MILITARY SERVICE ACT, 1916.

CERTIFICATE OF EXEMPTION.

Whereas it is provided in Section two, Subsection two, of the Military Service Act, 1916, that in cases where it appears to any Government Department that certificates of exemption
under the Act can be more conveniently granted by the Department than by the Local Tribunal to men or classes or bodies of men who are employed or engaged or qualified for employment or engagement in any work which is certified by the Department to be work of national importance and whose exemption
comes within the sphere of the Department:

And whereas certain members of the Territorial Force who are not liable for foreign service have been under authority given by the War Office released from military duty for the purpose of working at their trades on or in connection with the production of munitions of war and are so employed accordingly:

And whereas it appears to the Ministry of Munitions, being a Government Department within the meaning of the sub-section referred to above, after consultation with the Army Council, that such work on or in connection with the production of munitions of war is of national importance, and that exemption for the purpose of such work comes within the sphere of the Minister of Munitions, and that certificates of exemption in the case of such members of the Territorial Force can be more conveniently granted by the Minister of Munitions than by the Local Tribunal:

Now, therefore, the Minister of Munitions, after consultation with the Army Council under and by virtue of the provisions recited above, hereby certifies that the work upon which the said members of the Territorial Force so released as aforesaid are employed or engaged is work of national importance:

And the Minister of Munitions hereby further certifies after such consultation as aforesaid that the said members of the Territorial Force so released as aforesaid are as a class exempted from the provisions of the Military Service Act, 1916, until in the case of any one of them the War Office recall him to military duty or the Minister of Munitions informs the War Office that he has no further use for his services on munitions work which ever first happens.

Signed on behalf of the Minister of Munitions.

W. H. Beveridge,
Assistant General Secretary.
