THURSDAY, 5 AUGUST, 1915.

War Office,
5th August, 1915.

HIS MAJESTY the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the award of the Distinguished Conduct Medal to the undermentioned Warrant Officers, Non-commissioned Officers and Men for acts of gallantry and devotion to duty whilst serving with the Expeditionary Forces in France and Flanders, The Dardanelles, and Turkey in Asia.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
10807	Serjeant ...	Albone, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Grenadier Guards	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Cuinchy on the night of 21st June, 1915, in going down a mine and assisting in the rescue of four men under circumstances of great risk. On the morning of the 22nd June the enemy exploded a mine, entombing about nine of our men, and this Non-commissioned Officer went down the mine, time after time, with the greatest courage, and assisted in bringing out all the men. He was badly affected by the poison fumes.
7762	Lance-Corporal	Alexander, A. W....	2nd Battalion, The Hampshire Regiment	For coolness under fire on the 8th May, 1915, south-west of Krithia (Dardanelles), in reforming the men in the firing line, and going back for reinforcements for an isolated position.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
-13388	Corporal ...	Allbut, P. ...	4th Battalion, Worcestershire Regiment	For gallant work on the 25th May, 1915, during operations south-west of Krithia (Dardanelles), when constructing a trench in the firing line. He had previously shown great gallantry under fire and encouraged his section to advance when hard pressed.
2378	Private ...	Allen, H. J. W. ...	24th County of London Battalion, The London Regiment (The Queen's) (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the 25th and 26th May, 1915, at Givenchy. After taking part in a successful assault, he went back repeatedly under heavy fire to give first aid and water to men who had been wounded in the charge. On each occasion he returned to the captured trench, bringing a considerable amount of ammunition, which he had collected from the dead and wounded.
9969	Private ...	Allen, L. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Welsh Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry on the 16th May, 1915, at Festubert, when, in company with a Serjeant-Major and two other men, he volunteered to assist in bombing down a German trench, 500 yards of which they captured together with 102 prisoners, including three officers.
3088	Lance-Corporal	Allen, R. J. ...	19th Hussars ...	For great gallantry on the 24th May, 1915, east of Ypres. He continually carried messages between Headquarters and the 9th Cavalry Brigade, between 3 a.m. and 11 p.m., under an exceptionally heavy shell fire. He displayed throughout the day the greatest courage and presence of mind.
3947	Company Serjeant-Major	Allister, B. ...	1/6th Battalion, Lancashire Fusiliers (T.F.)	For good leading of his platoon on the 4th June, 1915, south of Krithia (Dardanelles), under heavy rifle and shrapnel fire, to take a Turkish trench. He cleared one flank himself, killing eight Turks.
30412	Private ...	Anderson, G. ...	2nd Battalion, East Lancashire Regiment	For gallant conduct on the 9th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs, in assisting to bring in wounded under very heavy fire. On many previous occasions, and notably on the 10th, 11th, and 12th March, 1915, at Neuve Chapelle, he carried and delivered messages under a heavy fire.
41112	Lance-Serjeant	Anderson, H. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Scots (Lothian) Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 11th May, 1915, near Hooze, when he assisted an officer to rally men of another Battalion, who had been forced to retire from their trench through gas and very heavy shell fire. Afterwards he attended to the wounded in the open under a heavy fire.
2710	Company Serjeant-Major	Apsey, W. ...	4th Battalion, Rifle Brigade	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the 8th May, 1915, near Hooze, in collecting about ten men of his Company and taking them to a point where there was grave danger of the enemy breaking through the line. He repulsed the enemy with heavy loss, taking one prisoner. This gallant act undoubtedly saved the situation until reinforcements arrived.
12835	Battery Serjeant-Major	Armitage, J. ...	458th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry, ability and resource throughout the operations from the 18th April to the 16th May, 1915, around Ypres. He invariably showed exceptional courage and coolness under fire. On one or two occasions of unusual emergency he acted with great ability and judgment, and rendered invaluable service.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
37697	Corporal ...	Arnold, C. ...	113th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For gallant conduct on the 16th May, 1915, near Rue du Bois. He was of the greatest assistance to an Officer, when in charge of a gun in the front breastwork. He also assisted to dress the wounded under heavy fire, and displayed great courage and devotion to duty.
74	Private ..	Arnott, T. ...	1st Australian Infantry Battalion (New South Wales).	For conspicuous gallantry on the 30th May, 1915, in the neighbourhood of Caba Tepe (Dardanelles), whilst serving in a machine-gun section. Although engaged by two hostile machine-guns which demolished the emplacement, Private Arnott served his gun whilst exposed to the enemy's fire until badly wounded. One hostile machine gun was destroyed.
13679	Private ...	Atkinson, C. ...	2nd Battalion, Grenadier Guards	For conspicuous gallantry on the 18th May, 1915, at Rue du Bois, after the attack had been held up by heavy rifle and machine-gun fire. Private Atkinson went out on four separate occasions and carried wounded men into shelter at imminent risk to himself.
