The KING has been graciously pleased to give orders for the undermentioned Officer's appointment to the Distinguished Service Order, in recognition of his services whilst in command of a party of 25 rank and file of the 3rd Battalion, King's African Rifles, on the occasion of a reconnaissance on the 3rd of September, 1913, on the East shore of Lake Rudolph, East Africa Protectorate.

To be a Companion of the Distinguished Service Order:—

Lieutenant William Lloyd Jones, Middlesex Regiment.

The following despatch, dated 12th June, 1914, relating to the engagement of the 3rd September last, in which Lieutenant William

Lloyd Jones, Middlesex Regiment, was severely wounded, has been received in the Colonial Office from the Governor of the East Africa Protectorate:—

During a reconnaissance to the North of Loiyangalani, on the East shore of Lake Rudolph, in the East Africa Protectorate, on the 3rd of September, 1913, Lieutenant W. Lloyd Jones, who, with 25 rank and file of the 3rd Battalion King's African Rifles, was acting as escort to the Political Officer, came into touch with a party of Abyssinians at a water-hole named Bwanu (30° 17' N. and 36° 44' E.). The latter retired behind a dense thorn zariba 8 feet high, containing one gate. Lieutenant Lloyd Jones, after reconnoitring the zariba, advanced into the open within 25 yards of the enemy, and summoned them through his Abyssinian orderly to come out, at the same time assuring them that they would be granted their lives. The enemy replied that they would not come out, and immediately began to barricade the gate. Seeing this, Lieutenant Lloyd Jones, though unaware of the numbers of the enemy at once ordered his men to charge, and himself ran forward at their head. His Abyssinian orderlies heard those inside shout "Shoot the white man." Almost immediately the bugler, who was just behind Lieutenant Lloyd Jones, was hit by a bullet in the chest, and he himself, before he could reach the gate, received a shot in the left ankle which completely shattered the bone and brought him to the ground. The orderlies and a serjeant rushed on, and breaking through the gate, shot down everyone inside the zariba.

Lieutenant Lloyd Jones, not knowing whether there were any more of the enemy in the vicinity, then had himself carried up to some high ground overlooking the water, and threw out a screen of scouts on the neighbouring hills.

On the return of the Political Officer, who was surveying not far away, Lieutenant Lloyd Jones was carried back to Loiyangalani, where he arrived on the 7th of September.

PURSUANT to an Order of the Chancery Division of the High Court of Justice, made in the Matter of DAVID ROBSON, deceased, Downing v. Bunting, 1912, R. 1312, whereby it was (inter alia) declared that the one-fourth share of the testator's leasehold property at St. Phillips-road, Sheffield, the rents whereof were, by the will of the said testator, bequeathed for the benefit of his daughter, Ann Bunting, during her life, now belongs to her child or children, who was or were living at the death of the testator's daughter, Mary Saville (who died on the 20th February, 1911), and that the one-fourth share of the testator's said leasehold property, the rents whereof were by the said will bequeathed for the benefit of the testator's daughter, Fanny Parkin, during her life, now belongs to her child or children who was or were living at the death of the said Mary Saville; but if it should appear in answer to the inquiry thereafter directed that either of the said children of the testator died without leaving a child living at the death of the said Mary Saville, the Court declared that in that event there was an intestacy as regards the said share of such child of the testator, and that such share passed, on the death of the said Mary Saville, to the persons who at the death of the testator were his next of kin according to the Statutes of Distribution and in the statutory shares.
