The KING has been graciously pleased to give directions for the following appointment to the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George.

To be an Ordinary Member of the Third Class, or Companions of the said Most Distinguished Order:—

Captain Lionel Halsey, R.N., in command of His Majesty's Battle Cruiser "New Zealand."

Lord Chancellor's Office, 9th December, 1913.

The following are the draft Rules referred to in the London Gazette of 5th December, 1913:—

THE RULES OF THE SUPREME COURT.

(POOR PERSONS.) 1914.

ORDER XVI.

Part IV (Rules 22 to 31 (D), both inclusive) of Order XVI of the Rules of the Supreme Court, 1883, is hereby repealed and the following Rules shall stand in lieu thereof, viz.:—

IV.—Proceedings by and against Poor Persons.

22.—Any person may be admitted to take or defend or be a party to any legal proceedings in the High Court of Justice as a poor person on satisfying the Court or a Judge that he has reasonable grounds for taking or defending or being a party to such proceedings and that he is not worth £50 (excluding his wearing apparel, tools of trade and the subject-matter of such proceedings) or such larger sum not exceeding £100 as the Judge personally under special circumstances may direct.

This Rule shall not apply to any bankruptcy proceeding or matter or to any criminal cause or matter except:—

(a) applications to the Court to order a Justice or Justices to state a case under the Summary Jurisdiction Acts,

(b) the hearing of cases stated under such Acts, and

(c) applications for certiorari, mandamus, or prohibition directed to a Court of Summary Jurisdiction.

23.—The prescribed officers in London shall keep lists:—

(1) of solicitors and of counsel willing to be assigned to enquire into and report upon the application of any person to take or defend or be a party to any legal proceedings as a poor person;

(2) of solicitors and of counsel willing to be assigned to assist poor persons, when admitted, in the conduct of the proceedings.

It shall be the duty of such prescribed officers in London to furnish to each prescribed officer in the District Registries, on application, lists of all such solicitors and counsel willing to act within their respective districts.

24.—A person desirous of being so admitted as a poor person shall make an application in the form set forth in the Appendix hereto (which may be cited as Form No. 1 J of Appendix K to the Rules of the Supreme Court, 1883) stating his means and the names of the parties or of any proposed parties to such proceedings and the nature of the applicant's case, and giving the names and addresses of two persons to whom references can be made.

Such application shall be made:—

(a) in matters proceeding or intended to proceed in London to the prescribed officer in London;

(b) in matters proceeding or intended to proceed in a District Registry to the District Registrar.

25.—The application shall be referred for inquiry to one or more solicitors or counsel willing to act in the matter, whether named in the list to be kept pursuant to Rule 23 (1) or not, who shall report to the Court through the prescribed officer whether and upon what terms the applicant ought to be admitted as a poor person. For the purpose of their report the reporters may make such inquiries as they think fit as to the means and the position of the applicant and as to the merits of his case, and may require the attendance of the applicant, and may hear any other person, and may require facts to be proved by affidavit, and in making their report they shall have regard to the probable cost of the litigation in relation to the matter in dispute.

26.—Upon the production of the report mentioned in the preceding Rule the Court or Judge may, in their or his discretion, make an order admitting the applicant to take or defend or be a party to legal proceedings as a poor person, and the prescribed officer shall assign to the applicant a solicitor and a counsel (whether named in the list kept pursuant to Rule 23 (2) or not) to assist him in the conduct of the proceedings; but no solicitor or counsel who shall have reported on the case shall be so assigned, nor shall any co-partner or clerk or employer of a solicitor who shall have so reported be so assigned. It shall not be lawful for the applicant to discharge any solicitor or counsel so assigned without leave of the Court or a Judge.

27.—The Court or a Judge in considering whether a person shall be admitted as a poor person under these Rules shall have regard to the provisions of section 65 and section 66 of the County Court Act, 1888.

28.—A solicitor or counsel assigned under Rule 26 shall not be at liberty to refuse or discontinue his assistance unless he satisfies the prescribed officer or the Court or a Judge that he has some good ground for so refusing or discontinuing.