2048	Corporal of Horse	Attenborough, G. ...	1st Life Guards ...	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 13th May, 1915, near Ypres, when he remained in shell holes under a heavy fire during a retirement, and ultimately advanced with the 10th Hussars in a counter-attack.
1792	Lance-Corporal	Austin, L. A. ...	1st Battalion, Cambridgeshire Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 28th April, 1915, east of Ypres. Corporal Austin formed part of the garrison of a trench held by another regiment, and when this trench was heavily shelled and enfiladed, and the parapet partly destroyed, he, with great coolness and bravery, repaired the parapet and by his gallant example steadied the other men. The losses in this trench were very severe.
9828	Private ...	Bagot, W. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Irish Fusiliers	For conspicuous bravery on the 24th May, 1915, near Wieltje. Private Bagot carried messages throughout the day under a very heavy fire, displaying the greatest coolness and courage in the performance of his hazardous duties.
C. 42059	Corporal (now Lieutenant)	Baker, R. F. ...	3rd Brigade, Canadian Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the 22nd-23rd April, 1915, when, after having had the teams of three ammunition wagons killed, he collected details and kept up the supply of ammunition by hand, under a very heavy shell and rifle fire.
4/8804	Private ...	Ball, F. ...	2nd Battalion, South Staffordshire Regiment.	For conspicuous gallantry and resource on the 16th-18th May, 1915, at Rue du Bois. After the N.C. officer and remainder of his machine-gun team had been killed or wounded, Private Ball, with the greatest coolness and courage succeeded, under a heavy shell fire, in bringing his gun into action. He maintained his gun in an exposed position for two days on the left flank of a captured German trench under a heavy fire, and thus prevented the enemy repairing an important communication trench.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
7798	Private ...	Ball, R. ...	1st Battalion, Devonshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 2nd May, 1915, at "Hill 60," near Ypres. After the Germans had made use of asphyxiating gas, which caused many casualties, Private Ball, with another man, went out from the trench into the open under a heavy fire, and brought in a man who had been overcome by the gas fumes. This act was entirely voluntary.
7743	2nd Corporal	Banham, W. ...	55th Field Company, Royal Engineers	For great gallantry on the 16th and 17th May, 1915, at Festubert, in putting up wire and improving trenches and communications by night under heavy fire. By his great coolness and devotion to duty he set an excellent example to all with him.
7602	Corporal ...	Barber, A. ...	3rd Field Squadron, Royal Engineers	For great gallantry and resource on the night of the 12th-13th May, 1915, near Ypres. Corporal Barber handled his working parties with great ability and courage when digging a communication trench from the firing line to the rear under heavy fire.
7040	Drummer...	Barker, A. ...	2nd Battalion, Norfolk Regiment	For gallantry and coolness at Barjisiyah (Turkey in Asia) on the 14th April, 1915, in bringing up ammunition under heavy fire at a critical period of the action. He behaved with great gallantry on a previous occasion.
1395	Serjeant ...	Bates, J. ...	1st Battalion, Manchester Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the 26th April, 1915, at Ypres, when he led his platoon with the greatest courage in the attack. When troops on the left of the brigade were being checked he set a fine example by rallying men of several units and leading them on under a heavy direct and enfilade fire. By his marked coolness and presence of mind he rendered invaluable assistance at a very critical period.
9778	Private ...	Baxter, H. ...	4th Battalion King's Royal Rifle Corps	For conspicuous gallantry on the 8th May, 1915, east of Ypres, when he lay on the parapet of his trench, and continuously fired his machine-gun under a heavy fire.
1761	Lance-Corporal	Beale, J. R. ...	47th (London) Divisional Signal Company, Royal Engineers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the night of the 23rd May, 1915, at Le Plantin, when he laid a line under heavy shell and rifle fire, and later constantly repaired the frequent breaks caused by the same fire.
70099	Gunner ...	Beech, S. ...	48th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry on the 25th May, 1915, at Festubert, when he went out, on his own initiative, under a heavy shell fire, and repaired telephone wires, thereby keeping communications open. His coolness and disregard of danger have been noticed on several previous occasions.
1847	Private ...	Berry, A. B. ...	22nd County of London Battalion, The London Regiment (The Queen's) (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the 22nd May, 1915, at Givenchy. While engaged in holding a line with three other men, they were isolated by the blowing in of three traverses. Private Berry behaved with great coolness and bravery in extricating those buried in the debris, and afterwards organised a fresh defence, showing the greatest devotion to duty.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
11120	Private ...	Berry, D. ...	1st Battalion, The Liverpool Regiment	For great gallantry, on the 16th May, 1915, near Rue du Bois, when he carried six badly wounded men back to the dressing station under very heavy shell fire. The company being in reserve, the stretcher-bearers were unable to get owing to heavy fire.
