

Enemy, who when they left us stood away towards Cadiz. Had the Enemy prosecuted the advantage they had over us, few of our Ships could have escaped; for the Admiral and Vice Admiral of the Blue were within shot of our Admiral when they Tackled after the Dutch, and it was their Tackling that saved the rest of the Fleet. The Allegro, Faſſar came into the Fleet yesterday morning, who was one of the Ships that Tackled into the Shore a Saturday Night, and gave an account, that on Sunday Morning he saw only of our Fleet a Stern of him the Jacob and the Dutch Smirna Ship, whom some of the Enemies Ships came up with and engaged, and in the Engagement he saw one of them blow up, but could not distinguish whether it was one of the Enemies or Ours. Sir George Rooke designed at the desire of the Commanders of the Merchantmen to Steer for Ireland.

Madrid, June 28. O. S. On the 23d instant we had advice of Sir George Rooke's having fallen in with the French Fleet off of Cape St. Vincent; And since that we have an account, That 40 Merchantmen of his Fleet are come into Cadiz with 2 Men of War, one English and one Dutch; and that 9 are come to St. Lucar. The Matter of a small empty Vessel of 70 Tuns, one Wallis, Reports, That having been taken by the French, and afterwards released for the sake of some acquaintance he had on board Monsieur Tourville and sent into Cadiz, he did not hear while he was among the French, that any Englishman was taken besides himself; and that all the great Merchant Ships of the Streights Fleet who were in the Line of Battel stood to Sea with the Men of War. Monsieur Tourville with 60 Men of War lay three days together before Cadiz after all the Action was over. Letters from Malaga of the 16th past advise, that the Count d'Estree with 22 sail was seen three day off of Tunis sailing Westward. We have got an imperfect List of some of the Merchant Ships that are come into Cadiz and St. Lucar, as follows. At Cadiz;

The Smirna Factor, Captain Littleton; the Susanna, John Tiler; the Prosperous African, William Lambert;

Ruby, Alexander Kinton; the Gold Frigate, Nat. Gold; the Tarae Brothers, Daniel Hudson; the Tunefin, Walter Beaver; the Oxenden, Edward Swaine; the John and Samuel, Thomas Hewit; the Sarah and Elizabeth, George Bare; the Sarah, Marmaduke Raydon; the Owari Goodwill, Henry Brassbar; the Sarah, Lawson; the John, Ware; the Terran Merchant, Fairchild; the Friendship, John Wallis; Dutch, Arms of Nimeguen, Capt. Vanderluer; the Schiedam, Van Rechteren; the Mercant of Cadiz, Peter Muller; the Elizabeth, Cornelius Dupon; the St. Pablo, Pablo Duyn; the King David, John Hermans; the Phenix, John Spaniard; Admiral Tromp, Cornelis Admiral; the Concord, Class Brun; the King David, Elder Frasser; the Fortune, Peter Rausfmy; the Anne Maria, Hedde Pieterfson, Danes; St. Domingo, Henry Benquetman; the King Solomon, Peter Veldrick; the Hope Van Ginke, Hamburgers; the Samson, John Cornelizen; the St. Anne, Henry Vint, Swedes; the St. Simon, Francis Baey, Oltender; the Duke of Savaria, Lambert Maffe, Venetians; the St. Joseph, Fran. Sacanovin; the Joseph, Dgn. Morris; Came to St. Lucar, the Malaga Factor, Captain Newland; Captain Brooke; Captain Cooper; 5 Dutch Ships; the Elizabeth, Peter Freza.

Corunna, July 5. O. S. By Letters from Madrid of June 28 we have an account that 40 Merchant Ships of the Streights Fleet, with two men of War are got safe into Cadiz, and 9 to St. Lucar. The French Fleet had laid 5 days before Cadiz; From Port St. Marks of June 19th they advise, that the night before appeared 15 or 16 sail of Ships with English Colours, and the day these Letters were written, there came in about 30 sail more. And from Seville of the 10th, they write, that on the 18th, past by St. Lucar about 70 sail of Merchant Ships for Cadiz.

Whitehall, July 13. Whereas there are Convoys appointed from the River of Thames to Newcastle, and from the Downes to Bristol, and back again, which Convoy to Bristol is to call at the several Chief Ports both in their passage thither and return; Her Majesty has therefore directed publick Notice to be given thereof, that the Merchants concerned may take such care therein, as may conduce to their future security.
