The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

"Whereas by Section 3 of the Naval and Marine Pay and Pensions Act, 1865, it is enacted that all pay, wages, pensions, bounty money, grants or other allowances in the nature thereof, payable in respect of services in Your Majesty's Naval or Marine Force to a person being or having been an Officer, Seaman, or Marine, or to the widow of any relative of a deceased Officer, Seaman, or Marine, shall be paid in such manner, and subject to such restrictions, conditions, and provisions, as are from time to time directed by Order in Council:

"And whereas we have had under consideration the question of the amount of half pay which should be granted to Admiral His Serene Highness Prince Louis of Battenberg on his retirement from the office of First Sea Lord of the Board of Admiralty:

"And whereas it was provided by Order in Council bearing date the 28th day of March, 1912, that an Admiral who had held the office of First Sea Lord should, on retirement from that office or from the active list of Your Majesty's Navy, be granted non-effective pay, at the rate of three pounds seven shillings per diem:

"And whereas we are of opinion that, having regard to the exceptional services rendered by His Serene Highness, this rate of non-effective pay is in his case inappropriate:

"We beg leave humbly to recommend that Your Majesty may be graciously pleased, by Your Order in Council, to authorize us to grant to him, whilst he is on half pay during the period of the war, the special rate of half pay of two thousand pounds a year.

"The Lords Commissioners of Your Majesty's Treasury have signified their concurrence in this proposal."

His Majesty, having taken the said Memorial into consideration, was pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to approve of what is therein proposed. And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty are to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

NATIONAL INSURANCE ACTS,
1911-1914.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE.

The Unemployment Insurance (Short Time) Regulations, 1914, dated the 16th December, 1914, made by the Board of Trade under Part II of the National Insurance Act, 1911, and the National Insurance (Part II Amendment) Act, 1914.

Short Title and Commencement.

1. These Regulations may be cited as the Unemployment Insurance (Short Time) Regulations, 1914, and shall come into force on the date hereof.

Interpretation.

2. In these Regulations, unless the context otherwise requires or admits:

The expression "certificate of exceptional unemployment" means a certificate issued by the Board of Trade that there is exceptional unemployment in the trade or branch of a trade specified in the certificate.

The expression "Order of Exemption" means an order made by the Board of Trade under Section 7 of the National Insurance (Part II Amendment) Act, 1914, exempting workmen of a specified class or description employed by a specified employer, and the employer, from contributions under Part II of the National Insurance Act, 1911."

The expression "the Labour Exchange" means the Labour Exchange at which the unemployment books of the workmen to whom the Order of Exemption applies are deposited by the employer in accordance with these Regulations.

The expression "the reduced working hours" means the working hours as set out in the Order of Exemption or as varied in accordance with Regulation 9 of these Regulations.

Certificate of Exceptional Unemployment.

3.—(1) An Order of Exemption shall not be granted to an employer in any trade or branch of a trade unless a certificate of exceptional unemployment has been granted and remains in force in respect of such trade or branch of a trade.

(2) Any employer of workmen in an insured trade and any association of such employers may make application to the Board of Trade for a certificate of exceptional unemployment. Such application shall be made in the form set forth in the First Schedule to these Regulations, or in such other form as the Board may direct.

(3) A certificate of exceptional unemployment may be modified or cancelled at any time by the Board of Trade, but before modifying or cancelling a certificate the Board of Trade shall give notice in writing to the applicant, and shall take into consideration any representations made by the applicant within fourteen days, or any longer period specified in the notice, thereafter. Similar notice shall also be given to each employer in the trade or branch of a trade covered by the certificate in respect of whom an Order of Exemption is then in force.

(4) Notice of the issue, amendment or cancellation of a certificate of exceptional unemployment shall be given by the Board of Trade in writing to the applicant, and shall be published by the Board of Trade in the Board of Trade Journal, or in such other manner as the Board may think fit.

Application for Order of Exemption.

4.—(1) Any employer of insured workmen who desires to obtain an Order of Exemption shall—

(i) make application for a certificate of exceptional unemployment in accordance with Regulation 3 of these Regulations, unless a certificate of exceptional unemployment has already been issued and remains in force in respect of the trade or branch of a trade concerned, and—

(ii) make application to the Board of Trade for an Order of Exemption in the form set forth in the Second Schedule to these Regulations or in such other form as the Board may direct.

(2) The Board of Trade, if satisfied that an Order of Exemption should be granted, whether in the form applied for or in some modified form, shall give notice in writing to the employer that such order will be granted.

(3) (i) The employer shall thereupon, within 14 days after the receipt of the notice by him, deposit at a convenient Labour Exchange or Labour Exchanges to be specified in the notice the unemployment books of all the workmen to whom the order of exemption will apply. Before depositing the unemployment books the employer shall affix stamps representing the full number of contributions that would have been due if the employment of the workman had terminated at the date of deposit. The books deposited shall be accompanied by a list in duplicate of the names of the workmen and the numbers of their unemployment books.

