

The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Monday July 3. to Thursday July 6. 1693.

Rome, June 13.

ON Tuesday last marched from hence several Companies of Soldiers towards Civita Vecchia, to embark on the Popes Gallies designed for the Levant, which as we are assured will be ready to Sail by the middle of the next Week. The Cardinal d'Este, who was about leaving this place in order to his return to France, has deterr'd his Journey upon the News he received of the Death of the Archbishop of Lion, whereby a very rich Abbey is become vacant, which 'tis believed will be given to one of the French Cardinals now here. The Imperial Ambassador continues at Genova, expecting the return of the Courier he dispatched lately to Pisenna, with an account of what had happened between his Heydukes and the Sbirris; And in the mean time the former are privately retired to Naples.

Venice, June 19. We have Advice that the Doge Morosini arrived the 8th Instant at Liesna in Dalmatia, and that after a short stay there, he proceeded on his Voyage to the Levant. The great Convoy which parted from hence on the 3d of the last month, arrived in 15 days in the Morea, as we are informed by a Vessel come from Corfu; Signior Priuli, who commanded this Convoy, sailed afterwards with five Men of War, and several other Vessels to Liesna, to take on board the Troops which are to be Transported from Dalmatia to the Morea. General Mocenigo was disposing every thing for the opening of the Campaign so soon as the Doge arrived; Several Men of War were gone to Cruise in the Archipelago, and others were sent to meet the Doge at Corfu.

Warsaw, June 9. The Forces of this Crown are marching to their Rendezvous, which is appointed at Gliniani in Podolia; and at the same time a strong Detachment has been sent to reinforce our Troops, who are posted in the Fort de la Trinite, lately built near Caminic, to hinder the Incursions of that Garison. The Envoy from the Cham of Tartary, who is now on his departure, has acquainted this Court, that the Cham his Master is sending another Envoy hither with new and more advantageous Proposals of Peace than those he was charged with, but in answer thereunto it has been again told him, That the King of Poland is firmly resolved not to enter upon any separate Negotiation, or do any thing to the prejudice of the Alliance he is at present engaged in with the Emperor, and the Republick of Venice.

Dublin, June 27. This day was Published here the following Proclamation. His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant intends to Embark on Monday next for England. Their Majesties Ships the Dover, the Saphire, and the Virgin Prize, came on Saturday last into this Port from Kinsale; and the St. Albans, with the Soefdyke Yacht from England.

SYDNEY,

Whereas the Queens Most Excellent Majesty, for divers Weighty Reasons and Considerations, hath thought fit to signify Her Royal Will and Pleasure unto Us, That the present Parliament of this

Their Majesties Kingdom of Ireland, which began on the Fifth Day of October last past, and after several Prorogations, was from the Sixth Day of this instant June, further Prorogued until the Fifth Day of September next ensuing, should be Dissolved; And accordingly did Authorize and Require Us forthwith to Dissolve the same by Proclamation: We do therefore hereby Publish and Declare, That the said Parliament of this Kingdom, which so began on the Fifth Day of October last, and now remains Prorogued until the Fifth Day of September next, as aforesaid, Be, and Is hereby Dissolved, and by this Our Proclamation, We do accordingly Dissolve the same. And We do also discharge the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Knights, Citizens, and Burgeses of the said Parliament, from their Meeting on the Fifth Day of September next; and do give Them this Publick Notice, that They may not think Themselves Obligated to any Attendance on the said Day.

Given at Their Majesties Castle of Dublin, the 26th Day of June 1693.

Plymouth, July 2. This day Sailed out of this Port Their Majesties Ships the Duchess, Winchester, and Soldadoes, to joyn the Fleet. The Rochester is come in from Cruising to the Westward.

Whitehall, July 4. By Letters from Sir Francis Wheeler, Commander in Chief of Their Majesties Ships in the West Indies, dated the 4th of June last, in the Latitude of 34, we have the Account which follows.

On the 30th of March the Fleet Sailed from the Barbadoes, having on Board the Regiments of Foulke, Goodwin, 200 Recruits of Lloyds, and the two Barbadoes Regiments of Salter and Butler; and on the first of April they arrived at Martinico, and Anchored in the Cul de Sac Marine the S. E. part of the Island, about a Mile and half from the Shore. Sir Francis Wheeler, Colonel Foulke Commander in Chief of the Land Forces, and Colonel Lloyd, went in a Sloop to see for a convenient place in order to Land our Men; The Enemy had several small Guards along the Shore, from one of which a Musket Shot struck Sir Francis under the Right Pap, and fell down at his Feet, having only left a great Contusion; Orders were given for Landing the Forces, but the Wind blowing very fresh it was deferred till the 2d, when about nine in the morning Colonel Foulke landed with One Thousand Five Hundred Men without any opposition; the Boats were immediately sent back, and towards Evening the rest of the Forces were likewise landed; On the 3d they continued afove, and burnt and destroyed all the Houses and Plantations about Cul de Sac Marine, most of which were good Sugar Works, the Inhabitants and Negroes flying into the Woods. The 4th the Forces