52491	Corporal ...	Bevens, F. G. ...	95th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry on the 3rd May, 1915, when in charge of three ammunition wagons, which were bringing ammunition to the battery on the Menin road, near Ypres. One wagon was blown up by a shell, and Corporal Bevens was wounded, but with great gallantry he took the remaining two wagons to the battery under a heavy fire although suffering great pain.
655	Serjeant ..	Beverley, M. G. ...	1/5th (Angus and Dundee) Battalion, Royal Highlanders (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and resource on the 9th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs. His platoon was scattered by a shell during an advance on the forward assembly trenches. Although wounded, he got them together again, led them forward, and remained with them throughout the day, displaying great courage and devotion to duty.
13918	Private ...	Bills, D. ...	2nd Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 9th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs. Seeing a man of the bombing party alone, he rushed to his assistance and went on clearing about 250 yards of the enemy's trench.
3 L. H.	Serjeant ...	Birley, F. ...	Madras Volunteer Rifles (Attached Lahore Signal Co.)	For great gallantry from the 26th April to 3rd May, 1915, near Ypres. As a motor-cyclist he consistently performed excellent work in carrying dispatches under heavy fire. On one occasion he was blown off his cycle by a shell, but completed his journey, although suffering severely from the shock.
72	Bandsman	Black, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Warwickshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 16th May, 1915, at Festubert, when, with his corporal, he continually went over the parapet, and assisted to carry in wounded men under a heavy shell fire.
6789	Serjeant ...	Bolingbroke, J. R. H.	2nd Battalion, Norfolk Regiment	For gallant conduct and ability at Barisayah (Turkey in Asia) on 14th April, 1915, when leading his platoon during a severe engagement. He has been previously noted as a capable leader in the field.
6650	Private ...	Bonning, C....	1st Battalion, South Staffordshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry between the 16th and 18th May, 1915, at Festubert. He displayed at all times the utmost coolness and courage in carrying in wounded under heavy fire, and was himself wounded while attending to a wounded officer. In every action he has always exhibited the greatest devotion to duty.
4654	Acting Serjeant	Borough, H. F. ...	15th Hussars ...	For conspicuous gallantry, ability and resource on the 24th May, 1915, near Hooge. Though suffering from the effects of gas, he went forward to stop and collect stragglers, and, with them and some of his own men, he rendered great assistance all day in the front line, helping the 9th Lancers to hold their line. The conduct and excellent work in a difficult situation of this Non-Commissioned Officer, and the splendid example he set, was specially mentioned by the late Captain Grenfell, V.C.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
9348	Private ...	Bowers, A. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Irish Rifles.	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty on the 9th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs, when he left a captured trench during daylight and collected bombs, which had been dropped during the advance. He repeated this action several times during the day.
10174	Private ...	Bowett, R. ...	1st Battalion, Cheshire Regiment.	For conspicuous gallantry and coolness on the 5th May, 1915, on "Hill 60," when, owing to the telephone wires having been cut between the Battalion and the 15th Brigade Headquarters, a very critical state of affairs existed. Private Bowett carried important messages along the railway under a very heavy rifle, shell and machine gun fire and through a badly gassed area.
2658	Private ...	Branton, W. H. ...	15th County of London Battalion, The London Regiment (Prince of Wales's Own, Civil Service Rifles) (T.F.).	For conspicuous gallantry on the 24th and 25th May, 1915, at Festubert, when assisting as bomber in an assault on a hostile trench by another Regiment, which was short of bombers through casualties. Out of eight men supplied, four were killed and two wounded.
7113	Private ...	Breeze, E. ...	1st Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment.	For conspicuous gallantry and ability at Hooze, on the 16th June, 1915, when he collected a few men and attacked the enemy with bombs in their second line of trenches, destroyed two of their machine guns and took twelve prisoners.
81	Serjeant ...	Brian, A. J. ...	23rd County of London Battalion, The London Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the 25th and 26th May, 1915, at Givenchy, while working a machine gun under a very heavy rifle, machine gun, and shrapnel fire in a captured German trench. His general conduct and bravery has set a fine example to others.
8561	Serjeant ...	Brightman, F. ...	2nd Battalion, Northamptonshire Regiment.	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the 9th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs, when he advanced with his Company under a very heavy machine gun fire. When nearly all the Company were casualties, on his own initiative he collected about 20 men, and with great courage and determination advanced and established himself on the enemy's parapet, remaining there all day. He withdrew after dark, bringing in ten wounded men.
8665	Acting Serjeant	Brockelsby, G. ...	2nd Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment.	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the 9th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs, when he took over the command of a party of men, who were lying exposed to an extremely heavy rifle and machine gun flanking fire, and by his example and bravery succeeded in leading them forward and reinforcing a party in front, who were already in possession of a German trench. In these operations he was severely wounded.
