

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
7980	Private ...	Highstone, A. S. ...	2nd Canadian Battalion	For conspicuous gallantry at St. Julien on 24th April, 1915, in bringing in wounded under heavy fire, and for his personal bravery under fire.
2023	Corporal ...	Hill, J. B. ...	16th Battalion, The London Regiment (Queen's Westminster Rifles) (T.F.)	For great devotion to duty and consistent good work during the whole period his Battalion has been engaged.
791	Private ...	Hill, M. ...	Honourable Artillery Company (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in laying and repairing telephone wires, often under heavy fire, both at Kemmel during December, 1914, January and February, 1915, and later on at St. Eloi. He has shown the greatest coolness and indifference to danger.
1301	Private ...	Hill, R. ...	1/6th Battalion, North Staffordshire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty on 28th April, 1915, near Kemmel, when he took his turn with a few other men in entering a mine gallery to rescue comrades who had been overcome by gas. The rescuing party persevered till all had been saved.
16558	Serjeant ...	Hoar, W. G. ...	65th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For gallant conduct and conspicuous ability while in charge of a subsection throughout the campaign. During December, 1914, the section to which he belongs was detached to a forward position near Wulverghem, and the Officer commanding being continuously away observing, Serjeant Hoar was left in command of the guns, which responsible duty he performed with marked success.
9426	Lance-Corporal	Hodgson, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Border Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry at Neuve Chapelle from March 10th to 14th, 1915, when he constantly took messages under heavy fire.
10621	Acting Serjeant	Hogg, J. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Scots (Lothian Regiment)	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty. Serjeant Hogg has displayed great coolness and initiative on more than one occasion when in charge of an isolated trench in close proximity to the enemy.
5678	Private ...	Hoggarth, W. ...	3rd Battalion, Coldstream Guards	For conspicuous gallantry as a machine gunner, showing constant bravery in working his gun in exposed positions. On the 6th February, 1915, he remained in a very exposed position, firing until his gun was blown to pieces by a shell and he himself was wounded.
1086	Driver ...	Hook, A. J. ...	British Red Cross Society, No. 4 Motor Ambulance Convoy	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on 21st April, 1915, when returning from dressing station, in carrying a wounded man on his back for a mile to the nearest ambulance wagon, his own wagon having broken down, the road being under heavy shell fire at the time.
5794	Company Serjeant-Major	Hopkins, C. ...	2nd Battalion, Gloucestershire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry displayed in undertaking in daylight a reconnaissance in front of the enemy's trenches, and advancing to within 10 yards of the German lines.
8138	Private ...	Horner, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle from March 10th to 14th, 1915, when he repaired telephone wires under heavy fire and was wounded in doing so.
7153	Serjeant ...	Horner, W. ...	2nd Battalion, West Yorkshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and efficiency as Signalling Serjeant, notably during the fighting at Neuve Chapelle from 10th to 14th March, 1915, under very heavy fire.