(ii) Where the employer has an arrangement with the Board of Trade under Section 99 of the National Insurance Act, 1911, he shall in lieu of depositing the unemployment books give notice to the Labour Exchange of the date from which he desires the Order of Exemption to commence, and stamps shall be affixed to the unemployment books as if the employment of the workmen had terminated at this date.

(4) As soon as the unemployment books have been deposited, or notice has been given to the Labour Exchange as aforesaid, the Board of Trade, if satisfied that the conditions of Section 7 of the Amending Act and of these Regulations continue to be fulfilled, shall issue the Order of Exemption, which shall be in the form set forth in the Third Schedule to these Regulations or in such other form as the Board may direct.

(5) As soon as an order has been issued contributions shall cease to be payable in respect of the workmen to whom the order will apply, as from the date at which the unemployment books were deposited until the order ceases to apply in accordance with the Regulations.

Systematic Short Time.

5. An Order of Exemption shall not be granted unless the Board of Trade are satisfied that the employer proposes to work systematic short time in accordance with the following conditions:—

(i) The reduction in working hours constituting the short time shall consist either

(a) in a reduction of the weekly hours to a total not exceeding five-sixths of the number usually recognised as constituting a full week's work at that time in the trade or branch of a trade and district or

(b) in a stoppage of work for some day in the week which has been usually recognised as a working day of at least four hours at that time in the trade or branch of a trade and district, and in either case the working hours on any day of the week shall not exceed those usually worked on that day in the trade or branch of a trade and district.

(ii) The method of reducing the working hours shall not be such that the workman may obtain unemployment benefit whilst working short time.

(iii) The precise hours within which the reduced working hours will be confined on each day shall be stated in the application for the order of exemption.

(iv) The systematic short time shall apply to all the insured workmen employed by the employer at or in connection with the establishment to which the application for the order of exemption relates, or, where the Board of Trade are satisfied that different departments may be treated separately, at, or in connection with, a department or departments in such establishment other than such workmen as the Board of Trade may consider to be engaged in purely subsidiary occupations.

Affixing of Order of Exemption and notices.

6. The employer shall affix and shall, whilst the Order of Exemption remains in force, keep constantly affixed, in such a place and position that they may be easily read by the workmen to whom the Order of Exemption applies, a copy of the Order of Exemption and of any notices given to the Labour Exchange in accordance with Regulation 9.

Receipt Card for Unemployment Book.

7.—(1) So long as any unemployment book remains deposited at the Labour Exchange in accordance with these Regulations, the employer, notwithstanding anything in the Unemployment Insurance Regulations, 1912, or any other Regulations made under Part II of the National Insurance Act, 1911, shall not be liable for its custody.

(2) The Labour Exchange shall issue a receipt card to the employer in respect of each unemployment book deposited by him in accordance with these Regulations.

(3) The employer, on obtaining the receipt card, shall become responsible for the custody of the receipt card so long as the employment of the workman continues or till the receipt card is returned by the employer to the Labour Exchange in exchange for the unemployment book.

(4) The employer shall return the receipt card to the Labour Exchange before the unemployment book is returned to him by the Labour Exchange in accordance with these Regulations.

(5) If the employment of the workman terminates whilst the unemployment book is deposited at the Labour Exchange in accordance with these Regulations, the provisions of Regulation 5 of the Unemployment Insurance Regulations, 1912, with regard to the return of the unemployment book to the workman and the giving of a receipt therefor by the workman shall apply as if the receipt card were an unemployment book.

Variation of Particulars of Short Time Working.

8. Where an Order of Exemption has been granted the particulars of short time working as set out in the application for the Order shall not be varied except within the limits and subject to the conditions set out in Regulations 9 to 12 of these Regulations.

Variation of Reduced Working Hours.

9. The reduced working hours may be varied within the limits prescribed by Regulation 5 either in respect of the whole establishment or in respect of the particular department or departments provided that at least 12 hours' notice in writing of the proposed variation is given beforehand to the Labour Exchange, and the working hours as thus varied shall thereupon be substituted for the reduced working hours set out in the Order of Exemption. The notice shall give details of the working hours as varied in the form set out in the Order of Exemption, and shall, if necessary, specify the department or departments to which the varied working hours are to apply.

Increased Hours in Cases of Emergency.

10.—(1) For the purpose of completing an urgent order or orders or other work which cannot be delayed without prejudice to the continuance of workmen in their employment and subject to the provisions of this Regulation, any workmen to whom the Order of Exemption applies may be employed otherwise than within the reduced working hours provided that—

(a) immediate notice in writing of the intention so to employ the workmen is given by the employer to the Labour Exchange:

(b) the employer furnishes the Board with any information required by them to satisfy themselves as to the circumstances in which the reduced working hours were exceeded.

(2) The notice under this Regulation shall, unless it is not practicable to do so, be despatched before the workmen are so employed, and shall state the reason why it is necessary to exceed the reduced working hours. It shall be accompanied by a list of the names and numbers of the unemployment books of the workmen in whose case the reduced hours are to be, or have been, exceeded and by the receipt cards for their unemployment books. The Labour Exchange shall thereupon immediately return the unemployment books to the employer for payment of contributions.