20054	Corporal ...	Bromley, G. ...	1st Battalion, York and Lancaster Regiment.	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty on the 24th May, 1915, near Hooze, while on patrol duty. His companion was killed, but he went on until wounded himself. He returned, and, before being bandaged, he gave in his report to the Officer Commanding his Company. It was chiefly on this report that important action was subsequently taken.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
6210	Private ...	Brooks, G. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Welsh Fusiliers.	For gallant conduct and ability on the 16th May, 1915, at Festubert, when in charge of a machine gun, which he worked with great accuracy under a very heavy fire, putting a German machine gun out of action. Subsequently he was able to bring his gun out of action under a heavy shell fire.
1927	Private ..	Brown, E. ...	1/1st City of London Battalion, The London Regiment (Royal Fusiliers) (T.F.)	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty on the 9th May, 1915, when, hearing that an Officer was severely wounded, he left his shelter under a very heavy shell fire to find him. The Officer made him take down his message in writing, and he then assisted to carry him in, later delivering the message. Private Brown had himself been knocked down by a shell earlier in the day.
290	Acting Corporal	Bryne, A. J. ...	1/1st Cheshire Field Company, Royal Engineers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry, ability, and devotion to duty on 16th June, 1915. During the attack on Belleward he was wounded at the outset in the hand, and, refusing to have it dressed, went on with his men and worked for 16 hours continuously, till his wound compelled him to cease.
9115	Private ...	Bull, T. ...	2nd Battalion, Northamptonshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and determination on the 9th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs. Private Bull was one of a party of five who established themselves, with an Officer, on the German parapet, and he was the only bomb thrower there. He several times, whilst under heavy fire, stood up and stepped to a flank, to throw his bombs with greater effect. When the Germans threw fuze bombs, he seized them, and threw back before they had time to explode. He was the only survivor of the five men.
8867	Private ...	Burley, C. E. ...	2nd Battalion, Northamptonshire Regiment	For gallant conduct and ability on the 9th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs, in continually repairing the telephone line between Brigade Headquarters and Advanced Report Centre under a very heavy fire. The Report Centre, of which Corporal Dunmore was in charge, was knocked over by shells, and the instruments buried, but he continued to work the telephone communication successfully under the most trying conditions.
8935	Lance-Corporal	Burns, J. ...	1st Battalion, Cheshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and coolness on the 5th May, 1915, on "Hill 60," when, owing to the telephone wires having been cut between the Battalion and the 15th Brigade Headquarters, a very critical state of affairs existed. Lance-Corporal Burns carried important messages along the railway under a very heavy rifle, shell and machine gun fire and through a badly gassed area.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
8328	Private ..	Burt, W. G. ...	2nd Battalion, Dorsetshire Regiment	For gallantry and coolness at Barjisiyah (Turkey in Asia), on the 14th April, 1915, when he carried an urgent message along the firing line within 400 yards of the enemy's position under very heavy fire and returned to report having delivered it.
51068	Private ...	Bushby, E. J. ...	Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry on the 8th May, 1915, at Hooge, when he assisted wounded men from a trench then in the hands of the enemy, and attempted to rescue a man, who was partially buried in the trench, although while doing so he had to keep at bay two Germans, who were trying to bayonet him. Previously he had made two journeys to the reserves to bring up ammunition under heavy fire.
9935	Serjeant ...	Butler, J. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Welsh Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 16th May, 1915, at Festubert. Although wounded before the assault was made, he advanced with his machine gun, brought it into action, and continued to fire it though he was again wounded. He showed the greatest courage and resource throughout the operations.
1208	Corporal (Acting Serjeant)	Calder, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Seaforth Highlanders	For great gallantry on the 24th May, 1915, near Wieltje. After an Officer had been killed and another wounded, he took command of the few men left in his part of the trench, and although the enemy occupied a trench on his left, he continued to hold on and prevented them from advancing.
179	Company Serjeant-Major	Cameron, F. ...	7th Battalion, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the 24th May, 1915, at Wieltje. When the gas appeared he displayed the greatest coolness in getting hold of the men and ordering them to fire into it. His courage and devotion to duty exercised, throughout the day, the greatest influence over his men and kept them steady.
7436	Private ...	Campbell, W. J. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Irish Rifles	For conspicuous gallantry on the 9th and 10th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs. Private Campbell led a patrol down a German trench to ascertain where the enemy's flank rested, and carried a message back under a heavy fire. He volunteered for every dangerous duty, and, although wounded in the shoulder, declined to go to the dressing station, giving a splendid example of devotion to duty.
525	Private ...	Cannon, J. ...	1st Battalion, Irish Guards (attached 2nd Signal Company, Royal Engineers)	For conspicuous bravery and ability on the 19th and 20th May, 1915, at Rue l'Épinette. The telephone wires of a Brigade were continually cut by the very heavy shell fire, which swept the whole area, but Private Cannon ensured the maintenance of efficient communications by going out and repairing the wires on every occasion with the greatest courage and promptitude.
