

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
6762	Private ...	Shipway, J. ...	1st Battalion, Gloucestershire Regiment	For gallant conduct and resource in an emergency on 31st October. Finding that a man of another corps proceeding with a message had been wounded, on his own initiative he took forward the message himself under a heavy fire.
9798	Private ...	Simpson, A. ...	1st Battalion, Liverpool Regiment	For gallantry on 24th October in helping to carry into cover during an attack a severely wounded Officer under a heavy fire.
11113	Acting-Company-Serjeant-Major	Simpson, T. ...	2nd Battalion, Highland Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry on 14th November after both Officers had been killed, rendered great services by his good example to the men, whereby the trenches were held the whole day, notwithstanding heavy casualties.
7329	Lance-Serjeant	Small, E. J. ...	3rd Battalion, Coldstream Guards	For gallantry on 21st October at St. Julien, in voluntarily assisting to rescue a badly wounded man under very heavy fire.
3568	Lance-Corporal	Smart, A. H. ...	5th Lancers ...	For very great gallantry on 30th October near Hollebeke, when he continued to serve his machine gun with great bravery although shot in the mouth and shoulder.
6250	Lance-Corporal	Smith, J. ...	2nd Battalion, South Staffordshire Regiment	For gallant conduct on 15th November, on Becelaere-Passchendale road position, in taking an urgent message voluntarily over fire-swept ground for 600 yards, there being absolutely no cover.
40522	Serjeant ...	Smith, J. H. ...	57th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous courage and ability on 12th November near Veldhoek, continued to serve his gun without support, and with great effect, notwithstanding that he had no Officer.
3410	Acting-Corporal	Spain, F. C. ...	1st Battalion, Rifle Brigade	For gallant conduct at Le Toquet, in remaining standing in a very exposed position under heavy fire, watching and reporting the enemy's movements, which could not be otherwise ascertained.
67174	Driver ...	Stratford, A. ...	117th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For gallant conduct on 31st October, near Veldhoek. Was the centre driver of the last gun to retire. This gun was kept in action to meet a German close advance, and did not retire until the enemy were within 200 yards in force.
6551	Lance-Serjeant	Sutton, F. ...	2nd Battalion, Worcestershire Regiment	For gallant conduct in voluntarily leading a party against a house occupied by the enemy at Gheluveld and clearing them out, capturing one German.
3539	Private ...	Sweeney, M. ...	3rd Battalion, Connaught Rangers (attached 2nd Battalion)	For conspicuous gallantry in carrying urgent messages over very dangerous ground, 20 per cent. of the messengers being killed or wounded on this duty. An example in devotion to duty.
25943	Sapper ...	Sycamore, L. A. ...	Royal Engineers ...	For gallant conduct and ability during a severe engagement in keeping up continuous telephone communication under heavy shell fire.
7330	Lance-Corporal	Tucker, H. A. ...	2nd Battalion, King's Royal Rifle Corps	For gallantry on 13th November, in going alone for 50 yards in the open to destroy a gun emplacement belonging to the enemy, which he had previously damaged with the assistance of three other men.
