

Distinguished Conduct Medals—Continued.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
8353	Serjeant ...	Neideraner, G. ...	3rd (attached to 2nd) Battalion, Royal Sussex Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 29th January, 1915, at Cuinchy. In command of a platoon, when the Germans made an attack and established themselves behind a small bank, he, with great courage, bombed them out of their position and they were shot down.
8506	Private ...	Nelson, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Cameron Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry on various occasions, notably on 23rd April, 1915, when, after the parapets and communication trenches on "Hill 60" had been blown in, he, with another private soldier, carried a wounded man under shell, bomb and machine gun fire, from "Hill 60" to a dressing station.
105	Serjeant ...	Newman, F. ...	Royal Army Medical Corps	For conspicuous coolness and gallantry displayed during the periods 16th to 20th November, 1914, and 12th December, 1914, to 31st March, 1915, when in charge of advanced dressing stations. In the presence of danger this Non-Commissioned Officer has carried out his duties with great ability.
1836	1st Class Air Mechanic	Newns, L. S. ...	Royal Flying Corps	For gallant conduct and coolness when carrying out his duties under fire; also for the conspicuous thoroughness and efficiency for which his work has been noticeable.
8895	Serjeant ...	Noble, J. L. ...	2nd Battalion, Shropshire Light Infantry	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty on 18th April, 1915, in assisting to bring in a wounded officer in daylight, being constantly fired on by the enemy's snipers.
2760	Private ...	O'Connor, J. ...	1st Battalion, Irish Guards	For conspicuous gallantry and resource. He has performed valuable services on patrol duty throughout the campaign, no work being too dangerous for him to undertake.
26051	Bombardier	O'Shaughnessey, O.	2nd Mountain Battery, Royal Garrison Artillery	For conspicuous courage and devotion to duty at Ploegsteert Wood on 19th December, 1914, and following days, in repairing telephone wire under fire; on one occasion he received a shot through his cap but continued his work cheerfully and methodically. Bombardier O'Shaughnessey was shot through both legs later on.
9633	Lance-Corporal	O'Sullivan, M. ...	2nd Battalion, Leinster Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on 3rd February, 1915, in assisting to remove wounded from billets which were being shelled. He twice entered the building under fire, bringing out wounded each time.
8192	Serjeant ...	O'Toole, D. P. ...	1st Battalion, South Wales Borderers	For conspicuous gallantry from the 21st to the 23rd December, 1914, near Festubert. Both during and after the action he performed excellent service in carrying messages under a heavy fire, and subsequently volunteered and brought water and ammunition to the forward trenches.
7788	Company Serjeant-Major	Owens, E. ...	1st Battalion, Cheshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty throughout the campaign, notably at Ypres on 16th November, 1914, when he brought back under heavy fire from the enemy, only 80 yards away, an abandoned machine gun which had been left in a trench.
