Whitehall, December 17, 1913.

The KING was pleased, on Tuesday, the 16th instant, at Buckingham Palace, to present to Herbert Frederick Ewington the Albert Medal of the First Class conferred upon him by His Majesty for gallantry in saving life, as detailed below:—

On the 1st of July last a fitter in the employment of the Metropolitan Railway, while crossing the permanent way at Aldersgate Street Station, slipped and fell across a live electric rail. Whilst a porter was fetching the insulating rubber gloves—without which it is considered very dangerous to touch anyone who is in contact with a live rail—a train was seen entering the Station on the same line. At that moment Ewington jumped on to the line and managed to pull the man's leg clear of the rail, though he received several shocks in doing so; and he succeeded in getting the injured man into safety between the two sets of rails before the train was pulled up a few feet away. The danger was increased by the fact that another train was approaching in the opposite direction. Had it not been for Ewington's exceptional bravery, there is little doubt that the fitter, who was unable to release himself, and whose leg was badly burned, would have lost his life.

The KING has been pleased, by Letters Patent under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, bearing date the 24th November, 1913, to confer the dignity of a Viscount of the said United Kingdom upon the Right Honourable Richard Everard, Baron Alverstone, G.C.M.G., late Lord Chief Justice of England, and the heirs male of his body lawfully begotten, by the name, style and title of Viscount Alverstone, of Alverstone, in the County of Southampton.
