(b) alternatively, in cases where the value
 of the subject-matter (as hereinafter defined)
 of the application does not exceed one hundred pounds, the county court; and

(c) as a further alternative, in the case of distress for rent where the amount of the yearly rent does not exceed twenty pounds,
 or in cases where it is sought to enforce either

Where an application is made to the High Court which in the opinion of that court ought to have been made to a county court or to a court of summary jurisdiction, the case may, if thought fit, be remitted or transferred to the proper court; and where an application is made to a county court which in the opinion of that court ought to have been made to a court of summary jurisdiction, the county court may remit or transfer the case to a court of summary jurisdiction.

Provided that such summons shall have appended to it a note corresponding, mutatis mutandis, with the note to the Notice of Application in Form I. in the Schedule to these Rules.

(2) In cases under paragraph (a) where no judgment or order has been already made, application may be made at the time of the making of the judgment or order without any summons: Provided that unless the debtor is actually present by himself or his solicitor at the time of the making of the judgment or order such application shall not be entertained unless the creditor shall have served on the debtor, in accordance with the practice of the court in question as to the service of summonses, a notice of intention to make the application, which shall be in the form or to the effect set out in Form I. in the Schedule to these Rules.

(3) Any such notice as in sub-rule (2) of this rule mentioned may be served either with the writ or other document originating the proceedings or at any later time not being less than two clear days before the making of the judgment or order unless in any case the court shall otherwise order.

(ii) where the amount of the subject matter of the application exceeds five pounds, the registrar shall, on the application of either party, refer the matter to the judge; and

Procedure under Small Tenements Recovery Act.

8. The procedure under the Act and these Rules in the case of an application under section 1 of the Small Tenements Recovery Act, 1838, shall be the same as if the issue of a warrant under that section were an order of a court of summary jurisdiction.