10927	Acting Serjeant	Capelin, M. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Welsh Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry on the 16th May, 1915, at Festubert, when, although wounded in the face early in the action, he continued to lead his men under heavy fire, remaining with his Company until the evening.
2971	Private ...	Carey, R. A. F. ...	20th County of London Battalion, The London Regiment (Blackheath and Woolwich) (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the 25th-26th May, 1915, at Givenchy. Private Carey sapped his way along the side of the Givenchy Bluff, and made three journeys for bomb ammunition, which he carried up to the point he had reached. He afterwards assisted to hold the captured position.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
28677	Private ...	Carlin, S. ...	18th Hussars ...	For conspicuous gallantry on the 13th May, 1915, at Ypres, under very heavy shell fire. Although severely wounded, he refused to leave the firing line and kept the troop together in a very exposed position, with the trenches demolished on both sides, after all his Seniors had been killed. He gave a fine example of courage and devotion to duty.
1257	Lance-Corporal	Carpenter, W. F. ...	1st Dragoon Guards ...	For conspicuous gallantry on 2nd June, 1915, in rescuing wounded men whilst under heavy fire, and digging out men who had been buried by shell fire. Although himself severely wounded he continued at his post until his squadron was relieved. Lance-Corporal Carpenter has also been brought to notice for making a daring reconnaissance of the enemy's trenches.
2557	Private ...	Carr, E. ...	24th County of London Battalion, The London Regiment (The Queen's) (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the 25th and 26th May, 1915, at Givenchy. During an attack on a German work at the flank of a captured trench, Private Carr hurled bombs for three hours at close range until his supply was exhausted, when he used his rifle until further supplies arrived. He showed the greatest gallantry and coolness in continuously attacking the enemy and encouraging the men around him, until he was finally wounded.
5810	Company Serjeant-Major	Carter, G. J. ...	2nd Battalion, The Royal Fusiliers (City of London Regiment)	For conspicuous ability on the night 1st-2nd May, 1915, south-west of Krithia (Dardanelles), in the handling of a platoon after the Officer commanding it had been shot during a counter-attack.
66	Lance-Corporal	Cawley, V. ...	No. 2 Field Ambulance, 1st Australian Division	For conspicuous gallantry on 25th April, 1915, and subsequently during landing operations in the neighbourhood of Gaba Tepe (Dardanelles). He advanced under heavy rifle and shrapnel fire and spent the day attending to wounded men. He repeatedly during the following days brought wounded men in over ground swept by the enemy's fire.
7840	Private ...	Chapman, S. H. ...	2nd Battalion, Norfolk Regiment	For gallant conduct and ability at Barjisiyah (Turkey in Asia), on 14th April, 1915, in keeping up signalling communication in the firing line under a very heavy fire regardless of danger.
389	Lance-Serjeant	Chard, A. L. ...	1/1st North Somerset Yeomanry (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the 13th May, 1915, near Ypres, when he carried messages throughout the day, and acted as guide under a heavy fire. Subsequently he took over and ably controlled an isolated command.
8978	Private ...	Child, J. W. ...	1/6th Battalion, Lancashire Fusiliers (T.F.)	For gallant conduct on the 4th June, 1915, south-west of Krithia (Dardanelles), in volunteering to attack a redoubt and holding it with four other men until relieved ten hours later. He had previously been mentioned for gallant conduct.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
10710	Private ...	Chilwell, W. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Welsh Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry on the 16th May, 1915, at Festubert, when he was the first to volunteer on four separate occasions for duty of the greatest danger. Later in the same day he volunteered to attack a house 70 yards away, two other volunteers with him being killed. He gave a fine example of courage and devotion to duty.
63	Serjeant ..	Chitty, J. W. ..	9th Lancers	For conspicuous gallantry and resource in laying and repairing telephone wires under heavy fire. When the telephone dugout became unoccupiable owing to gas and the two assistant operators were so badly gassed that they had to be removed, Serjeant Chitty insisted on remaining until the last wire was cut. He stayed with his Commanding Officer throughout the day, and finally repaired the line to the forward trench and re-established communication.
11500	Lance-Corporal	Christie, J.	2nd Battalion, Highland Light Infantry	For conspicuous gallantry on the 18th May, 1915, near Richebourg. His platoon serjeant having been killed. Lance-Corporal Christie displayed great bravery and ability in handling his men and keeping a look out to the front; although he was wounded, he did not cease in his efforts until the danger was over.
7620	Private ..	Christopher, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Berkshire Regiment	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty on 9th May, 1915, near Cordonnerie farm, when he went out many times during the day under very heavy fire to bring in wounded men. He was conspicuous among the stretcher-bearers for his coolness and courage in the performance of these hazardous duties.
9343	Lance-Serjeant	Churches, T. V. ...	2nd Battalion, Worcestershire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the night of the 15th-16th May, 1915, at Richebourg. In command of grenadiers he made a very gallant and determined rush with his party in face of a devastating machine gun fire, which killed or wounded the whole of his men, he himself being among the wounded.