29.—When a person is applying or is admitted to take or defend or be a party to any legal proceedings as a poor person he shall not be liable for any court fees or fees on taxation of costs nor to pay costs to any other party, except as provided by the Rules of this order; and no person shall agree to take or seek to obtain from him any fees, profits or rewards, either for enquiry or report or for the conduct of the proceedings; and any person so doing will be guilty of contempt of court. Provided that nothing contained in this Rule shall preclude any solicitor from receiving either from the poor person or out of any fund which may from time to time be created by the Treasury or approved by the Lord Chancellor the payment of the out-of-pocket expenses of such solicitor. If any person so applying or admitted shall give or agree to give any such fee, profit or reward, his application or admission, as the case may be, may be dismissed or struck out, in which case he shall not afterwards be admitted as a party to the same cause or proceeding as a poor person unless otherwise ordered.

30.—Costs ordered to be paid to a poor person shall, unless the Court or a Judge shall otherwise order, be taxed having regard to Rule 29 hereof, but in the event of a Judge certifying that the person ordered to pay such costs has acted unreasonably in prosecuting or defending or opposing the proceedings such costs shall include profit, costs and charges, but shall not include any fees to counsel.

31.—When a substantial amount is recovered by a poor person so admitted the Court or a Judge may order the payment out of the amount so recovered to the solicitor of such taxed costs (not including fees of counsel) as would have been allowed to the solicitor on taxation between himself and his client if he had been retained by his client in the ordinary manner (less such amount as may be recovered from any other party) or such other sum in respect of costs as the Court or Judge may order, provided that the total amount so paid out shall not in either case exceed one-fourth of the amount recovered.

31A.—Any out-of-pocket expenses allowed on taxation and recovered under any of the preceding Rules which shall have been already paid out of such fund as aforesaid shall be refunded.

31B.—Every notice of motion, summons or petition on behalf of a poor person (except an application for admission to take or defend or be a party to legal proceedings or for the discharge of his solicitor) shall be signed by his solicitor, and it shall be the duty of such solicitor to take care that no application be made without reasonable cause.

31C.—There shall be no appeal as a poor person to the Court of Appeal by anyone admitted to sue or defend or be a party to any legal proceedings under these Rules without leave of the Court or of the Judge before whom the matter is heard or of the Court of Appeal.

31D.—If any person who has not taken or been a party to any legal proceedings as a poor person in the High Court shall desire to be admitted on an appeal to the Court of Appeal as a poor person the like procedure shall be followed as is provided by these Rules for the High Court, and the application shall be referred by the prescribed officer of the division of the High Court from which the appeal is brought for enquiry, as if the application were made in that Division, and upon production of the report the Court of Appeal may in their discretion make an order admitting the applicant to be a party to such appeal as a poor person.

31E.—The prescribed officer shall be (1) in the Chancery Division such one or more of the Masters as the Lord Chancellor shall from time to time nominate for the purpose; (2) in the King's Bench Division (excepting on the Crown side) such one or more of the Masters as the Lord Chief Justice shall from time to time nominate for the purpose; and on the Crown side the Master of the Crown Office for the time being; (3) in the Probate, Divorce and Admiralty Division such one or more of the Registrars as the President shall from time to time nominate for the purpose; and (4) in a District Registry the District Registrar.

In the case of temporary absence or indisposition the prescribed officer may appoint a deputy with the sanction of the Lord Chancellor.

31F.—Rules 257 and 258 of the Crown Office Rules, 1906, are hereby annulled, and the Rules of Order XVI. numbered 22 to 31H shall apply to:—

(a) proceedings for divorce or other matrimonial causes, and

(b) proceedings on the Crown side of the King's Bench Division.

31G.—Nothing in these Rules shall operate as a stay of any proceedings unless so ordered by the Court or Judge or Court of Appeal.

31H.—These Rules may be cited as the Rules of the Supreme Court (Poor Persons), 1914, or may be cited by the heading and number thereof with reference to the Rules of the Supreme Court, 1883. They shall come into operation on the 1st day of May, 1914.

