

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
4906	Squadron Quarter- master- Serjeant	Howlett, H.	18th Hussars ...	For conspicuous gallantry and ability at Messines on 1st November, 1914, when he collected a number of men of another regiment and brought them forward with his own troop in a counter-attack on the German position. In this attack he drove the enemy back 400 yards, which was of material importance at the time.
19026	Private ...	Hughes, J. ...	Royal Army Medical Corps	For gallantry at Messines on 31st October, 1914, when he went into the trenches under heavy fire and assisted in carrying away the wounded.
2615	Private ...	Hunt, W. G.	2nd Battalion, Rifle Brigade	For gallant conduct on 12th March, 1915, when he conveyed an urgent message with great speed over ground swept by rifle and shell fire. It was open to Private Hunt to have gone with his message by a less dangerous route, but he went direct regardless of danger.
328	Private ...	Hunter, A. ...	1st Battalion, Seaforth Highlanders	For the gallant conduct and energy displayed in the attack at Neuve Chapelle on 10th March, 1915. He ran ahead of his company in the charge with great boldness.
8982	Private ...	Hunter, W....	1st Battalion, Royal Irish Rifles	For gallant conduct on 12th March, 1915, when he conveyed an urgent message with great speed over ground swept by rifle and shell fire. It was open to Private Hunter to have gone with his message by a less dangerous route, but he went direct regardless of danger.
S/10696	Acting-Corporal	Hutchison, J.	1st Battalion, Cameron Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry on 25th and 26th April, 1915, at Givenchy, in assisting to rescue Officers and men from a deep mine full of poison-gas. The courage and devotion to duty displayed were very pronounced, the risk of death through asphyxiation being very great.
7145	Serjeant ...	Ince, A. E. ...	3rd Battalion, Worcestershire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry in the assault on the enemy's position at Spanbroek Molen on 12th March, 1915. Was one of the first to enter the German trench and rendered great assistance in its defence. Subsequently Serjeant Ince behaved with great gallantry in rescuing the wounded.
6810	Lance-Corporal	Irving, A. E.	2nd Battalion, Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and resource at Neuve Chapelle on 12th March, 1915, when he rushed forward alone and threw bombs on the enemy, causing them to evacuate their trench and come under the fire of his comrades.
8738	Private ...	Jackson, A.	1st Battalion, Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire Regiment	For gallant conduct at Neuve Chapelle on 12th March, 1915, in the defence of his regimental headquarters when surrounded by the enemy.
32	Lance-Corporal	James, A. ...	Lahore Signal Company	For gallant conduct at Neuve Chapelle, in leaving his trench and going out into the open on two occasions under fire to assist the wounded.
24663	Gunner ...	Jarvis, G. ...	33rd Brigade, Royal Field Artillery	For gallant conduct and ability. When communication by telephone had become impossible he signalled by flag from a very exposed position on the front line, under shell and rifle fire, which enabled his headquarters to have important information without delay.
8995	Acting-Serjeant-Major (now 2nd Lieutenant)	Jefferson, J.	6th (Banff, and Don-side) Battalion, Gordon Highlanders (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle on 13th March, 1915, when he showed a fine example to his men during the attack although himself severely wounded.