4986	Acting Corporal	Clarke, J. J.	2nd Dragoon Guards	For conspicuous gallantry and zeal on the 13th May, 1915, at Ypres. Although wounded in the head, he volunteered to go back half a mile over open ground and bring up ammunition. He made two journeys under a very heavy shell fire, and later, although advised by his Squadron Commander to go to the dressing station, he gallantly remained in the front line trenches and assisted in repulsing an attack. He showed a fine example of courage and devotion to duty.
5663	Acting Company Quarter-master-Serjeant	Clarke, S.	2nd Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 9th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs, in leading his platoon to the German trenches in support of another regiment, losing heavily in so doing. Later on he went out under fire and cut the German barbed wire, thereby enabling the troops to retire.
757	Private ..	Clear, B.	2nd Battalion, Royal West Surrey Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 16th May, 1915, at Festubert, when he volunteered to go with a Company-Serjeant-Major to bomb down a German trench, 500 yards of which they captured, together with 102 prisoners, including 3 officers.

2210	Private ..	Cohen, V. E. ...	1/13 (County of London) Princess Louise's Kensington Battalion, The London Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the 9th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs. Private Cohen was the sole survivor of the left bombing party, and, although himself wounded, continued to throw bombs with great courage and coolness until too exhausted to move.
9811	Lance-Corporal	Coleman, J. ...	2nd Battalion, Border Regiment	For great gallantry and devotion to duty on the 16th May, 1915, at Festubert, in helping to carry in a wounded Officer from between the British and German lines under a very destructive fire. Later in the day, assisted by another man, he brought back over 50 wounded men, under intermittent rifle and shell fire.
M.S./3540	Private	Collins, J. D. ...	Army Service Corps...	For gallant conduct and devotion to duty between the 26th April and 3rd May, 1915, near Ypres, when he had to bring his car daily from Poperinghe to Potyje under shell fire with Officers, supplies, etc., and frequently had to go backwards and forwards twice in the 24 hours. He was often in great danger, but invariably showed the greatest courage and presence of mind.
2170	Lance-Corporal	Colomb, G. L. ...	1/4th City of London Battalion, The London Regiment (Royal Fusiliers) (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the 27th. April, 1915, near Ypres. He rescued, under a very heavy rifle and shell fire, a wounded man who was lying about 50 yards away, rendered first aid, and carried him back to cover. In doing this he was himself wounded.
8280	Lance-Corporal	Condrey, J. F. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Welsh Fusiliers	For great bravery and devotion to duty on the 16th-18th May, 1915, at Festubert, when acting as a stretcher bearer. While bringing in wounded under a heavy fire he was himself wounded, and although he could no longer carry in men he continued to go out and dress the wounded under fire until exhausted.
82589	Driver ...	Connelly, J. ...	No. 6 Depôt, Royal Field Artillery	For gallant conduct from the 26th. April to 3rd May, 1915, in carrying messages to the batteries under very heavy shell fire and when all telephone wires were broken down.
3825	Colour-Serjeant	Cooke, F. A. ...	Grenadier Guards, Permanent Staff, 23rd County of London Battalion, The London Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the 25th and 26th May, 1915, at Givenchy, in organising the despatch of ammunition supplies to a captured German trench and continuing his work after having been stunned by the explosion of a shell. He showed the greatest bravery and coolness under very dangerous conditions.
656	Lance-Serjeant	Cooney, E. ...	1/5th Battalion, Liverpool Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the 16th. May, 1915, at Festubert. After taking part in the assault on the enemy's trenches, he went out repeatedly, in daylight and full view of the enemy, and, with assistance, brought in several wounded men. These men were being fired on from the German trenches, and would probably have been killed if it had not been for the bravery and devotion of Serjeant Cooney and the men who assisted him.

11079	Corporal ...	Cooper, T. G. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Lancaster Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and resource on the 2nd May, 1915, north-east of Ypres, when the Germans, under cover of gas, having captured a house in which we had a patrol, Lance-Corporal Cooper, from a neighbouring trench, collected his party of about ten men, and on his own initiative counter-attacked, drove out the Germans and re-occupied the house.
5359	Acting Corporal	Corley, W. ...	3rd Dragoon Guards...	For conspicuous gallantry and zeal between the 30th May and the 2nd June, 1915, at Hooze, and particularly on the 2nd June, when, the communication trench having been blown in, he constantly carried messages across the open under a heavy shell and machine gun fire.
14946	Serjeant ...	Court, T. H. ...	11th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry throughout the fighting east of Ypres, and particularly on the 8th May, 1915, when, although wounded and suffering from shock from the explosion of a high explosive shell, he continued to perform his duties, and showed a splendid example of courage and devotion to his men.