Whitehall, 8th December, 1913.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to award the Edward Medal of the Second Class to Herbert Briggs, Christopher Bywater, and Thomas Vinters, in the following circumstances:—

On the 12th August last repairs were being carried out at Lower Wortley, Leeds, on a large gasholder 105 feet high by 117 feet in diameter. At the bottom of the holder was water 30 feet deep, and on this was placed a raft for the workmen to stand upon. The holder was entered at the top by means of an air-lock; nine feet below was a small unrailed platform, about six feet by five feet, from which was suspended a rope ladder, 70 feet long, descending to the raft on the water below. The holder had been emptied of gas and two men were at work on the raft testing the rivets of the holder. Feeling the effects of gas given off by the water when disturbed, they decided to climb out, and the foreman outside, thinking that something was wrong, entered the holder and descended to the raft. Bywater, who was stationed at the air-lock, followed to the platform, taking with him a rope, and by means of this one man of the three was brought up from the raft below. Briggs and Vinters then made their way into the holder and on to the platform. Bywater had lowered the rope again to the raft; but, though the foreman had attached it to the second workman, the three men on the platform were unable to pull him up. At length all three began to feel the effects of the gas, and had to climb out of the holder. Briggs became unconscious, and Vinters descended to the ground for help; but, being unsuccessful, he climbed back and returned inside to the platform with Bywater. Unable to do anything, they were again forced to come out, Bywater beginning to lose consciousness. Further assistance then arriving, steps were taken to lower the holder and to revive the men suffering from gas, Vinters helping in the task. When the holder had fallen nearly to the ground level a number of men entered, and succeeded in bringing out the two men remaining within, but attempts to resuscitate them were unavailing.

Briggs, Bywater, and Vinters deserve much credit for their plucky action. Exposed to the effects of gas and running risks of falling from the unprotected platform—in which case no assistance could have reached them—they did their utmost to save the three men at the bottom of the holder, and, while unsuccessful in two cases, they effected the rescue of the third.

TRADE BOARDS ACT, 1909.

Order of the Board of Trade under Section 5 (2).

WHEREAS by section 4 of the Trade Boards Act, 1909, it is amongst other things provided as follows:—

(1) Trade Boards shall, subject to the provisions of this section, fix minimum rates of wages for timework for their trades (in this Act referred to as minimum time-rates), and may also fix general minimum rates of wages for piecework for their trades (in this Act referred to as general minimum piece-rates), and those rates of wages (whether time or piece-rates) may be fixed so as to apply universally to the trade, or so as to apply to any special process in the work of the trade, or to any special class of workers in the trade, or to any special area.

If a Trade Board report to the Board of Trade that it is impracticable in any case to fix a minimum time-rate in accordance with this section, the Board of Trade may so far as respects that case relieve the Trade Board of their duty.

(2) Before fixing any minimum time-rate or general minimum piece-rate, the Trade Board shall give notice of the rate which they propose to fix, and consider any objections to the rate which may be lodged with them within three months.

(3) The Trade Board shall give notice of any minimum time-rate or general minimum piece-rate fixed by them.

And whereas by section 5 of the said Act it is amongst other things provided:—

(1) Until a minimum time-rate or general minimum piece-rate fixed by a Trade Board has been made obligatory by order of the Board of Trade under this section, the operation of the rate shall be limited as in this Act provided.

(2) Upon the expiration of six months from the date on which a Trade Board have given notice of any minimum time-rate or general minimum piece-rate fixed by them, the Board of Trade shall make an Order (in this Act referred to as an obligatory Order) making that minimum rate obligatory in cases in which it is applicable on all persons.

employing labour, and on all persons employed, unless they are of opinion that the circumstances are such as to make it premature or otherwise undesirable to make an obligatory Order, and in that case they shall make an order suspending the obligatory operation of the rate (in this Act referred to as an order of suspension).

And whereas a Trade Board was established by the Board of Trade under the said Act on 5th September, 1911, for the making of Boxes or parts thereof made wholly or partially of paper, cardboard, chip or similar material in Ireland, and was constituted in accordance with the Regulations made by the Board of Trade under the said Act, and dated 23rd August, 1910.

And whereas the said Trade Board gave notice on 1st January, 1913, that they proposed to fix minimum time-rates of wages for male workers in the said trade.

And whereas, after considering the objections lodged with them within three months from 1st January, 1913, the said Trade Board gave notice on 6th June, 1913, that they had fixed minimum time-rates of wages for male workers in the said trade, and the rates fixed are set out in the Schedule hereto.

And whereas the said rates have been in limited operation since the 6th day of June, 1913.

Now, therefore, the Board of Trade, in pursuance of the powers in them vested as before recited, do by this Order, make the said minimum time-rates fixed by the said Trade Board and set out in the said Schedule hereto, obligatory in cases in which they are applicable on all persons employing labour and on all persons employed in the said trade.

Dated this 8th day of December, 1913.

Sydney Buxton,

President of the Board of Trade.
