

is amongst other things, enacted that a scheme under section 26 of the Pluralities Act, 1838, in relation to any part of a parish or extra-parochial place, may provide for the transfer thereof to a different diocese, and further that where after the passing of the Act now in recital it is proposed by a scheme under section 26 of the Pluralities Act, 1838, that a part of a parish or an extra-parochial place in any diocese should be transferred to another diocese, such scheme may be consented to in writing by the Bishop of the other diocese, and (if the two dioceses are not in the same province may be approved by the Archbishop of the province in which the said other diocese is situate; and upon such consent, or such consent and approval being given, the scheme may be dealt with and brought into effect by Order in Council in manner provided by the said section, and such Order shall be registered in the registry of both dioceses.

And whereas the Right Reverend Huyshe, Lord Bishop of Worcester, hath made a representation in writing to the Right Honourable and Most Reverend Randall, Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, as follows:—

“ I, Huyshe, by Divine permission Bishop of Worcester, do, in pursuance of the twenty-sixth section of an Act of Parliament of the first and second years of the reign of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, chapter 106, hereby represent to your Grace as follows:—

“ 1. There is in the county and my diocese of Worcester the rectory of Bredon with Norton and Cutsdean, the parish whereof contains, according to the census of one thousand nine hundred and one, a population of nine hundred and sixty.

“ 2. The net annual value of the said benefice arising from tithe rentcharge and glebe is eight hundred and sixty-seven pounds or thereabouts.

“ 3. There is in the county and diocese of Gloucester the vicarage of Temple Guyting, the parish whereof contains, according to the census of one thousand nine hundred and one a population of four hundred and thirty-seven.

“ 4. The net annual value of the said benefice arising from glebe, Queen Anne's Bounty, Ecclesiastical Commission and fees is one hundred and sixteen pounds or thereabouts.

“ 5. A certain detached portion of the said parish of Bredon with Norton and Cutsdean, namely, the hamlet or chapelry of Cutsdean, lies to the north of the parish of Temple Guyting and adjacent thereto, and is upwards of eleven miles distant from the parish church of Bredon. There is a consecrated Chapel of Ease at Cutsdean, the services whereof have for many years past been conducted by the Incumbent of Temple Guyting. The population of the said hamlet is about one hundred and twenty-six persons.

“ 6. It appears to me that the said hamlet or chapelry of Cutsdean may under the provisions of the said Act 1 and 2 Vic., cap. 106, and of the Acts of the second and third years of the same reign, cap. 49, and of the fiftieth and fifty-first years of the same reign, cap. 68, be advantageously separated from the said parish of Bredon with Norton and Cutsdean and united to the said parish of Temple Guyting.

“ 7. The Most Noble William John Arthur Charles James Duke of Portland, K.G., is the patron of the said benefice of Bredon with Norton and Cutsdean, and the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Christ in Oxford are the patrons of the said benefice of Temple Guyting.

“ 8. The Reverend Henry George Cavendish-Browne is the present Incumbent of the benefice of Bredon with Norton and Cutsdean, and the Reverend Odiarne William Decimus Lane is the present Incumbent of the benefice of Temple Guyting.

“ 9. Pursuant to the directions contained in the twenty-sixth section of the first mentioned Act of Parliament, I, the said Bishop, have drawn up a scheme in writing appended to this representation describing the said hamlet or chapelry of Cutsdean so as aforesaid proposed to be annexed to the ecclesiastical parish of Temple Guyting, and the mode in which it appears to me the alterations may be best effected, and how the changes consequent thereon in respect of ecclesiastical jurisdiction, glebe lands, tithes, dues, rates and payments, and in respect to patronage and rights to pews may be made with justice to all parties interested. And I do hereby submit the same to your Grace, together with the consents in writing of the said patrons and Incumbents, and also with the consent in writing of the Lord Bishop of the said diocese of Gloucester, as provided by the said Act of the fiftieth and fifty-first years of Her late Majesty's reign, cap. 68, and in case you shall, on full consideration and enquiry, be satisfied therewith, I request that your Grace will be pleased to certify the same and such consents to His Majesty in Council.”

And whereas the said scheme drawn up by the said Bishop is as follows:—

“ SCHEME.

“ It is proposed to separate the hamlet or chapelry of Cutsdean from the ecclesiastical parish of Bredon with Norton and Cutsdean, in the county and diocese of Worcester, and unite the same for ecclesiastical purposes to the adjoining parish of Temple Guyting, in the county and diocese of Gloucester. The said hamlet or chapelry is bounded on the north and west sides thereof by the parish of Stanway, on the east partly by the parish of Bourton-on-the-Hill, and partly by the parish of Seizincote, and on the south partly by the parish of Condicote, and partly by the said parish of Temple Guyting. The said hamlet or chapelry is a detached portion of the said county of Worcester, situate within the said county of Gloucester.

“ The inhabitants of the said hamlet or chapelry shall not after this scheme takes effect be entitled to any accommodation in the parish church of Bredon (except nevertheless any person or persons possessing a legal right by faculty or otherwise to any pew or sitting within the said church and who may not be willing to relinquish the same) and shall be exonerated from all liability to repair the said