69293	Corporal ...	Cowham, F. ..	71st Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For gallant conduct and resource on the 16th May, 1915, at Festubert. The telephone wires in Rue de Cailloux were, throughout the day, constantly being cut, and Corporal Cowham went out under heavy fire and repaired them. On several occasions he had to change communications from one Observing Station to another, and his excellent work prevented any serious breakdown.
13861	Private ...	Cowling, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 9th May, 1915, at Rouges Bancs, when he covered a retirement by holding up a number of the enemy in a hand-to-hand fight, killing several. His rifle was ultimately torn from him, but he was able to make his escape.
9555	Private ...	Cowstick, H. O. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal West Surrey Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 16th May, 1915, at Festubert, when he volunteered to go with a Company Sergeant-Major to bomb down a German trench, 500 yards of which they captured, together with 102 prisoners, including three officers. Later he saw a German officer about to explode a mine and took him prisoner.
1403	Private ...	Cowtan, M. D. ...	1st Australian Casualty Clearing Station	For conspicuous good work on the 25th April, 1915, and subsequently during the landing operations in the neighbourhood of Gaba Tepe (Dardanelles). He was indefatigable during the first four days in giving aid and carrying water to the wounded, and his unswerving courage under fire was invaluable in its effect.
53298	Acting Bombardier	Creasey, H. A. ...	98th Battery, Royal Field Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry and consistent good service in the heavy fighting during April and May, 1915, east of Ypres, and particularly for great bravery on the 25th April, 1915, at Potijze, when, with an Officer, he assisted to unload a burning ammunition wagon under a very heavy shell fire.

712	Serjeant ...	Cross, W. A. ...	13th Australian Infantry Battalion (New South Wales)	For conspicuous gallantry on the 9th May, 1915, during operations near Gaba Tepe (Dardanelles), in taking an enemy's trench. Out of a party of 40 men to which he belonged, only 12 reached their objective. On the Officer in Command being wounded he endeavoured to assist him back, but the Officer was again shot and killed. Sergeant Cross then immediately returned to the forward position.
2122	Private ...	Cuddy, J. ...	1st/8th (Irish) Battalion, Liverpool Regiment (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the 16th June, 1915, at Rue d'Ouvert, in rescuing three wounded men belonging to another regiment who had been lying in front of the enemy's trenches for twelve hours. This gallant act was performed under heavy and sustained rifle fire from the enemy, and many previous attempts to rescue the men had failed.
10113	Private ...	Cullen, T. ...	1st Battalion, Royal Dublin Fusiliers	For conspicuous gallantry on the 26th April, 1915, during the capture of Sedd-el-Bahr (Dardanelles). He was the first man to enter the fort.
2242	Private ...	Currie, G. H. ...	1/9th (Glasgow Highland) Battalion, The Highland Light Infantry (T.F.)	For great bravery and devotion to duty on the 17th May, 1915, at Richebourg. Private Currie volunteered to carry three messages up to captured German breastworks under heavy shell and rifle fire. These messages had been passed along the trench from hand to hand, but when he found they had not gone beyond the end of the trench, he collected them, carried them across 100 yards of open ground and delivered them.
1417	Private	Cutler, R. ...	Honourable Artillery Company (T.F.)	For gallant conduct near Hooge, on 16th June, 1915, when he worked for over an hour without cover, and under heavy shell fire in digging out a Signaller who had been buried by shell fire.
6701	Company Serjeant-Major	Daniels, W....	2nd Battalion, Dorsetshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Barjisiyah (Turkey in Asia), on 14th April, 1915, throughout the action. He took back a message to his Commanding Officer explaining the situation, and returned to the firing line carrying a box of ammunition on his shoulder. He bound up three wounded men under heavy fire, and twice went back and brought up reinforcements. He was eventually shot in the knee.
8300	Lance-Corporal	Darke, T. R. ...	2nd Battalion, Royal Scots Fusiliers	For gallant conduct and coolness on the 22nd October, 1914, at Ypres, when he conveyed a message to a Company of his Battalion, which was practically cut off. The delivery of this message was most important, and he had to pass over very open ground under heavy shell and rifle fire. Although held up for a time by the severity of the fire, he succeeded in delivering the message and in returning with the answer.
19729	Sapper ...	Davison, J. S. ...	"G" Depôt, Royal Engineers	For conspicuous gallantry on the 25th April, 1915, at Ypres. While carrying a message he was struck by shrapnel receiving several severe wounds, but he safely delivered his message, going over one-third of a mile to do so.

7970	Serjeant ...	Davis, F. J. ...	1st Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and ability at Hooze, on 16th June, 1915. During an attack on the German trenches he took command of the supporting line of his Company, which had lost all its Officers, and rushed a portion of the German 2nd line, capturing the trench and taking several prisoners.
3064	Private ...	Day, A. E. ...	7th City of London Battalion, The London Regiment (T.F.)	For gallant conduct on the 16th May, 1915, at Festubert. During an attack on the German trenches, he rescued a man, who was unable to extricate himself, from a water-course, and succeeded in bringing him into safety under a heavy shell fire.
