

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
16576	Private ...	Mullins, T. M. ...	7th Canadian Battalion	For gallant conduct and resource near Gravenstafel on 17th April, 1915, in assisting an Officer to extinguish a lighted torch which had fallen in an open box of fused bombs.
8308	Private ...	Mumby, N....	1st Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry at Zillebeke on 14th March, 1915, when, after a trench had been completely destroyed by the explosion of a German mine, he, in company with another man, went down the crater three times during the night voluntarily, close up to the enemy's trenches, to see if they had occupied it. On one occasion they were heavily fired at by a German patrol.
821	Lance-Serjeant	Murphy, J. ...	4th Battalion, Middlesex Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 26th February, 1915, when he crossed an open space of 50 yards within 150 yards of the enemy, who were firing heavily, in order to re-establish order in a trench, the garrison of which had been thrown into confusion by the enemy's bombs. Serjeant Murphy, after re-establishing order, returned across the open space and reported to his Officer.
8828	Private ...	Murphy, M. ...	1st Battalion, Leinster Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 9th April, 1915, in company with another man, in patrolling up to a new trench dug by the enemy and obtaining valuable information as to the German line and obstacles in front of it. They then placed obstacles in front of their own trench, although the enemy's trenches and ours were only 40 yards apart, under a continuous fire.
8765	Serjeant ...	Murray, S. ...	1st Battalion, Rifle Brigade	For great gallantry and devotion to duty. Has at all times shown great courage, and exposed himself to the enemy's fire when necessary without hesitation, thereby setting an excellent example to his men.
14503	Serjeant ...	Murrell, E. ...	2nd Battalion, Grenadier Guards	For conspicuous gallantry as Signalling Serjeant throughout the campaign. In the day or night, in all conditions of weather, and in spite of heavy shell or rifle fire, he has been out repairing wires whenever broken, regardless of danger. He has always shown great courage, zeal and resource in the performance of dangerous and difficult duties.
24774	Corporal ...	Mutimer, J. ...	24th Heavy Battery, Royal Garrison Artillery	For great gallantry and devotion to duty on the Aisne, on 27th September, 1914, while his battery observation post was being shelled and many casualties were occurring, in crossing an open space under heavy fire to obtain assistance for the wounded.
10689	Lance-Corporal	Neal, H. ...	1st Battalion, Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry while employed as stretcher bearer; he showed great devotion to duty at Neuve Chapelle in searching for and bringing in wounded, even close to the enemy's line.
10543	Private ...	Needham, J. ...	1st Battalion, Cheshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on March 10th, 1915, when he volunteered to take up a Medical Officer by daylight to attend to an Officer who was reported to be bleeding to death in the trenches. Subsequently he assisted in an attempt to remove the Officer by daylight which proved impossible, but another attempt by night by Private Needham and the Medical Officer was successful, although the latter was wounded while getting the wounded Officer away.
