HE Duke of Savoy has fince the beginning of this mouth had several Fits of a Tertian Ague, but the last was very short and moderate, and for these last hive days his Rayal Highness has not had any return of it; He start, and of the flecther of Saxon's Resolution. The Count de Breager went from hence on the Rhine. The Count de Breager went from hence on the 16th Insis now very hearty, and 'ris said at Court, that he rask added here on the 6th of this Month; His Regiment the Marquis de Strie, some miles from hence, for change of the Marquis de Strie, some miles from hence, for change of Milan, who brought with him 150000 Crowns for his Royal Highness, having affisted at several Councils of War for regulating the Preparations for the next Campagne, parted again on the Princes of Wartzberg and Bamberg the Councils Recommendation. the Preparations for the next Campagne, parted again on the 7th Instant on his return home. The Vaudois continue their Incursions into the Enemies Territories with good faces; and this week they fell upon a French Convoy defigned for Pignerol, and took 11 Mules with some Hosses. figned for Pignerol, and took 11 Mules with some Horses; The Germansquartered at Vigne, go out daily in Parties, to destroy all they can near that place; one of which ventured 2 or 3 days ago under the Enemies Cannon, and took some Booty there, though they fired very briskly from the Walls. We are assured, that Bread and all other Provinces are very dear at Pignerol, and Forage extreamly scarce; There is at present a Garison there of about 4000 Foot, and only one Troop of 40 Dragoons. We hear from Tuden that the French Squadron was ready to fail. foot, and only one froop of 40 Dragoons, we near from Tulen, that the French Squadron was ready to fail; but they are at a great loss for Seamen, and have forced all the young Men at Nice, and other places on this fide, to enter to other store. Count Wallestein, the Emperors Envoy E it aordinary, has not yet had his publick Audience, but a been feveral times at Court, and feen his Royal Highness in private.

Venice, March 13. All things are preparing here for the Doges departure to the Levans. Three hundred new raised Men are arrived this week at the Lido; and a raifed Men are arrived this week at the Lido; and a greater number's expected the next, to embark on the Convey that will fail towards the end of this Month. They write from Naples, that the Spanish Men of Warwer relating in that Port, and taking in Provisions in order to their going to Sea again.

Vienna, March 18. The Coldness of the Season does hinder, or retard at least the Execution of our Designs upon Ginla and Jeso in Upper-Himzary. In the mean time we see several Companies of new raised Men pass daily by this place, to recruit the Imperial Troops, that are to act against the Turks. Its confirmed from Berlin, that the Elector of Brandenburgh has agreed with the Emperor for 6000 Men to serve in Hingary this next Cam-Emperor for 6000 Men to ferve in Hingary this next Campagne, and that this Body is to be commanded by General Brandt. The Elector of Branfwick: feuds 1000 to recruit Branat. The Elector of Branswick: souds 1000 to recruit the 6000 Men of his Troops who served there the last Suramer: The Danish Auxiliaries are likewise to stay in Hungary; but these of Mansser, who were at first about 4000 Men, are now returning towards the Empire, to act on the Lower-Rhene. The Emperor has not yet appointed a General to command in chief his Forces in Hungary. The last Advices from the Frontiers tell us, that the Turks have lately reinforced the Gardon of Tansser to 5000 Men, and furnished them with a fresh supply of Provisions; That their Troops are drawing together about Belgrade to the number of about 2000; That they have laid two Bridges over the Save; and that one of their Parcies, who patied that River at Bezick, betwirt Gradisa and Broom, had made an Incursion into Sclavoma, and advanced very near to Esse, viewed the Fortifications, and in their march homeword pundered he was deligned.

Francfore, March 25. Prince Lewis of Baden is come to Narenberg, where he has had feveral Conferences with the Princes of Warezberg and Banberg, the Count de Bareith, and the Deputies of the States of Franconia, about the Preparations for the Campigne, and after having adjusted these Matters with them, he intends to go to Estimated the Head Quarter of the Imperial Traops who have Wintered near the Rhine. They continue here to provide great Magazines for the sublishing or the Confederate berges. In the mean time all this gs are very quiet on the Upper-Rhine and in Alface; until for it be that some Excurtions are now and then made by small Parties on both fides.

Cologne, March 27. The Troops of the Elector Pslatin, and those of the Landtgrave of Hesseafel, are on their much towards Coblentz, according to what was agreed on in the late Conferences held in this City. The 4000 Men, of the Bishop of Mansters Forces, who return from Hungary, are likewise to be employed on that fide. This certain, that the Elector of Saxony will fend 12000 Men to the Rhine, and the Dissourse continues, that he intends to make the Campagne in Ferson. They write from Alsee, that the French Troops, who had orders to march from thence towards Italy, are countermanded, and are to serve on the Rhine: We are told likewise, that the French King Las caused it to be intimated to the Electors of Trier, Cologne, and Palatin, that his Troops shall not moself King has caused it to be intimated to the Electors of Trier, Cologne, and Paiatin, that his Troops shall not moless their Territories, in case they will oppose the Ninth Electrate; but we are assured at the same time, that he will gain nothing by this Offer, for, on the contrary, these Princes have of late been very filent in the matter about the said Electorate, and it's believed they will at last declare themselves in favour of it. sclves in favour of it.

Hamburgh, March 27. The last Letters from Warsaw tell us, that the King of Poland returned thither on the 5th Instant from Gradno in Lithuania; and that they had advice, that a great Body of Tartus had put a Convoy of Provisions into Caminie, and afterwards made a Ravage on the Frontiers of that Kingdom. The 6000 Min which the Elector of Brandenburg sends to the Assistance of the impire, will begin their march towards Hungary about the 20th of the next month.