3976	Private ...	Denton, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Rifle Brigade	For conspicuous gallantry on the 9th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs, when he went back across open ground to collect bombs from wounded men, and continued to throw them after all his party had been shot down. He used about forty German bombs, which were found in the captured trench, against the enemy.
95	Acting Corporal	Dervin, J. ...	1st Battalion, Manchester Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry on the 26th April, 1915, near Ypres. When the troops on the left of the Brigade were held up in the attack, and his Officers were killed or wounded, he advanced, with great gallantry and determination, to within a short distance of the enemy's trench and held on. During a pause in the attack he rescued a wounded man out of a brook and placed him under cover.
3/2770	Private ...	Devlin, J. ...	3rd Battalion, Royal Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry on the 9th May, 1915, at Rue du Bois, when, being wounded himself, he dragged back an Officer, who had been severely wounded about forty yards from the German parapet.
7437	Private ...	Dickson, R. ...	1/8th Battalion, Royal Scots (Lothian Regiment) (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the 16th May, 1915, at Festubert, when he volunteered to go with a Company Serjeant-Major to bomb down a German trench, 500 yards of which they captured, together with 102 prisoners, including three Officers.
1748	Lance-Corporal	Dinnage, A. ...	47th (London) Divisional Signal Company, Royal Engineers (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry on the 22nd May, 1915, at Givenchy, in laying a telephone line under a heavy shell fire, although advised to wait for it to slacken, thus completing an important communication.
7556	Private ...	Docherty, T. ...	2nd Battalion, Cameron Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the 8th May, 1915, near Hooze. He repaired the telephone wire, where it had been cut in fifteen places, the work being voluntary on his part and carried out under a very heavy shell fire. On the same day he executed repairs on two more occasions to the wires, thus keeping communication open when it was of the highest importance it should be maintained.
*C. 40330	Serjeant-Major	Donaldson, J. W. A.	1st Brigade, Canadian Artillery	For conspicuous gallantry on the 22nd April, 1915, at St. Julien, and on the following days near Ypres, when, being in charge of the ammunition supply of the battery, he kept up the supply under a continuous and heavy shell fire, and gave a fine example of courage and devotion to duty.

Regimental No.	Rank.	Name.	Corps.	Action for which commended.
6685	Acting Serjeant	Douglas, A. G. ...	2nd Battalion, Cameron Highlanders	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 10th May, 1915, at Hooge, when in temporary command of a Company, all the Officers of which had been killed or wounded. He successfully held his ground, although he knew the trenches on his left had been vacated. During this time he was exposed to a heavy enfilade and shell fire. On several other occasions he gave a splendid example of courage and coolness to all under his command.
2128	Lance-Corporal	Dowling, P. R. ...	19th County of London Battalion, The London Regiment (St. Pancras) (T.F.)	For great bravery and devotion to duty on the night of the 26th and 27th May, 1915, at Givenchy. He went out in front of a captured German trench and rescued a wounded Officer, after four men had previously been killed in attempting the same act.
48	Lance-Serjeant	Downie, R. ...	1/6th Battalion, The Cameronians (Scottish Rifles) (T.F.)	For conspicuous gallantry and resource at Rue d'Ouvert on 15th June, 1915. During an attack across open ground, when all the Officers and Serjeants had fallen, he led the Company with great determination and marked ability under very severe fire, and eventually brought what was left of the Company out of action.
16952	Private ...	Dufty, W. J. ...	1st Battalion, Grenadier Guards	For conspicuous gallantry on the 16th May, 1915, at Festubert, when, with the Company bombers, he was engaged in bombing up 300 yards of trench. The bombers and one section under a Non-Commissioned Officer successfully blocked and held the trench after the bombs had run out. Private Dufty showed the greatest courage and resource, and gave a fine example of devotion to duty.
8534	Private ...	Dunderdale, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Lincolnshire Regiment	For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on the 9th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs. Seeing a man of the bombing party alone, he rushed to his assistance and went on clearing about 250 yards of the enemy's trench.
3487	Corporal ...	Dunmore, W. ...	2nd Battalion, Northamptonshire Regiment	For gallant conduct and ability on the 9th May, 1915, near Rouges Bancs, in continually repairing the telephone line between Brigade Headquarters and Advance Report Centre under a very heavy fire. The report centre of which Corporal Dunmore was in charge was knocked over by shells and the instruments buried, but he continued to work the telephone communication successfully under the most trying conditions.
7341	Serjeant ...	Durnford, B. ...	15th Hussars ...	For conspicuous gallantry, ability and resource on the 24th May, 1915, near Hooge. Though suffering from the effects of gas, he went forward to stop and collect stragglers, and with them and some of their own men he rendered great assistance all day in the front line, greatly helping the 9th Lancers to hold their line. The conduct and excellent work in a difficult situation of this Non-Commissioned Officer and the splendid example he set was specially mentioned by the late Captain Grenfell, V.C.
