

extend, with or without any exceptions, adaptations, or modifications, in the Order mentioned, to any Foreign Country in which for the time being His Majesty has jurisdiction, and that thereupon that Act shall, to the extent of that jurisdiction, operate as if that Country were a British Possession, and as if His Majesty in Council were the Legislature of that Possession:

And whereas by Treaty, grant, usage, sufferance, and other lawful means, His Majesty the King has power and jurisdiction in the Sierra Leone Protectorate, and the Uganda Protectorate:

And whereas His Majesty the King is satisfied that the Legislatures of the said Protectorates have made adequate provision for the recognition therein respectively of Probates and Letters of Administration granted by the Courts of the United Kingdom:

And whereas it is expedient that the Colonial Probates Act, 1892, should be extended to the said Protectorates:

Now, therefore, His Majesty, by virtue and in exercise of the powers in this behalf by the Foreign Jurisdiction Acts, 1890 and 1913, or otherwise in His Majesty vested, is pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the Colonial Probates Act, 1892, shall, from the date of this Order, apply to the Sierra Leone Protectorate, and the Uganda Protectorate, as though each of the said Protectorates were a British Possession.

And the Right Honourable Andrew Bonar Law, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, is to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 30th day of March, 1916.

PRESENT,

The KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Lord President.
Lord Steward.
Mr. Runciman.
Sir Frederick Ponsonby.

WHEREAS by the Foreign Jurisdiction Acts, 1890 and 1913, it is, amongst other things, provided that it shall be lawful for His Majesty in Council by Order to direct that the Colonial Probates Act, 1892, shall extend, with or without any exceptions, adaptations, or modifications, in the Order mentioned, to any Foreign Country in which for the time being His Majesty has jurisdiction, and that thereupon that Act shall, to the extent of that jurisdiction, operate as if that Country were a British Possession, and as if His Majesty in Council were the Legislature of that Possession:

And whereas by Treaty, grant, usage, sufferance, and other lawful means, His Majesty the King has power and jurisdiction in Zanzibar:

And whereas by the Zanzibar Order in Council, 1914, adequate provision has been made for the recognition in Zanzibar of Probates and Letters of Administration granted by the Courts of the United Kingdom:

And whereas it is expedient that the Colonial Probates Act, 1892, should be extended to Zanzibar:

Now, therefore, His Majesty, by virtue and in exercise of the powers in this behalf by the Foreign Jurisdiction Acts, 1890 and 1913, or otherwise, in His Majesty vested, is pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the Colonial Probates Act, 1892, shall, from the date of this Order, apply to Zanzibar as though Zanzibar were a British Possession within the meaning of the said Act.

And the Right Honourable Andrew Bonar Law, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Colonies, is to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

PRESENT,

The KING'S Most Excellent Majesty.

Lord President.
Lord Steward.
Mr. Runciman.
Sir Frederick Ponsonby.

WHEREAS by the Foreign Jurisdiction Acts, 1890 and 1913, it is, amongst other things, provided that it shall be lawful for His Majesty in Council by Order to direct that the Colonial Prisoners Removal Act, 1869, shall extend, with or without any exceptions, adaptations, or modifications, in the Order mentioned, to any Foreign Country in which for the time being His Majesty has jurisdiction, and that thereupon that Act shall, to the extent of that jurisdiction, operate as if that Country were a British Possession, and as if His Majesty in Council were the Legislature of that Possession:

And whereas by Treaty, grant, usage, sufferance, and other lawful means, His Majesty the King has power and jurisdiction in Zanzibar:

And whereas it is expedient that the Colonial Prisoners Removal Act, 1869, should be extended to Zanzibar:

Now, therefore, His Majesty, by virtue and in exercise of the powers in this behalf by the Foreign Jurisdiction Acts, 1890 and 1913, or otherwise, in His Majesty vested, is pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the Colonial Prisoners Removal Act, 1869, shall, from the date of this Order, apply to Zanzibar as though Zanzibar were, within the meaning of the said Act, a Colony not having a Legislative Body.

And the Right Honourable Andrew Bonar Law, His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Colonies, is to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.