(3) After the unemployment book of any workman is so returned to the employer, it may be subsequently re-deposited by the employer at the Labour Exchange on any day on which the reduced working hours are not exceeded by the workmen.

(4) In the case of each workman in respect of whom notice is given under this Regulation, contributions under Part II of the National Insurance Act, 1911, shall be payable as if the Order of Exemption did not apply to his employment from and including the day during which the reduced working hours are first exceeded, until his unemployment book is re-deposited at the Labour Exchange in accordance with this Regulation.

(5) Where the employer has an arrangement with the Board of Trade under Section 99 of the National Insurance Act, 1911, the unemployment books of the workman shall not be returned to him under this Regulation. Contributions in respect of the workmen shall be payable in accordance with the arrangement as if the Order of Exemption did not apply in respect of each day during which the reduced working hours are exceeded, and the employer shall supply the Labour Exchange with the necessary particulars to enable the unemployment book to be stamped accordingly.

Termination of Workmen's Employment.

11. If the employment of any workman to whom the order relates is terminated, notice must be given to the Labour Exchange within 24 hours thereafter.

Engagement of other Workmen.

12. If additional workmen of the classes described in the Order of Exemption are engaged (whether in substitution for workmen whose employment has terminated, or otherwise), notice must be given to the Labour Exchange within 24 hours thereafter, together with a list of the names and the numbers of the unemployment books of the workmen and thereupon, unless the Board of Trade otherwise direct, the Order of Exemption shall apply to such workmen as from the date of their engagement. The unemployment books of such workmen shall be deposited by the employer at the Labour Exchange as soon as practicable after the date of their engagement.

Effect of Non-compliance with Regulations 8 to 12.

13. In any case where the provisions of Regulations 8 to 12 have not been complied with, the method of working shall not be regarded as systematic short time except as regards such period and such workmen (if any) with respect to which or whom the Board of Trade certify that systematic short time has been worked, and the employer and workmen shall, except as regards the period and workmen covered by such certificate, be liable to the payment of contributions under Part II of the National Insurance Act, 1911, as if the Order of Exemption had not been made.

Cancellation or Expiration of Order of Exemption.

14.—(1) An Order of Exemption may be cancelled by the Board of Trade in any of the following circumstances:—

(i) If the employer gives notice to the Labour Exchange that the short time working will be discontinued after a specified date.

(ii) If the certificate of exceptional unemployment relating to the trade or branch of a trade has been modified or cancelled.

(iii) If in the opinion of the Board the circumstances are such that the exemption from payment of Unemployment Insurance contributions is no longer justified.

NATIONAL INSURANCE.

NATIONAL HEALTH INSURANCE.

The National Health Insurance (Wales) (Establishment of Separate Sections) Order, 1914, dated December 23, 1914, made by the Welsh Insurance Commissioners under Sections 78 and 82 of the National Insurance Act, 1911 (1 & 2 Geo. 5, c. 55).

Whereas by Section 78 read with Section 82 of the National Insurance Act, 1911 (in this Order called "the Act"), it is amongst other things provided that if any difficulty arises in bringing Part I. of the Act into operation in Wales the Welsh Insurance Commissioners (in this Order called "the Commissioners"), with the consent of the Treasury, may by Order make any appointment and do anything which appears to them necessary or expedient for bringing Part I. of the Act into operation in Wales, and any such Order may modify the provisions of the Act so far as may appear necessary or expedient for carrying the Order into effect:

And whereas in the case of certain Societies with branches which have been approved for the purposes of Part I. of the Act, the number of members of each branch has not been sufficient to enable the branch properly to transact business under Part I. of the Act, and the Societies have accordingly established separate sections for the purpose of transacting business under Part I. of the Act and such separate sections have been approved:

And whereas in anticipation of the establishment of such separate sections certain of the said Societies have not made provision for separate accounts to be kept in respect of each branch:

And whereas it is apprehended that for the purpose of a valuation being made under Part I. of the Act it is necessary that before the date of the establishment of such separate section as aforesaid the accounts of each branch should have been separately kept and a difficulty has thereby arisen within the meaning of the said Section 78:

Now, therefore, the Commissioners, in pursuance of the powers conferred on them by the said Section and of all other powers enabling them in that behalf, with the consent of the Treasury, hereby order as follows:—

1. Where a Society with branches has before the date of this Order established a separate section for the purpose of transacting business under Part I. of the Act and has not made provision for separate accounts being kept in respect of each branch, the separate section shall, so far as relates to any valuation which may be made as aforesaid, be deemed to have been approved and to have transacted the business of the Society under Part I. of the Act from the commencement of the Act.

2. This Order may be cited as the National Health Insurance (Wales) (Establishment of Separate Sections) Order, 1914.

Given under the Seal of Office of the aforesaid Welsh Insurance Commissioners this 23rd day of December, in the year one thousand nine hundred and fourteen.

(L. S.)

Thomas Jones,

Secretary to the Welsh Insurance Commissioners.

We consent to this Order:

John W. Gulland,
William Jones,

Two of the Lords Commissioners
