in Fog, &c.

28. Every vessel shall, in fog, mist, falling snow, or heavy rain storms, whether by day or night, go at a moderate speed, having careful regard to the existing circumstances and conditions.

A steam vessel hearing, apparently forward of her beam, the fog-signal of a vessel the position of which is not ascertained, shall, so far as the circumstances of the case admit, stop her engines and then navigate with caution until danger of collision is over.

LIGHTS AND SIGNALS FOR VESSELS REQUIRING THE BASCULES OF TOWER BRIDGE TO BE RAISED.

29. (a) The master of every vessel intending to pass up the river through the Tower Bridge, and requiring the bascules to be raised, shall, notwithstanding any previous bye-law or regulation, and in addition to the ordinary lights to be exhibited by such vessel when under way, exhibit before arriving at Cherry Garden Pier, and shall continue to exhibit until such vessel shall have passed through the said bridge, the following signals:—

(i.) By day, one black ball not less than two feet in diameter, placed in such a position on such vessel where it can best be seen at a height above the hull of not less than twenty feet.

(ii.) By night, two red lights in globular lanterns of not less than eight inches each in diameter placed vertically six feet apart at a height of not less than twenty feet above the hull and in such a position where they can best be seen, and so constructed as to show a clear uniform and unbroken light visible all round the horizon at a distance of at least one mile on a dark night with a clear atmosphere.

(b) The master of every vessel intending to pass down the river through the said bridge and requiring the bascules to be raised shall, notwithstanding any previous bye-law or regulation, and in addition to the ordinary lights to be exhibited by such vessel, exhibit the signals prescribed by the preceding bye-law until the vessel has passed through the said bridge.

(c) The master of every steam vessel intending to pass up the river through the said bridge, and requiring the bascules to be raised, shall, in foggy weather, in addition to the signals prescribed by sub-clause (a) of this bye-law, give, when passing Cherry Garden Pier, a signal by one prolonged blast of the steam whistle of not less than five seconds duration followed by three short blasts in rapid succession, and shall continue to give such signal at moderate intervals until the vessel is in sight of the said bridge. This signal shall not be used in clear weather.

(d) The master of every steam vessel intending to pass down the river through the said bridge, and requiring the bascules to be raised, shall, both in foggy and clear weather, in addition to the signals prescribed by sub-clause (a) of this bye-law, give the sound signal mentioned in the preceding bye-law when such vessel is ready and in position to proceed through the said bridge.

(b) A vessel which is close-hauled on the port tack shall keep out of the way of a vessel which is close-hauled on the starboard tack.

(c) When both are running free, with the wind on different sides, the vessel which has the wind on the port side shall keep out of the way of the other.

(d) When both are running free, with the wind on the same side, the vessel which is to windward shall keep out of the way of the vessel which is to leeward.

(e) A vessel which has the wind aft shall keep out of the way of the other vessel.

Steam Vessel to keep out of the way of a Sailing Vessel.

31. When a steam vessel and a sailing vessel are proceeding in such direction as to involve risk of collision, the steam vessel shall keep out of the way of the sailing vessel.

Steam Vessel to keep to side of Mid-Channel which lies on her Starboard Side.

32. Every steam vessel proceeding up or down the river shall, when it is safe and practicable, keep to that side of mid-channel which lies on the starboard side of such vessel, and when two steam vessels proceeding in opposite directions, the one up and the other down the river, are approaching each other so as to involve risk of collision they shall pass port side to port side unless the special circumstances of the case make departure from this bye-law necessary. (See bye-law 41.)

Every vessel coming up with another vessel from any direction more than two points abaft her beam, i.e., in such a position with reference to the vessel which she is overtaking that at night she would be unable to see either of that vessel's side lights, shall be deemed to be an overtaking vessel; and no subsequent alteration of the bearing between the two vessels shall relieve the overtaking vessel of the duty of keeping clear of the overtaken vessel until she is finally past and clear.

As, by day, the overtaking vessel cannot always know with certainty whether she is forward or abaft this direction, she shall, if in doubt, assume she is an overtaking vessel and keep out of the way.
